JERRY JONES

Owner
President
General Manager

In one of the most dramatic eras of ownership in professional sports, Jerry Jones' stewardship of the Dallas Cowboys has brought unprecedented results and success to one of the world's most popular sports entities.

Aside from being one of just three current owners to guide their franchises to at least three Super Bowl titles, Jones' efforts in the areas of sports marketing, promotion and the development of AT&T Stadium have created a vivid imprint on the landscape of the NFL and the American sports culture.

Highlighted by Super Bowl victories following the 1992, 1993 and 1995 seasons, Jones became the first owner in NFL history to guide his team to three league championships in his first seven years of ownership. In 1995 Dallas also became the first team in NFL history to win three Super Bowls in four seasons while tying the then NFL record for most Super Bowl victories by an organization with five.

The first decade of Jones' ownership closed with eight playoff appearances, six division titles, four conference championship game appearances and three world crowns as the Cowboys were named the NFL's Team of the 1990s. More recently, the Cowboys have won NFC Eastern Division titles in 2007, 2009 and 2014, while the '14 club secured the 13th playoff appearance in Jones' 27 years of leadership.

Following the 2014 season, a year where the Cowboys posted a 12-4 record and then won a home playoff game, Jones was named the NFL Executive of the Year by the Pro Football Writers Association of America.

Along with the success of the Dallas Cowboys on the field, Jones' vision and leadership provided the driving influence behind the concept, design and construction of AT&T Stadium in Arlington, Texas - a venue that is recognized internationally as perhaps the most spectacular and state-of-the-art sports stadium in the world.

Opened to the public in May of 2009, the stadium's dramatic first season of operation resulted in the venue being named the Sports Facility of the Year by the Sports Business Journal in May of 2010. Along with that achievement for the team's new home, Jones was also named the 2009 Sports Executive of the Year by the SBJ.

The 100,000-plus seat stadium established the attendance record for an NFL regular season game as 105,121 witnessed the September 20, 2009 home opener, while the 108,713 who attended the NBA All-Star Game on February 14, 2010 became the largest crowd to witness a basketball game in the history of the sport.

In just over seven years of operation, more than nine million fans have attended events that included high school and collegiate football, major college basketball, international soccer, professional bull riding, Motocross, world championship boxing and concerts that featured world renowned recording artists. More than three million other visitors have passed through the twelve-story high doors of the stadium for daily public tours of the venue.

With its architectural versatility and cutting edge media capabilities, AT&T Stadium has become a visible beacon that has established North Texas as a major focal point on the sports and entertainment canvas of North America.

The brilliant home of the Cowboys has become a powerful catalyst in attracting a wide range of national and international events that will define the future of the region for generations to come. The stadium has already played host to Super Bowl XLV (February of 2011), the NCAA Final Four in men's basketball (April of 2014) and the inaugural College Football Playoff Championship Game (January of 2015). Other top flight sporting events for the future include the annual Goodyear Cotton Bowl, the Texas A&M-Arkansas football Southwest Classic and the annual "AdvoCare Classic" collegiate football series.

Jones has recently turned his football development and marketing expertise to the new World Headquarters of the Dallas Cowboys as The Star in Frisco, Texas opened its doors for operation in the summer of 2016. Located in a rapidly growing community of more than 150,000 residents, The Star is a partnership with the City of Frisco and The Frisco Independent School District that places a strong focus on inspiring a strong future for high school football, youth sports and the next generation of players and fans by uniquely engaging them at the place where the Dallas Cowboys live, work and practice.

The Star is the only NFL training facility in the U.S. that is shared with a public high school athletic program. All eight Frisco ISD high schools will play home games within the Ford Center at The Star, a state-of-the-art, 510,000-square-foot indoor athletic facility. With a capacity of 12,000 seats, the Ford Center will host a variety of events in addition to football games.

The Star includes a 91-acre mixed-use development located on the Dallas Tollway. In addition to the team's headquarters, the project will be a destination featuring shopping, dining, nightlife, athletic, fitness, event and hotel options.

Since he took over as general manager in 1989, Dallas has drafted 32 different players who have gone on to appear in a combined total of 107 Pro Bowls. Dallas has also signed 15 free agent players who have made 39 Pro Bowl appearances while representing the Cowboys. Additionally, Dallas traded for two different players who made three Pro Bowls. Since 1989 the Cowboys have made 146 trades, the most celebrated of which was the 1989 deal that sent Herschel Walker to the Minnesota Vikings and provided the personnel foundation for three league titles.

His recent efforts to retool the Dallas roster have resulted in some of the NFL's most productive drafts over the past six years. Between 2010 and 2015, Dallas has selected 14 players who have become starters, with five of those becoming All-Rookie Team selections.

Those same five players have become Pro Bowlers who have already made a collective total of 11 trips to the annual all-star game: Dez Bryant (selected in 2010), Tyron Smith (2011), DeMarco Murray (2011), Travis Frederick (2013) and Zack Martin (2014). The foundation for the future success of the team has been put in place on the offensive line where, following the 2015 season, Smith, Frederick and Martin were all Pro Bowlers for the second straight year.

In selecting the on-the-field leadership for the Cowboys, Jones hired a pair of coaches who won three Super Bowls in Dallas: Jimmy Johnson (1992-1993) and Barry Switzer (1995). Chan Gailey followed with a division title and playoff appearances in 1998 and 1999. In 2003 Jones successfully recruited two-time Super Bowl winner Bill Parcells to Dallas, and Parcells directed the team to three winning seasons and two playoff trips in four years. In February of 2007, Jones added another successful NFL head coach in Wade Phillips, who guided the club to a pair of division titles in his first three years (2007 and 2009) and a playoff victory in 2009. In 2011 Jones named Jason Garrett as the team's eighth head coach after the former Cowboys quarterback guided the club to a 5-3 record as the interim coach in the second half of the 2010 season. Garrett has since added his first division title in 2014 and his overall record of 46-44 represents the second-most victories by a head coach in club history.

In the last 38 years, 37 different owners have entered the NFL. Of that group, only Jerry Jones, Pat Bowlen of Denver and Robert Kraft of New England have guided their franchises to more than two Super Bowl championships. Moreover, Jones joins Art Rooney, Jack Kent Cooke, Al Davis, Eddie DeBartolo, Kraft and Pat Bowlen as the only men to have won at least three Super Bowls as NFL owners.

On the league front, Jones actively contributes his vision and enthusiasm to enhancing the NFL's status as the world's premier professional sports league by serving on a wide range of league committees. In 2011 he was very involved - as a member of the Management Council Executive Committee - in the labor negotiations that resulted in the most recent Collective Bargaining Agreement between the NFL and its players. In addition to the CEC, Jones is currently the Chairman of the NFL Network Committee, Chairman of the Pro Football Hall of Fame Committee, and he is a member of the NFL Broadcasting Committee, and the Health and Safety Advisory Committee. Jones also served on the committee that was charged with overseeing the search for a successor to retired NFL Commissioner Paul Tagliabue - a process that successfully landed current NFL Commissioner Roger Goodell in September of 2006. In addition, Jones has served two prior terms as a member of the NFL's Competition Committee as well as a stint on the Business Ventures Committee.

His contributions and innovations in the areas of marketing, corporate sponsorships, television, stadium management, stadium development, labor negotiations and community service have made a visible imprint on the ever evolving face of professional sports in America. Since becoming involved with the Cowboys, Jones' accomplishments have been recognized through his induction into the Boys and Girls Clubs of America Hall of Fame, the Texas Sports Hall of Fame (2007), the Texas Business Hall of Fame (2005), the Arkansas Sports Hall of Fame (1999) and the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame (1998). As a co-captain of the 1964 National Championship Arkansas Razorbacks, Jones is one of a small number of NFL owners who actually earned a significant level of success as a football player. He is the only man in the history of the National Football League to play for a collegiate national championship football team and own a Super Bowl winner. In addition, Jones and the legendary George Halas are the only two men to become NFL owners after playing in a major college football bowl game. His current ties to the college game include membership on the Board of Directors for the National Football Foundation and College Football Hall of Fame.

A man of varied interests who will not rest on yesterday's achievements - he is a dedicated businessman and family man - sharing a vivid enthusiasm for both. Although Jones and his family are very involved in numerous civic and charitable causes, the Joneses have left an indelible local and national impression on the philanthropic landscape with their love and dedication to The Salvation Army.

For the past 19 seasons, the Jones family has dedicated the Cowboys Thanksgiving Day halftime show as a national showcase to kick off The Salvation Army's annual Red Kettle Campaign. Through the donation of national television air-time, the event has created a holiday tradition, while helping to increase donations to The Salvation Army's annual fund raising efforts by more than two billion dollars. Reba McEntire, Destiny's Child, Sheryl Crow, Carrie Underwood and Kenny Chesney are just a few of the distinguished artists who have provided the entertainment for the holiday extravaganzas.

The Salvation Army points to the annual Cowboys kickoff event as one of the most effective, creative and important innovations that has been developed in the long and storied history of the organization.

The Joneses received the Evangeline Booth Award in 1999, one of The Army's highest national community service awards and have been selected for membership into the prestigious Salvation Army William Booth Society. Jerry and his wife Gene were also named to the Army's National Advisory Board in April of 1998 shortly after being named the organization's Partners of the Year in 1997. In April of 2007, the Joneses served as the honorary chairpersons for The Salvation Army's National Advisory Organizations Conference (NAOC) that was held in Dallas.

For 10 years, Gene and Jerry Jones served as hosts and underwrote the costs for the Super Lunch, a fundraising event for The Salvation Army Irving Corps Community Center. In 1998 the Gene and Jerry Jones Family Center for Children opened in conjunction with The Army.

As part of the Jones Family and the Dallas Cowboys commitment to Arlington, Texas, the home of the club's stadium, Gene and Jerry Jones Family Charities will donate a total of $16.5 million to non-profit organizations serving youth in Arlington from 2009-2041.

The Jones family is very involved with several other community-related organizations, including Children's Medical Center of Dallas, Happy Hill Farm Academy/Home, the National Board for The Boys and Girls Clubs of America, the Kent Waldrep Paralysis Foundation, The Rise School of Dallas, The Family Place and The Family Gateway. In 2010 the Jones family endowed the North Texas Youth Education Town with a $1 million grant. Created as a lasting legacy of Super Bowl XLV, the North Texas YET is administered by The Salvation Army and provides North Texas youth with education, mentoring, fitness and character enrichment programs.

His work involves managing the organization's 400-plus employees, while also handling all of the club's salary cap and all major player contract concerns. He is also active in the recruitment - and management - of all major events that come to AT&T Stadium and The Star in Frisco. Jones' experience as a major college football player, and his years as one of the NFL's top executives, were instrumental in his appointment to the League's prestigious Competition Committee. His active involvement in stadium management, design and development has also landed him a spot on the NFL's New Stadium Committee.

Following the Cowboys 12-4 regular season finish and 2014 NFC Eastern Division title, Stephen and Jerry Jones were named the co-recipients of the NFL Executive of the Year Award as presented by Sports Illustrated's Monday Morning Quarterback.

Beginning in 1989, Jones has played an integral role in the team's dramatic rise from a 1-15 record to being the NFL's "Team of the Decade" with three Super Bowl titles in the 1990s. As he enters his 28th NFL season, Jones is a driving force behind the Cowboys push to return to the NFL's elite level of teams. His recent work has seen the club restock its roster with some of the game's top talent and the recent results have produced winning records in seven of the last 13 seasons - and division titles in 2007, 2009 and 2014.

Since 2010, Jones has helped establish one of the more impressive drafting records in the NFL. In those six years, Dallas has selected 14 players who have become starters, with five of those becoming All-Rookie Team selections. Those same five players have become Pro Bowlers who have already made a collective total of 11 trips to the annual all-star game: Dez Bryant (selected in 2010), Tyron Smith (2011), DeMarco Murray (2011), Travis Frederick (2013) and Zack Martin (2014).

Over the course of the last 14 years, Dallas draft classes have produced 32 players who have gone on to start for the Cowboys while 14 of those choices became All-Rookie Team selections. Those same drafts also produced 17 Pro Bowl players who collectively combined for 50 all-star game appearances in Roy Williams (2002 draft), Andre Gurode (2002), Terence Newman (2003), Jason Witten (2003), DeMarcus Ware (2005), Marion Barber (2005), Jay Ratliff (2005), Jason Hatcher (2006), Nick Folk (2007), Anthony Spencer (2007), Mike Jenkins (2008), Bryant (2010), Sean Lee (2010), Smith (2011), Murray (2011), Frederick (2013) and Martin (2014).

In the ever-evolving strategy that dictates a team's competitiveness in the current collective bargaining agreement, Jones' performance in managing the Cowboys salary cap, and the club's activity in free agency, has played a prominent role in the team's ability to compete at the NFL's highest level. Jones' involvement in shaping the Dallas roster under the salary cap was critical in allowing the Cowboys to maintain one of the NFL's most talented core group of players throughout the decade of the 1990s. His creativity and care taking of the Cowboys cap played a key role in the team's six division titles and four conference championship games.

During a historic two-year period of time, Jones was involved in signing five Cowboys stars who were considered the best players in the game at their respective positions. Between September of 1993 and September of 1995, Jones helped orchestrate contract agreements with running back Emmitt Smith, quarterback Troy Aikman, fullback Daryl Johnston, wide receiver Michael Irvin and cornerback Deion Sanders.

Shortly after the turn of the century, Jones began spearheading the club's new stadium efforts, overseeing every element of the development and construction of the venue while also working closely with local government, community and business leaders. He was directly responsible for the club's successful referendum campaign in the fall of 2004 that saw the City of Arlington agree to join forces with the Cowboys in building a new state-of-the-art stadium.

Opened to the public in May of 2009, the stadium's dramatic first season of operation resulted in the venue being named the Sports Facility of the Year by the Sports Business Journal in May of 2010.

The 100,000-plus seat stadium established the attendance record for an NFL regular season game as 105,121 witnessed the September 20, 2009 home opener, while the 108,713 who attended the NBA All-Star Game on February 14, 2010 became the largest crowd to witness a game in the history of the sport.

In just over seven years of operation, more than nine million fans have attended events that included high school and collegiate football, major college basketball, international soccer, professional bull riding, Motocross, world championship boxing and a handful of concerts that featured world renowned recording artists. More than three million other visitors passed through the twelve-story high doors of the stadium for daily public tours of the venue.

With its architectural versatility and cutting edge media capabilities, AT&T Stadium has become a visible beacon that has established North Texas as a major focal point on the sports and entertainment canvas of North America.

The brilliant home of the Cowboys has become a powerful catalyst in attracting a wide range of national and international events that will define the future of the region for generations to come. The stadium has already played host to Super Bowl XLV (February of 2011), the NCAA Final Four in men's basketball (April of 2014) and the inaugural College Football Playoff Championship Game (January of 2015). Other top flight sporting events for the future include, the annual Goodyear Cotton Bowl, the Texas A&M-Arkansas football Southwest Classic and the annual "AdvoCare Classic" collegiate football series just to name a few.

In the summer of 2013, Jones was the organization's point person in the negotiations that established the multi-year naming rights agreement for the Cowboys home in Arlington with AT&T.

Shortly after the new name for AT&T Stadium was announced, Jones took on the responsibilities of spearheading a partnership with the City of Frisco (TX) and The Frisco Independent School District to develop a new home for the Cowboys World Headquarters in Frisco. The Star in Frisco opened its doors for operation in the summer of 2016. Located in a rapidly growing community of more than 150,000 residents, The Star is a partnership with the City of Frisco and the Frisco ISD that places a strong focus on inspiring a strong future for high school football, youth sports and the next generation of players and fans by uniquely engaging them at the place where the Dallas Cowboys live, work and practice.

The Star is the only NFL training facility in the U.S. that is shared with a public high school athletic program. All eight Frisco ISD high schools will play home games within the Ford Center at The Star, a state-of-the-art, 510,000-square-foot indoor athletic facility. With a capacity of 12,000 seats, the Ford Center will host a variety of events in addition to football games.

The Star includes a 91-acre mixed-use development located on the Dallas Tollway. In addition to the team's headquarters, the project will be a destination featuring shopping, dining, nightlife, athletic, fitness, event and hotel options.

Prior to focusing much of his energy on the innovative projects in Arlington and Frisco, Jones' stewardship of historic Texas Stadium in Irving left behind a legacy of facility management that maximized the use and visibility of the venue into a year-round destination for sporting, entertainment, community and corporate events on an unprecedented level.

Jones has enjoyed a life-long association with the game of football. A four-year letterman as a linebacker and special teams standout at the University of Arkansas, Jones was a starter for the Razorbacks in the Orange Bowl Classic Game that followed the 1986 season. Prior to attending the University of Arkansas, Jones was an all-state quarterback and a three-year starter at Catholic High School in Little Rock, Arkansas. In February of 2015, Jones was inducted into the Arkansas Sports Hall of Fame, where he joined his father who was a 1999 inductee.

He earned his degree in chemical engineering from Arkansas in 1998, and immediately went to work in the oil and gas business for JMC Exploration as an engineer.

On Feb. 25, 1989, Jerry Jones purchased the Dallas Cowboys and installed Stephen into a key front office position as one-of-three vice presidents with the club.

Jones is a past president of the Dallas Chapter of the Young Presidents' Organization. He serves on the board of directors for the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association. He also serves on the board for the Dallas Citizens Council and the Baylor Health Care System Foundation. He is a former member of the NFL's Business Ventures Committee, and he is also a member of the board of directors for Legends Hospitality - the joint stadium catering venture involving the Dallas Cowboys and the New York Yankees organizations that Jones was instrumental in creating. In the spring of 2015, Jones was inducted into the Arkansas Sports Hall of Fame.

Jones (6/21/64) was born in Fayetteville, Arkansas and raised in Little Rock. He is married to the former Karen Hickman of El Dorado, Arkansas, and the couple has three daughters and a son: Jessica, Jordan, Caroline and John Stephen.

JERRY JONES, JR.

Executive Vice President
Chief Sales and Marketing Officer

As Executive Vice President and Chief Sales and Marketing Officer, Jerry Jones, Jr. is a key member of the Dallas Cowboys front office, overseeing the club's entire sales and marketing efforts. Jones was instrumental in the design and planning of AT&T Stadium, viewed as one of the world's truly unique sports and entertainment venues, as well as the team's new state-of-the-art training complex - The Star - opening in Frisco in 2016. Since opening in 2009, AT&T Stadium has played host to Super Bowl XLV, the 2010 NBA All Star Game, the 2014 NCAA Men's Final Four, the annual Goodyear Cotton Bowl, the inaugural College Football Playoff National Championship Game in 2015, WrestleMania 32 and numerous other major events on top of being the home of the Dallas Cowboys.

Jones has played an integral role in the development of the 91 acres and related businesses set to open in the fall of 2016 at the new Dallas Cowboys headquarters at The Star in Frisco. Jones has spearheaded the health and wellness projects that will be located at the Cowboys new home, including the Baylor Scott & White Sports Therapy & Research Facility at The Star, the 300,000-square-foot campus for sports medicine, research and performance facility. In addition, he was instrumental in Cowboys Club, a first-of-its-kind private members club complete with a restaurant, pool, five-star restaurant, fitness facility and more at The Star. The fitness facility attached to Cowboys Club, Cowboys Fit, will be a three-story premier health and fitness center that will allow members to exercise to a Cowboys-centric workout routine. Jones has also overseen sponsorships and potential naming rights for various portions of The Star.

In his current role, Jones is the guiding force behind all of the club's sales and marketing efforts, both those directed at the team's loyal fans as well as its corporate partners. With the Cowboys unique vertical structure, Jones leads a team that is not only responsible for the sales and marketing of the club, but also its vast merchandising business as well as all digital and broadcast media.

Jones guided the transition of 65,000 season ticket holders as well as over 300 suite owners from Texas Stadium to the club's new home. With a stadium capable of holding up to 100,000 fans, with eight club areas and 3.0-million-square feet of space, this monumental effort required the expansion of the club's sales team to over 60 employees dedicated to personalized customer service. At the same time, Jones has also been deeply involved in the extension and expansion of the club's already sizable corporate sponsorship base. In recent years, Jones has directed the extension of long-term agreements with numerous valued partners like Miller Brewing, Ford, Bank of America, Pepsi and Dr Pepper as well as the expansion of the AT&T partnership to include stadium naming rights.

In both 2008 and 2009 these efforts were recognized by the Sports Business Journal when Jones was named to their "40 Under 40" list of executives under the age of 40 who are making the greatest contribution to their organization and the world of sports and entertainment.

On the broadcast front, Jones oversaw the 2006 move to bring the club's radio broadcast in-house. The move added English radio to the club's stable of English and Spanish television programming as well as the Spanish radio broadcast. Dallas Cowboys Broadcast Department now originates over 40 hours a week of original television, radio and internet programming aired across the Dallas Cowboys Broadcasting Network in five states. Through his work, Jones has helped foster the NFL's largest team-operated media broadcast network.

Jones has established a growing reputation at the league level as it relates to sales and marketing. He has served on the NFL's Marketing Executives Committee as well as the Internet Working Group Committee.

In 2001, to help further the Dallas Cowboys marketing and brand image initiatives, Jones became the CEO of Dallas Cowboys Merchandising, Ltd. (DCM), a company formed in 1996 to design, manufacture and distribute Dallas Cowboys merchandise throughout the world. To date, the Cowboys are still the only major league sports team to form such an entity, enabling their fans to have the unique opportunity to enjoy the authenticity of team merchandise and memorabilia, straight from the source. DCM and the Dallas Cowboys continue to thrive as one of the top teams in NFL sales over the past 20 years, and under Jones' leadership, DCM and its subsidiaries have added exclusive, long-term partnerships, including the University of Southern California, University of Texas, Duck Commander and IndyCar.

Today DCM mall stores have more than doubled to 35 retail locations throughout Texas and New Mexico, including the 15,000-square-foot Pro Shop in AT&T Stadium. In 2010 DCM moved into a 400,000-square-foot manufacturing and distribution headquarters near DFW Airport which, in 2014, helped lead to Jones launching Fans United, a premier licensed sports retailer. The first Fans United location is at Town Square in Southlake, Texas with locations in San Antonio and Frisco slated to open in 2016.

Jones took over as the club's Chief Marketing Officer in 2001 after first joining the club in 1996 as Vice President and General Counsel. He spent his early years negotiating rookie contracts, local radio and television broadcast rights fees and sponsorship agreements. He was also instrumental in launching the Dallas Cowboys official website, which continues to be at the forefront of internet technology and has become one of the NFL's most comprehensive and innovative team pages. Following the 2005 season, the site won the NFL's award for best content, and with Jones' leadership, dallascowboys.com today has more than 60% higher unique visitors than the next closest team, more than double the site visits, eight million more page views-per-month than the next closest team, the largest social media community in the NFL and a lead of more than one million in FaceBook likes over the next closest team.

Jones, born Sept. 27, 1969, earned his law degree from Southern Methodist University in 1995. He completed his undergraduate coursework at Georgetown University, where he majored in political science and graduated with a BA in 1992. Jones and his wife, Lori, reside in Dallas, Texas with their children James and Mary Chambers.

JASON GARRETT

Head Coach

Princeton
Head Coach: 6th Year • NFL: 12th Year • Cowboys 10th Year

Jason Garrett was named the eighth head coach in Dallas Cowboys history on January 5, 2011. Garrett, who played for or worked alongside five of his predecessors, became the first former Dallas Cowboys player to become the team's head coach. In five and a half years as head coach, Garrett owns a 46-44 overall record, including playoffs.

Having literally grown up around successful head coaches in the NFL and in the Dallas Cowboys family, Garrett was a member of three Super Bowl winning teams in the 1990s during his seven seasons as a Cowboys quarterback. His father, Jim, was a personnel scout for the team for 21 years and served under every Super Bowl winning head coach and ownership regime in franchise history.

As a player in Dallas, Garrett learned under championship coaches Jimmy Johnson and Barry Switzer, while serving as a backup to Troy Aikman in offenses directed by Norv Turner and Ernie Zampese. He went on to play for the New York Giants, who reached Super Bowl XXXV, while playing for offensive coordinator Sean Payton. Garrett finished his playing days while studying under Jon Gruden in Tampa Bay and started his coaching career with the Miami Dolphins, where he worked under five-time collegiate national championship head coach, Nick Saban.

Garrett was elevated to the Cowboys top job after taking over as the team's interim head coach at the midpoint of the 2010 season. He went on to guide a Dallas team that had started the season with a 1-7 record to a 5-3 mark down the stretch. In the season's second half, three of the Cowboys five victories were against teams that posted 10 regular season wins, while the three Dallas defeats were decided by a combined total of seven points.

The 2015 season was a challenge as injuries sidelined two of Dallas' top playmakers - Tony Romo and Dez Bryant - for a majority of the season and the club finished with a 4-12 record. Romo (collarbone) started only four games and finished the year on Reserve/Injured and Bryant (foot) was slowed through a majority of his nine starts, also finishing on IR. Garrett saw four different players start at quarterback for the club for only the second time in team history. Veterans Brandon Weeden (three) and Matt Cassel (seven) started the majority of games while Kellen Moore made the first two starts of his career. The running game saw a burst through the second half of the season as Darren McFadden posted his second career 1,000-yard season (1,089) to mark the first time in club history two different running backs each rushed for 1,000 yards in consecutive seasons. Despite the struggles, Dallas still sent five players to the Pro Bowl - Tyron Smith (third), Travis Frederick (second), Zack Martin (second), Dan Bailey (first) and Sean Lee (first).

Garrett guided the 2014 squad to an NFL-best tying 12-4 record, the club's 22nd Division title - 18th NFC East title - 31st postseason appearance and 34th playoff win. Along the way, the team had three players lead the league and establish single-season club records as DeMarco Murray rushed for 1,845 yards en route to Offensive Player of the Year honors, Dez Bryant caught 16 touchdown passes and Tony Romo completed 69.9% of his passes and had a 113.2 quarterback rating. The Dallas offense as a whole was second in the league in rushing yards (2,354); its highest finish since placing second in 2008. For the season, the Dallas offense totaled 6,138 yards for the second-highest figure in franchise history. The club also had eight players selected to the Pro Bowl, including three first timers (Frederick, Louis-Philippe Ladouceur and Martin). Perennial Pro Bowler Jason Witten earned his 10th trip, Romo made his fourth and Bryant, Murray and Smith each made their second. Martin, the club's first round pick in 2014, became the first rookie in club history to start every game at right guard, the fourth offensive line rookie and 14th overall rookie to notch starts in every game of his first season. He was also the only offensive rookie in the NFL in 2014 to make the Pro Bowl, the first rookie offensive lineman in team history to make the game and was named to the AP All-Pro team - the only rookie in the NFL in 2014 and the third rookie in club history to receive the honor. Following the season, Garrett was rewarded for the team's accomplishments with a five-year contract extension.

In 2013 Garrett guided the Cowboys to an 8-8 record and had his club in position to play for the NFC East title in the last game of the regular season for the third straight year. Five of the team's eight losses came by a combined total of eight points as the Cowboys finished in second place in the NFC East. Five Dallas players earned Pro Bowl trips to Hawaii in 2013, including four first-time selections: Bryant, Murray, Tyron Smith and Jason Hatcher. The fifth Pro Bowler, Witten, earned his ninth Pro Bowl selection after moving into second place among tight ends on the NFL's all-time reception list with 879 career catches. Bryant accounted for 13 touchdown catches that tied him for third on the Cowboys all-time single season scoring reception list. Murray's 1,121 rushing yards enabled him to become the team's first 1,000-yard rusher since 2006. Romo had another impressive year, throwing for 31 touchdowns with only 10 interceptions. A Week 15 injury forced him out of the season finale, causing Romo to just miss surpassing the 4,000-yard single season passing plateau for the fifth time, as he closed the 2013 campaign with 3,828 yards through the air.

In Garrett's second full year of guiding the Dallas Cowboys (2012), the team produced the club's third-best all-time total net yardage figure to date by racking up 5,994 yards. Additionally, Romo threw for a club-record 4,903 gross yards as part of an offense that posted a club-best 4,729 net passing yards. Romo also set club marks for attempts (648) and completions (425), becoming the eighth different NFL quarterback to go at least 400-of-600 in a season. NFL quarterbacks achieved that mark 15 times in league history. Also benefitting from Dallas' offensive output was Bryant, who finished the season with a team-leading and career-best 1,382 yards - fourth in team history - and 12 touchdowns - tied for fifth in club history. Witten was also a recipient of the high-powered pass attack, racking up a league tight end record 110 catches (second in team history) and his fourth career 1,000-yard season (1,039).

In his first full year as head coach, Garrett guided the 2011 team to an 8-8 finish as the offense amassed 6,008 yards for the second-highest yardage output in franchise history. Romo posted a then career-best 102.5 quarterback rating, good for third in the NFC, fourth in the NFL and second in team history. He eclipsed the 4,000-yard mark for the third time in his career and the third time in team history with 4,184 on the year (third in club history). Romo's 66.28 completion percentage was also a then career-best (second in team history), while his 31 touchdown passes (second), attempts (third) and completions (second) were all good for the second-most of his career at the time. Witten led the team in receptions (79) - for the fifth straight season and sixth overall - and receiving yards (942) while finishing fourth with five touchdown receptions. In his second season, Bryant finished second on the team in catches (63), receiving yards (928) and touchdowns (nine), while veteran Laurent Robinson led the team with 11 touchdown receptions on 54 catches for 858 yards. Rookie running back Murray provided a mid-season spark as he set a club rushing record with 253 rushing yards against St. Louis (10/23). Murray led the team with 167 carries for 897 yards and two touchdowns despite starting only seven games and missing the final three games after landing on Reserve/Injured with a broken ankle. With an offensive line in transition, rookie Tyron Smith emerged as a solid building block for the long term after starting all 16 games at right tackle and earning All-Rookie honors.

After taking over the offensive coordinator's responsibilities under Wade Phillips in 2007, the Dallas offense reached high levels of productivity in several categories, and the unit finished among the NFL's top-10 in total offense in five of his seven years at the helm: 2013 (10th), 2012 (6th), 2010 (10th), 2009 (2nd) and 2007 (2nd). Inclusively from the start of the 2007 season, the club has averaged 364.9 total yards-per-outing (sixth in the NFL) and 24.3 points-per-game (eighth). Since his arrival in 2007, not only has the team set single-season records in numerous offensive categories, but the club's cumulative numbers for total net yards (52,540), gross passing yards (38,325) and total points (3,498) are among the best totals over a nine-year span in the history of the organization. Under Garrett's tutelage, 13 different offensive players have earned 34 total trips to the Pro Bowl.

Although the 2010 club faced its share of challenges, the offense continued to put up big numbers, amassing 5,828 total yards for the then seventh-highest yardage output in franchise history. Dallas also topped the 4,000 passing yard mark for the third time in four years with the third-most in club history (4,042). Romo started the season running the offense, but a fractured left clavicle suffered against the N.Y. Giants (10/25) led the way for Jon Kitna to take over. Before the injury, Romo completed 148-of-213 passes (69.5%) for 1,605 yards, 11 touchdowns and seven interceptions. At the time of his injury, he had a 94.9 quarterback rating that was sixth in the NFL and tops in the NFC. Witten also finished with 1,002 receiving yards and nine touchdowns. His 1,002 yards marked his third career 1,000-yard season and his second consecutive, while his nine touchdowns tied a team tight end record. Miles Austin notched his second straight 1,000-yard season (1,041) to give the Cowboys their fifth instance of two pass catchers topping 1,000 yards. Rookie wide receiver Bryant was well on his way to a record-breaking rookie season before fracturing his ankle at Indianapolis (12/5). Prior to his injury, Bryant collected 45 catches (second all-time among team rookies) for 564 yards (fifth) and six touchdown catches (tied for second). The club sent three offensive players to the Pro Bowl: Austin (second consecutive), Andre Gurode (fifth consecutive) and Witten (seventh consecutive).

En route to winning the 2009 NFC Eastern Division title, Dallas established club records for total offensive yards (6,390), net passing yards (4,287) and pass completions (347). Dallas ranked second in the NFL in yards-per-game (399.4), sixth in passing (267.9) and seventh in the league in rushing (131.4). Romo broke his previous single season records for completions (347) and passing yards (4,483), while Austin (1,320 receiving yards) and Witten (1,030) became just the fourth pair of Cowboys pass catchers to gain more than 1,000 yards in a season in team annals. On the ground, second-year running back Felix Jones eclipsed a 47-year old record for rushing yards-per-carry with a season average of 5.9.

The 2009 club led the NFL in average gain on first down plays (6.52), and five offensive players made trips to the Pro Bowl in South Florida: Witten, Leonard Davis, Gurode, Romo and Austin.

In 2008 Dallas finished the season 13th in the NFL in total offense with an average of 344.5 yards-per-game. The team was ninth in the league in passing offense (236.8 yards-per-game), and the team's total of 3,789 net yards passing was the fifth-highest in club history since the 16-game NFL regular season was implemented in 1978. Following the season, offensive linemen Davis, Gurode and Flozell Adams were selected to represent the Cowboys in the Pro Bowl along with Witten.

Following the 2007 season in which the Cowboys won the NFC Eastern Division crown with a team-record tying 13 victories, Head Coach Wade Phillips added to Garrett's responsibilities by naming him the club's assistant head coach on January 17, 2008. Regarded as one of the bright young offensive minds in the league, Garrett was named Pro Football Weekly's NFL's Assistant Coach of the Year in March of 2008.

Dallas finished the 2007 season second in the NFL in scoring (first in the NFC) with an average of 28.4 points-per-game. The 455 points scored marked the second-highest figure to date in club history behind the 1983 squad (479 points). The Cowboys scored at least 20 points in 14 of its 16 games in 2007, marking the most 20-plus point games since the 1995 club also had 14. The 2007 offense also set a club record by scoring 24 points-or-more in the first 13 games of the season.

With a 16-game average of 365.7 yards-per-game, the Cowboys were third in the NFL (second in the NFC) in total offense. Dallas closed the 2007 season fourth in the NFL (third in the NFC) in passing with an average of 256.6 yards-per-game. The 5,851 yards in total offense by Dallas in 2007 marked the fifth-highest total yardage output in team history at the time. The Cowboys established a club record with 217 passing first downs in 2007, while also leading the NFL in average yards gained on first downs. Dallas picked up an average of 6.24 yards on first down plays, while New England (6.09) was second.

In his first full season as an NFL starter, Romo finished the campaign as the NFC's top rated passer (97.4), marking the third-highest single season passer rating in club history. With 36 touchdown passes in 2007, Romo established a Cowboys record for single season scoring tosses - eclipsing the mark of 29 set by Danny White in 1983. Romo also set what were then season club marks for completions (335) and passing yardage (4,211).

Terrell Owens closed the year second in the NFC in receiving yardage with 1,355 (fifth in the NFL), and he led the NFC in touchdown catches (third in the NFL) with a club-record 15 scoring receptions. Witten finished the year second among all NFL tight ends (first in the NFC) in both receptions (96) and yardage (1,145). Both totals represented club records for a Dallas tight end in a single season.

Marion Barber's 4.8-yard rushing average was fifth among all NFL backs, and his 10 rushing touchdowns tied for fifth in the NFL. The one-two punch of Barber and Julius Jones combined for 1,563 yards on the ground and a combined average of 97.7 yards-per-game.

Garrett returned to Dallas in 2007 as the offensive coordinator after spending the previous two seasons tutoring the Miami Dolphins quarterbacks. Garrett, who was a backup quarterback to Troy Aikman in Dallas from 1993 to 1999, rejoined the Cowboys with a great understanding of the championship heritage of the organization. As a player in Dallas, he was a member of teams that won six division titles and three Super Bowl championships.

He entered the coaching profession in February of 2005 as the quarterbacks coach for Nick Saban's first Miami Dolphins club. While in Miami, Garrett capably handled the challenge of having to work with five different starting quarterbacks over the course of 32 regular season games. In 2005 Miami quarterbacks threw 22 touchdowns with just 16 interceptions. In 2006 Garrett managed three starting quarterbacks for an offensive unit that produced four pass receivers who each had at least 55 receptions for the first time in team history.

As a player, Garrett worked under highly successful offensive coordinators Norv Turner and Ernie Zampese in Dallas while providing sideline assistance to Aikman for the majority of his Hall of Fame career. After moving to New York in 2000, he helped guide starting quarterback Kerry Collins and the Giants to an NFC Championship and a Super Bowl berth while working along side Saints head coach Sean Payton, who was the team's offensive coordinator. Garrett also gained valuable experience in absorbing Jon Gruden's offensive philosophies during a stint with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in the closing months of his playing career in 2004.

In his seven years as a player in Dallas, Garrett started nine of the 23 games in which he played. A key reserve player on three Super Bowl teams, he is best remembered for his Thanksgiving Day heroics in 1994. As the Cowboys third quarterback on the depth chart, he made his second career start against Green Bay after Aikman and backup quarterback Rodney Peete were felled with injuries in previous weeks. Garrett led Dallas to a thrilling 42-31 come-from-behind victory in which he directed the Cowboys to a club-record 36 second half points with six consecutive second half scoring drives. He finished the day with 311 passing yards on 15 completions with two touchdown tosses and was named the NFC's Offensive Player of the Week. He went on to start five games in 1998 and two games in 1999 to finish his days in Dallas with a 6-3 record as a starting quarterback.

Garrett served as the primary backup to Kerry Collins during the New York Giants run to the Super Bowl in 2000, and played the entire fourth quarter of the NFC Championship Game that year. He spent the next three seasons with the Giants (2000-03).

He concluded his career by splitting the 2004 season with Tampa Bay and Miami. Overall in his 12 NFL seasons, Garrett started nine of the 40 regular season games in which he played and completed 165-of-294 passes for 2,042 yards with 11 touchdowns and five interceptions.

As a senior at Princeton University in 1988, Garrett was named the Ivy League's Player of the Year and honorable mention All-American. He earned his degree in history in 1989, and moved on to the NFL as an undrafted rookie free agent with the New Orleans Saints developmental squad. After being released prior to the 1990 season, he spent the fall of 1990 as an assistant coach at Princeton. In 1991 Garrett moved on to play in the World League and the Canadian Football League before joining the Cowboys practice squad in 1992.

Garrett, who prepped at University School in Chagrin Falls, Ohio, followed in his family footsteps in 2005. His father, Jim, spent more than 30 years in the NFL as a coach and scout. His brother, John, is now an assistant coach at the University of Richmond. Another brother, Judd, was a practice squad player for the 1993 Cowboys Super Bowl Championship club and is now with the Cowboys scouting department as the director of pro scouting.

Jason and his wife Brill founded their charitable foundation, Jason Garrett Starfish Charities, in 1997 with the goal of enriching the lives of young people. The principle activity of the foundation is a one-day football camp and leadership forum for high school athletes, which is held each summer at Princeton University in conjunction with Play It Smart, a program administered by the National Football Foundation. In 2012 Garrett and the Cowboys organization introduced a similar annual one day football camp - Dallas Cowboys U – at the team's Valley Ranch training complex. The camp offers life skills sessions along with the opportunity for the high school players to be coached by the Dallas Cowboys players.

Born on March 28, 1966, Garrett resides in Dallas with his wife, Brill.

JOE BAKER

Secondary

Princeton
NFL: 21st Year • Cowboys 5th Year

The Dallas Cowboys announced Joe Baker as assistant secondary coach on February 13, 2012, then he became the safeties coach in 2014. He was promoted as the secondary coach following the departure of Jerome Henderson and will oversee the entire unit in 2016.

Baker arrived in Dallas after spending three seasons (2009-11) as an assistant with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. He has 20 years of NFL coaching experience and three years at the collegiate level.

In charge of the squad's safeties once again in 2015, Baker began the season with Barry Church and J.J. Wilcox as the two starters. Church finished second on the defense with 136 stops - his third consecutive season with 100+ tackles - and Wilcox added 69 tackles. One of Baker's primary tasks for the season was bringing 2015 first round draft choice Byron Jones up to speed at the position. The rookie from UConn saw action at various positions in the secondary at the beginning of the season before settling into a starting spot at free safety ahead of Wilcox by Week 7. Jones finished his first pro season fifth on the team with 76 tackles while his team-high 12 pass breakups allowed him to become the first rookie to lead the team in that category since Derek Ross in 2002. In total, he became the only rookie to record 75-plus tackles and lead the team in breakups in franchise history. Jeff Heath, one of the club's top backups at safety and core special teams player, picked off a career-best two interceptions to lead the team.

Baker's third season assisting with the Dallas secondary saw him take on a new role in charge of the safeties. The unit was led once more by Church, who for the second consecutive season had a team-high 110 tackles to become the first Dallas defender to lead the defense in tackles in back-to-back years since Bradie James (2005-10). The 2014 season also saw the rise of second-year safety Wilcox, who finished fourth on the team with 89 tackles and three interceptions - second on the team.

Baker again worked closely with secondary coach Jerome Henderson in 2013 as the defense made the switch back to the 4-3 scheme. The starting defensive backfield saw the return of Church, who missed the majority of 2012 with an Achilles tear, as the former rookie free agent safety started all 16 games for the first time in his career and led the defense with a career-best 147 tackles. The season started with third round draft pick Wilcox starting at strong safety (five games) before rookie free agent Heath took over (nine). In his second year in Dallas, Brandon Carr was fourth on the team with 74 tackles and second with three interceptions. Morris Claiborne struggled in his second pro season, tallying 31 tackles (14th) as Orlando Scandrick stepped in to start 15 games and finish with 70 tackles - a career-high.

In his first season with the Cowboys, Baker helped integrate two new starting corners in first round draft choice Claiborne and veteran free agent Carr. Carr led the team in interceptions with three - returning one for a touchdown - while Claiborne picked off one pass and had a fumble returned for a touchdown.

In 2009 Baker was the defensive backs coach in Tampa Bay, and from 2010-11, he coached Buccaneers linebackers. Baker's 2009 defensive backfield helped Tampa Bay finish 10th in the league in pass defense as his unit accounted for 15 of the team's 19 interceptions. Safety Tanard Jackson and cornerback Aqib Talib tied for the team lead with five interceptions.

Prior to landing with the Buccaneers, Baker spent two seasons (2007-08) with the Denver Broncos, first as the club's linebackers coach and then as an offensive assistant. In his first season with Denver, Baker worked with a linebacking corps that was highlighted by D.J. Williams, who was making the transition to middle linebacker. Under Baker's tutelage, Williams finished the season second in the NFL with an AFC-best 141 tackles. Baker crossed over to the offensive side in 2008 as an offensive assistant and helped the unit finish second in the league in total offense (395.8 yards-per-game).

Baker was with the St. Louis Rams in 2006 (defensive quality control/linebackers) where he helped guide St. Louis to 32 takeaways - seventh in the league - with a league-best nine red zone takeaways. Baker spent 2005 with the Green Bay Packers (secondary/safeties) and worked with a defensive backfield that led the league in pass defense, allowing 165.7 yards-per-game - the club's lowest total in 27 seasons.

Baker spent five seasons (2000-04) coaching various defensive positions with the New Orleans Saints. In his time with the club, New Orleans was fifth in the league in takeaways (163) over five seasons. He started with the Saints as an assistant defensive backfield/assistant special teams coach (2000-01), then was the team's secondary assistant (2002) and finally the secondary coach (2003-04).

Baker made his NFL coaching debut in 1995 as the assistant special teams coach for the Jacksonville Jaguars, a position he held through the 1998 season. He first landed with the Jaguars in 1994 as the club's manager of football operations leading into its inaugural season.

In 1999 Baker returned to coach college ball at the University of Wisconsin as the school's outside linebackers/special teams coach. He coached running backs and wide receivers at Samford in 1993 after spending one season as the player personnel coordinator for the Birmingham Fire of the World League of American Football. Baker got his start coaching as a graduate assistant/defensive backs at East Stroudsburg University in 1991.

Baker played wide receiver four years (1987-1990) at Princeton University where he caught passes from Cowboys Head Coach Jason Garrett for two years (1987-88). He was part of Princeton's 1989 Ivy League co-championship squad then earned his degree in history in 1991.

Baker lives in Southlake with his wife, Jill, and two children - Mia and Joey.

Joe Baker – Born June 29, 1969, Glen Ridge, N.J. Wide receiver Princeton 1987-1990. No pro playing experience. College coach: East Stroudsburg 1991, Samford 1993, Wisconsin 1999. Before landing in Dallas, Bech spent two and a half years training collegiate athletes for the NFL Combine at Athletes' Performance in Gulf Breeze, Fla. Prior to that, he was the Jacksonville Jaguars offseason speed consultant for two years (2007-08).

RICH BISACCIA

Assistant Head Coach/ Special Teams Coordinator

Yankton College
NFL: 15th Year • Cowboys: 4th Year

Rich Bisaccia returns for his fourth season as the Dallas Cowboys special teams coordinator after being named to the position on Jan. 30, 2013. For the 2015 season, he added the role of assistant head coach. He enters his 34th season as a coach and 15th in the NFL.

Bisaccia's unit produced a solid campaign in 2015 that was highlighted with a Pro Bowl season by Dan Bailey. In his fifth season, Bailey connected on 30-of-32 field goals to tie the highest percentage in the NFL in 2015 (career-high 93.8%) while also hitting all 25 PATs as he was rewarded with his first ever trip to the NFL's annual all-star game. His 30 field goals made were fourth in a season in team history and second-highest of his career. Punter Chris Jones boasted a career-high net average of 42.5 to place third in the NFL while also logging a 45.2 gross average and dropping 27 inside the 20-yard line - second-most of his career.

In 2014 Bailey became the NFL's all-time most accurate field goal kicker after making his 100th career kick six weeks in. For the year, he finished 25-of-29 with a career field goal percentage of 89.8. He also hit all 56 PAT tries, making him a perfect 179-of-179 for his career - third in team history and just one shy of Mike Clark (180) for second. Jones played in all 16 games for the second time in his career and had career-highs for gross (45.4) and net (39.8) averages while dropping 21 inside the 20-yard line. He also had a career-long 64-yard boot. Dwayne Harris led all coverage men with 18 tackles and long snapper Louis-Philippe Ladouceur, who was perfect on every snap for the 10th straight season, earned his first career trip to the Pro Bowl.

During his first season leading the charges of the Cowboys special teams, Bisaccia's impact was immediate in the return game where he upgraded the squad's NFL kickoff return average ranking from 29th (20.6) in 2012 to fourth (25.5) in 2013. In particular, Harris' 30.6-yard kickoff return average was second in the league while his punt return average of 12.8 yards-per-return ranked third in the NFL.

In the kicking game, Bisaccia's work with Bailey allowed the placekicker to finish the season 28-of-30 on field goals - good for a 93.3 percentage - to rank fourth in the league. He closed out the season converting 21 straight attempts. Bailey also set the single-season club record for field goals of 50+ yards with six in 2013.

Jones also benefitted from Bisaccia's tutelage, playing in all 16 games for the first time in his career to boast a 44.8 yard-per-punt average and a net average of 39.1. Jones also had 30 punts downed inside the 20-yard line to mark the third-most in team history in a single season.

Prior to arriving in Dallas, Bisaccia spent two seasons in San Diego with the Chargers. He was the club's special teams coach in 2011 before adding assistant head coach duties for the 2012 season.

From 2002-10 Bisaccia coached in Tampa Bay, originally working with the special teams (2002-07), then adding the responsibilities of associate head coach and running backs (2008), before spending his last two seasons (2009-10) as the club's associate head coach/special teams. In addition to being a part of the Bucs Super Bowl XXXVII Championship team in his first season as an NFL coach, Bisaccia's charges earned three Pro Bowl selections (punter Josh Bidwell - 2005, long snapper Dave Moore - 2006, returner Clifton Smith - 2008), 13 NFC Player of the Week awards and four NFC Player of the Month awards through his tenure. Additionally, his units scored four touchdowns on kickoff returns, four on punt returns and blocked 18 kicks - 10 field goal attempts, five punts and three PAT tries. In 2009 the Buccaneers led the NFL with six blocked kicks while also leading the league in kickoff return average (26.3 yards-per-return) and ranked second in kickoff coverage, yielding just 19.1 yards-per-return.

Before hitting the pro ranks, Bisaccia spent 19 seasons coaching at the NCAA level. His most recent collegiate coaching stop was from 1999-2001 when he was the assistant head coach/running backs/special teams at Mississippi. He was the school's running backs coach in his first season (1999). Bisaccia came to Mississippi after a five-year stint at Clemson as the school's running backs and special teams coach (1994-98). He coached the same units for two seasons at South Carolina (1992-93) after originally coming to the school as a graduate assistant in 1988, coaching tight ends and wide receivers. After one season in the graduate assistant role, he was a volunteer assistant for the school for three seasons, first working with defensive ends and special teams (1989-90) followed by tight ends and special teams (1991). Bisaccia made his coaching debut in 1983 as the defensive backs/special teams coach at Wayne State then coached the school's quarterbacks and receivers from 1984-87.

Bisaccia played defensive back at Yankton College in South Dakota and is a native of Yonkers, N.Y. He and his wife, Jeanne, have three daughters - Michele, Elizabeth and Maddie - a son - Richie - and two grand children - Joel and AnnaJean.

Rich Bisaccia – Born June 3, 1960, Yonkers, NY. Defensive back Yankton College 1979-82. Pro: Defensive back Philadelphia Stars (USFL) 1983. College coach: Wayne State 1983-87, South Carolina 1988-1993, Clemson 1994-98, Mississippi 1999-2001. Pro coach: Tampa Bay Buccaneers 2002-10, San Diego Chargers 2011-12, Dallas Cowboys 2013-15.

BEN BLOOM

Assistant Coach/Special Projects

Tufts
NFL: 7th Year • Cowboys: 6th Year

The Dallas Cowboys hired Ben Bloom during the 2011 offseason to serve as the club's defensive quality control coach and assist linebackers coach Matt Eberflus - whom Bloom worked with on the Cleveland Browns coaching staff in 2010. He moved to the defensive line in 2014 and in 2015, working with Dallas' defensive ends. For 2016 Bloom is the club's assistant coach/special projects where he will advise the head coach on game plan matchups and schemes, personnel group strategies, film and statistical analysis, game management and situational football strategy. On the field, Bloom will assist with special teams units.

Under Bloom's watch in 2015, second-year pro DeMarcus Lawrence led the defense with a career-best 8.0 sacks while placing second with 31 pressures and third with eight tackles for losses. Along with Greg Hardy's 6.0 sacks, the pass rushing duo accounted for 14.0 of the club's 31 sacks on the year.

In Bloom's first season working with the defensive ends, the 2014 season saw free agent addition Jeremy Mincey lead the club with 6.0 sacks and 39 quarterback pressures. He also saw production from veteran ends George Selvie - who tied for third on the team with 3.0 sacks along with 20 pressures - Anthony Spencer (17 pressures) and Jack Crawford (2.0 sacks). Bloom assisted with the tutelage of rookie second round draft pick Lawrence, who spent the first portion of the regular season on the Reserve/

Injured-Returnable list after breaking his foot during training camp, but returned mid-season to finish with 11 tackles, a tackle for loss and six pressures. In the postseason Lawrence broke out with sacks in each of the team's two playoff contests along with a fumble recovery to help seal the win against Detroit in the Wild Card Playoff Game.

In 2013 Bloom's assistance with the linebackers featured a rise amongst Dallas' young corps as both Sean Lee (second - 123) and Bruce Carter (third - 122) finished amongst the team's top-five tacklers. Carter's 122 stops also marked a career-best.

Bloom continued to work closely with Eberflus and the linebackers in 2012. Both DeMarcus Ware and Spencer earned Pro Bowl berths as they each reached double-digit sacks, 11.5 and 11.0, respectively. Spencer also led the team in tackles with a career-best 106.

In his first season with the Cowboys, Bloom aided with the breakdown of opposing offensive film while also helping put together the team's weekly defensive playbook. In his role assisting Eberflus with the linebackers, Bloom worked with outside linebackers Ware and Spencer who accounted for 25.5 of the club's 42.0 sacks - Ware, 19.5 (second in the NFL) and Spencer, 6.0. Another one of Bloom's linebackers, Lee, led the squad with 131 tackles as the second-year pro started 15 of the 16 games at middle linebacker. Spencer finished fourth on the tackle chart (74) and Ware sixth (67).

As a defensive assistant for the Browns in 2010, Bloom helped prepare the defense during practice and with the breakdown of film for upcoming opponents. He spent the 2009 season with the Browns as an assistant in team operations.

Prior to joining the Browns, Bloom served as an assistant defensive line coach at Harvard University during the 2008 season. He earned his master's degree in education from Tufts University, while serving as a graduate assistant and the defensive line coach there from 2005-07. Bloom also earned a bachelor's in history from Tufts where he was a three-year letter winner on the football team. A native of Wellesley, Mass., Bloom and his wife, Eliot, live in Dallas with their daughter, Georgia.

Ben Bloom – Born October 17, 1982, Wellesley, Mass. Offensive Line Tufts 2001-04. No pro playing experience. College coach: Tufts University 2005-07, Harvard University 2008. Pro coach: Cleveland Browns 2010, Dallas Cowboys 2011-15.

GARY BROWN

Running Backs

Penn State
NFL: 8th Year • Cowboys: 4th Year

Gary Brown will begin his eighth year as an NFL coach and his fourth season with the Dallas Cowboys after he became the running backs coach on February 8, 2013. Brown came to Dallas after spending four seasons in the same capacity with the Cleveland Browns.

In 2015 Brown was charged with the challenge of replacing the production of 2014 NFL rushing champ DeMarco Murray, who departed via free agency. The response at the position included a collection of runners who gave Dallas a top-10 rushing attack, by averaging 118.1 yards-per-game (ninth). Veteran free agent signee Darren McFadden began the year as a backup to Joseph Randle, but took control as the team's starting running back following a 152-yard performance at the N.Y. Giants (10/25). From that game through the final 11 weeks of the season, his 960 rushing yards were the third-most by an NFL rusher during that period. McFadden finished the year with 1,089 yards - his second career 1,000-yard season - on a career-high 239 carries (4.6 avg.) with three touchdowns. It marked the third consecutive season that Dallas boasted a 1,000-yard rusher, and it was also the first time in team history that two different players have had consecutive 1,000-yard seasons (Murray, 2014; McFadden, 2015).

The Dallas Cowboys rushing offense in 2014 finished second in the league with 2,354 yards - the most since rushing for 2,711 in 1981. The Cowboys rushing attack was led by the league's leading running back, Murray, who rushed for a club-record 1,845 yards on 392 carries (4.7) and 13 touchdowns and took home 2014 Offensive Player of the Year. It was the first time a Cowboy won the NFL rushing title since Emmitt Smith (1,773) in 1995. Brown's workhorse in the backfield also established a league record after rushing for at least 100 yards in each of the season's first eight games. For the year, Murray had 12 100-yard performances to set a franchise high. Murray also caught a career-high 57 passes to give him 449 touches on the year - tops in team history and sixth in NFL history.

The 2013 season saw career outputs from running back Murray, who posted 1,471 yards from scrimmage, 1,121 rushing yards, nine rushing touchdowns, 10 total touchdowns and a 5.2-yard average under Brown's tutelage, earning his first Pro Bowl selection. It marked the first time that the Cowboys offense featured a 1,000-yard rusher since the 2006 season and the first Pro Bowl selection at the running back position since 2007. Murray also excelled as a pass catcher in 2013, catching 53 passes out of the backfield, then tied for eighth by a running back in team history.

The Cowboys also received significant contributions from second-year running back Lance Dunbar and rookie Randle, who accounted for 434 yards of total offense and two touchdowns combined. The emergence of mid-season pickup Tyler Clutts at fullback spurred the Cowboys rushing attack late in the season, helping Murray finish third among NFL rushers in rushing yards (693) and touchdowns (six) in the final eight games.

In 2012 Brown worked with rookie running back Trent Richardson, the third overall pick in the 2012 NFL Draft, marking the highest pick Cleveland had ever used on a running back. Richardson finished the season with 1,317 yards from scrimmage, 950 rushing yards, 11 rushing touchdowns, 12 total touchdowns and 72 points, all Browns rookie records. In addition, his three 100-yard rushing performances tied a Browns rookie record. Richardson also finished second on the team with 51 receptions, which was fifth by a Browns rookie.

The Browns started three different players at running back in 2011. This included four starts by Chris Ogbonnaya, who began the season on Houston's practice squad. Ogbonnaya led the team in rushing five times on the year and finished with a 4.6-yard average (73-334) the highest figure for a Brown with more than 70 rushing attempts since Eric Metcalf put together a 4.7 mark (129-611) in 1993.

In 2010 Brown oversaw a backfield led by Peyton Hillis, who joined Hall of Famers Jim Brown and Leroy Kelly as the only Browns to record 11-or-more rushing touchdowns in a single-season. Hillis rushed for 1,177 yards, a figure that ranked seventh in the AFC and 11th in the NFL.

In Brown's first season tutoring the team's running backs, Jerome Harrison led the club with 862 rushing yards after he had amassed 448 yards in his first three NFL seasons combined. He rushed for 570 yards and five touchdowns on 113 carries (5.0) over the final four games, the second-highest total in the NFL over the final quarter of the season. His total included a Browns single-game record 286 yards at Kansas City (12/20), as he snapped Jim Brown's previous club mark of 237, which he reached twice.

As a team, the Browns averaged 4.2 yards-per-rush attempt in 2009 and 4.0 in 2010, marking the first time the club has averaged 4.0-or-better in consecutive seasons since 2002-03.

Prior to joining Cleveland, Brown spent six seasons coaching on the collegiate level. He spent the 2008 season as the running backs coach at Rutgers University, where he helped the Scarlet Knights to an 8-5 mark and a victory in the Papajohns.com Bowl. Under Brown's tutelage, the trio of Kordell Young, Jourdan Brooks and Joe Martinek combined for 1,474 rushing yards, a 4.9-yard average and 15 rushing touchdowns in 2008.

Brown spent two seasons (2006-07) as offensive coordinator at Susquehanna University, where in 2007, sophomore running back Dave Paveletz produced the second-highest single-season rushing total in program history and was named first-team All-Liberty League.

Brown got his start in the coaching profession immediately following an eight-year NFL career as a player when he served as the offensive coordinator at Williamsport (Pa.) Area High School from 2000-02. He then broke into the college ranks as the running backs coach at Lycoming College (2003-05).

In addition to his collegiate positions, Brown also helped coach running backs at N.Y. Giants training camp in 2005, then worked with the Green Bay Packers (2006) and Carolina Panthers (2007) as part of the NFL's Minority Coaching Fellowship program.

Brown enjoyed a four-year career at Penn State (1987-90), where as a sophomore, he led the Nittany Lions in rushing yards with 689 yards and six touchdowns on 136 carries (5.1 avg.)

A native of Williamsport, Pa., Brown played eight seasons in the NFL (1991-95, 1997-99) after being selected in the eighth round of the 1991 NFL Draft by the Houston Oilers. In his career, he played for the Oilers (1991-95), Chargers (1997) and Giants (1998-99). During that time he ran for 4,300 yards and 21 touchdowns on 1,023 carries and caught 84 passes for 631 yards and three scores in 99 games. He rushed for 1,000 yards twice, including 1,002 in 1993 and 1,063 yards in 1998. His feat in 1993 was accomplished while playing in just eight games.

Brown went on to earn his degree in sports administration from Lock Haven University in 2005. He and his wife, Kim, have two daughters, Malena and Dorianna, and a son, Tre.

Gary Brown – Born July 1, 1969, Williamsport, Pa. Running back Penn State 1987-1990. Pro running back Houston Oilers 1991-95, San Diego Chargers 1997, New York Giants 1998-99. College coach: Lycoming 2003-05, Susquehanna 2006-07, Rutgers 2008. Pro coach: Cleveland Browns 2009-2012, Dallas Cowboys 2013-15.

STEPHEN BROWN

Offensive Assistant

University of Tennessee
NFL: 3rd Year • Cowboys: 1st Year

The Dallas Cowboys hired Stephen Brown as an offensive assistant for the 2016 season. Brown is in his second stint with an NFL team, and will work with Coach Gary Brown and the running backs in the coordination of the running game, while also serving as a point person for Head Coach Jason Garrett on research projects and day-to-day operations.

He will have an opportunity to work with the fourth overall pick in the 2016 NFL Draft, running back Ezekiel Elliott in an effort to revive a Cowboys ground attack that finished second in the league and led the team to a Division Crown in 2014, but fell to ninth in 2015. Joining Elliott in the backfield is free agent addition Alfred Morris, who came to Dallas after accumulating the second-highest rushing total in the NFL over the past four seasons, finishing behind only Adrian Peterson (4,923) with 4,713 yards from 2012-15. They join incumbent running backs Darren

McFadden, who led the Cowboys with 1,089 rushing yards in 2015, Lance Dunbar and Rod Smith on an offense that strives to be greatly improved in 2016.

Prior to that, Brown spent two seasons (2013-14) with the Buffalo Bills as the assistant to the head coach/special teams assistant. Brown coordinated all operational aspects for players and coaches, and was included in multiple aspects of game management decisions. The special teams units he worked with in 2014 finished the year second in the NFL and first in the AFC, based on Dallas Morning News writer Rick Gosselin's rankings, which saw Buffalo make the biggest improvement, jumping up from 31st in 2013. Kicker Dan Carpenter finished second with a career-best 34 made field goals, and punter Colton Schmidt dropped 31 punts inside the 20-yard line, tied for fourth in the league. Additionally, the kickoff and punt coverage units excelled under Brown's guidance. The kickoff team held opponents to an average start position of the 20.7 yard-line, fifth in the NFL, and the punt coverage unit harangued opponents into a 6.5-yard average on 38 returns, fourth overall in 2014.

He served on the coaching staff at Syracuse University as a quality control coach and director of recruiting, providing statistical analysis on upcoming opponents and overseeing all aspects of recruiting in his four seasons (2009-12) with the Orange. Brown played a part in turning the program around over his four seasons with the team, leading to the first winning season since 2001, reaching seven wins in 2010, and bowl game victories in the Pinstripe Bowl twice (2010, 2012). On game day he coordinated with the defensive coaching staff on potential in-game adjustments and provided information to the head coach on various game management situations.

Brown got his start in the coaching profession as a student assistant at his alma mater, the University of Tennessee, under Head Coach Phillip Fulmer. He worked three seasons (2006-08) for the Volunteers football squad, breaking down film and assisting with the recruiting process and everyday operations.

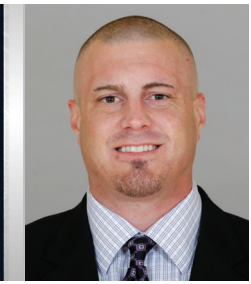
Brown earned his degree in Sport Management from the University of Tennessee and is a native of Charlotte, North Carolina.

Stephen Brown – Born May 3, 1987 in Charlotte, NC. College coach: University of Tennessee 2006-08, Syracuse 2009-12. Pro coach: Buffalo Bills 2013-14. Joined the Dallas Cowboys in 2016.

MARC COLOMBO

Assistant Offensive Line

Boston College
NFL: 2nd Year • Cowboys: 2nd Year



Marc Colombo, a former Dallas Cowboys offensive lineman who started 72 of the 76 games he played during his six-year run with the club, settled into the next phase of his NFL career as an assistant coach with the Cowboys in 2015.

He returns to the coaching staff in 2016 as the club's assistant offensive line coach after spending 2015 as an offensive assistant, mainly working with the o-line. Three of his linemen earned Pro Bowl nods following the 2015 season, with Tyron Smith (third) Travis Frederick (second) and Zack Martin (second) each earning the honor. The line helped Darren McFadden rush for his second career 1,000-yard season (1,089) on a career-high 239 carries.

Colombo retired in 2012 as a Cowboy and joined the Cowboys during the 2014 season as an assistant in the personnel department. He then joined the offensive coaching staff for the 2015 season to help supplement the loss of offensive line/offensive coordinator Bill Callahan, working with one of the most talented front groups in the NFL.

Drafted in the first round (29th overall) of the 2002 NFL Draft, Colombo played in 10 games with five starts at tackle for the Chicago Bears before a knee injury ended his season and caused him to miss the entire 2003 season. He returned to the field in 2004 with the Bears, playing in eight games with two starts in the second half of the season. Colombo was waived by Chicago in September of 2005 and signed with Dallas, seeing action in four games for the Cowboys the remainder of the season.

Colombo assumed a starting role at right tackle for the Cowboys in 2006, and went on to start 72 games at the position for Dallas over the next five seasons, playing a key role in one of the top scoring offenses in the NFL with an average of 25.0 points-per-game from 2006-10, seventh-best in the league.

Colombo concluded his playing career with the Miami Dolphins in 2011 where he started all 16 games at tackle.

Throughout his collegiate career at Boston College, Colombo helped pave the way for a strong rushing attack that produced a 1,000-yard rusher each of his four years on the offensive line, and kept his quarterback upright as well, not surrendering a sack during his final two years as a starter (2000-01). He earned All-Big East Conference honors as a senior in 2001 playing both tackle positions for a offense that produced 4,361 yards and ranked in the top-20 nationally in rushing.

Colombo graduated from Boston College with a degree in sociology in 2001.

He and his wife, Jessica, have a daughter, Olivia, and a son, Jack.

Marc Colombo – Born Oct. 8, 1978, Bridgewater, Mass. Tackle Boston College. Pro: Chicago Bears 2002-05, Dallas Cowboys 2005-10, Miami Dolphins 2011. Pro coach: Dallas Cowboys 2015.

DEREK DOOLEY

Wide Receivers

Virginia
NFL: 6th Year • Cowboys: 4th Year

Derek Dooley enters his fourth season as the Dallas Cowboys wide receivers coach after being named to the position on February 4, 2013. Dooley came to Dallas with 15-plus years of coaching experience, including six years as a head coach at the collegiate level and three years as an NFL assistant.

In Dallas, Dooley re-united with Head Coach Jason Garrett after the two served on the same coaching staff with the Miami Dolphins (2005-06).

The 2015 season got off to a rocky start, with All-Pro receiver Dez Bryant fracturing his foot in the second game - missing seven games - and Dallas starting four different quarterbacks after Tony Romo twice fractured his clavicle. Bryant finished with 31 catches and three touchdowns - including the 50th touchdown connection between he and Tony Romo, breaking the all-time franchise record of 49 set by Troy Aikman and Michael Irvin. With a young group of receivers eager to learn, Dooley coaxed big seasons from Terrance Williams and Cole Beasley. Williams continued to be a big play threat, averaging 16.2 yards-per-catch on 52 catches with a team-leading 840 yards, finishing 2015 as one-of-three receivers to average at least 16 yards in each season since 2013 (Michael Floyd, Malcolm Floyd). Beasley set career-bests with 52 catches for 536 yards and a team-leading five touchdown receptions. Newly acquired Brice Butler provided the offense with an explosive deep threat, averaging 21.5 yards-per-catch on his 12 catches, while second-year receiver Devin Street and rookie Lucky Whitehead provided glimpses of their raw talent with seven and six catches, respectively. Under Dooley's watch, the receiving group accounted for 12 of Dallas' 16 touchdowns through the air.

In 2014 - his second season in Dallas - Dooley continued working with Bryant, who is one of the top receiving threats in the league. Bryant established a club single-season record with a league-best 16 touchdown catches while tallying his third consecutive 1,000-yard season with 1,320 yards (second in his career and tied for seventh in team history) on a team-best 88 catches. Bryant's production accounted for 27% of the club's receptions, 33% of the receiving yards and 43% of its receiving touchdowns en route to his second straight Pro Bowl nod. Bryant also became the third Cowboy (Bob Hayes, 4, and Terrell Owens, 3,) with at least three straight 10-touchdown seasons. Not limited to the prowess of Bryant, Dooley continued the mentorship of second-year receiver Williams, helping the wideout finish second on the team in touchdown catches (eight), third in yards (621) and tied for fourth in receptions (37). In the postseason, Williams' knack for the big play was evident as his three touchdown catches averaged 40.7 yards. Beasley also emerged as a clutch receiver, especially on third down, as 26 (fourth on the team) of his 37 catches went for first downs, including 11 (third) on third or fourth down. He also finished with career-highs with 420 yards and four touchdowns.

Dooley's first season with the Cowboys coincided with the mercurial rise of Dallas' top receiver, Bryant. Under Dooley's guidance, Bryant built upon another successful campaign in his third season, leading the team with career-highs in receptions (93) and touchdowns (13) along with 1,233 receiving yards - his second consecutive 1,000-yard season - en route to being named to his first career Pro Bowl. Bryant's 13 touchdowns marked his second straight 10-touchdown season, becoming only one-of-four players in team history to do so.

Dooley was also responsible for teaching the pro game to rookie Williams, who successfully made the transition as the club's third receiver, finishing third on the team with 736 yards and five touchdowns and fourth with 44 receptions. For his efforts, Williams' totals tied for fourth in a season in club rookie annals in receptions and touchdowns and ranked fourth in receiving yards. Miles Austin struggled with hamstring injuries most of the season while missing five games, and was limited to 24 catches for 244 yards. Austin's injury opened the door for Beasley (39 receptions for 368 yards and two touchdowns) and Dwayne Harris (nine receptions for 80 yards and two touchdowns) to earn more playing time with the offense. As a whole, the receiving group was responsible for 22 of the team's 33 receiving touchdowns, while also logging 137 of the 213 total receiving first downs in 2013, including 42 on third-down.

Prior to joining the Dallas Cowboys, Dooley served as the head coach for the Tennessee Volunteers through three seasons (2010-12), earning a bowl berth in his first year at the helm. In 2012 Dooley's offense broke multiple records, including the second-most yards in a season (5,711), a school-record combined 1,303 yards in consecutive games (2012) and the fourth-most points in UT history (2012). Dooley was named Tennessee's 22nd football coach in 2010, and his first two recruiting classes included the SEC's leading receiver in 2011 and a first-team All-SEC selection, six Freshman All-Americans, and nine players who were named Freshman All-SEC.

Also during Dooley's tenure, quarterback Tyler Bray threw 69 touchdown passes and set the school record for most passing yards in a game with 530. Wide receiver Justin Hunter also set a Tennessee freshman record with seven receiving touchdowns and averaged a team-best 25.9 yards-per-catch in 2010. Another wideout, Cordarrelle Patterson, set numerous records, including the school's all-purpose yards single season (2012) record with 1,873 while also becoming only the second player in UT history to score four different ways during a single season (rushing, receiving, kick return and punt return).

Before his arrival in Knoxville, Dooley served as the head coach at Louisiana Tech from 2007-09 and also doubled as the school's athletic director for the last two years of his tenure in Ruston. As the head coach of the football team, Dooley led the Bulldogs to an 8-5 mark in 2008, including the school's first postseason victory in 30 years at the Independence Bowl. Tech finished second in the WAC that season and played in a bowl game for only the third time since joining the major college ranks in 1989. For his efforts, the Louisiana Sports Writers' Association named him 2008 Coach of the Year.

Dooley first joined the professional ranks as the tight ends coach for the Miami Dolphins from 2005-

06 under head coach Nick Saban. During his two years in Miami, Dooley oversaw the continued development of tight end Randy McMichael, who ended his Dolphins career as the team's all-time leader in receptions by a tight end.

Dooley served on Saban's LSU staff as the recruiting coordinator and tight ends coach from 2000-02 and then running backs coach and special teams coordinator from 2003-04. He helped the Tigers land No. 1 classes in 2001 and 2003. The Tigers won SEC championships both of those seasons, claimed the BCS national championship in 2003, and Saban promoted Dooley to assistant head coach for the 2004 campaign.

He began his coaching career in 1996 as a graduate assistant at Georgia under defensive coordinator Joe Kines. He then served from 1997-99 as wide receivers coach and co-recruiting coordinator at SMU, where Dooley helped the Mustangs to the school's only winning season over a 20-year stretch.

The youngest son of Georgia legend Vince Dooley, who coached the Bulldogs for 25 seasons and claimed six league titles and the 1980 national championship, Dooley never accepted the predetermined path to success. He played his college football at Virginia, turning down scholarship offers elsewhere to walk on and later earn his own scholarship from Cavaliers head coach George Welsh.

He graduated with a bachelor's degree in government and foreign affairs, and then went on to earn his law degree from the University of Georgia in 1994. Before embarking on his coaching career, Dooley practiced law at a private law firm in Atlanta for two years.

Dooley is married to Dr. Allison Jeffers Dooley, an OB/GYN and Fort Worth, Texas, native. They have two sons, John Taylor and Peyton, and a daughter, Julianna.

While at Tennessee, the Dooley's hosted the Big Orange Experience, an annual fundraising event for Variety, an organization that provides financial support for numerous children's charities. In 2012 the proceeds from the event funded the Dooley-Witten Learning Center at the Halls/Powell Boys and Girls Club of the Tennessee Valley, a project on which Dooley teamed up with former Vol and Dallas Cowboys All-Pro tight end Jason Witten.

MATT EBERFLUS

Passing Game Coordinator/ Linebackers

Toledo
NFL: 8th Year • Cowboys: 6th Year

Matt Eberflus joined the Dallas Cowboys on January 26, 2011 as the club's linebackers coach. He added the title of passing game coordinator in 2016. Eberflus, who enters his eighth season coaching in the NFL, returns for his sixth season with Dallas after spending two seasons as the Cleveland Browns linebackers coach. He spent 17 years prior to that coaching in the collegiate ranks.

His linebackers made a strong impact during the 2015 season, led by the return of Sean Lee, who missed the entire 2014 season due to injury, as three players from his unit finished in the top-five in total tackles. Lee turned in arguably his best season while shifting to the weakside linebacker position, logging 156 tackles and 11 tackles for loss - both career-highs - his first career sacks (2.5) and added an interception as he was named to his first Pro Bowl. Pairing with Lee was Rolando McClain, who tallied 97 stops, two sacks and nine tackles for loss while taking over as the team's starting middle linebacker. Second-year linebacker Anthony Hitchens followed up his stellar rookie campaign with 85 stops, two sacks and three tackles for loss in his second season while once again showing his worth in his versatility by seeing time at every position along the linebacker front.

Eberflus faced arguably his greatest challenge as a coach with Dallas in 2014, having to immediately replace the production of one of the club's top tacklers and team leaders in Lee, who was lost for the entire year after suffering a torn ACL during the spring. To fill the role left by Lee, the club made a trade with Baltimore for the rights to McClain, who retired before the beginning of the 2013 season, but returned to NFL action in 2014 to pay immediate dividends for the Cowboys. McClain won the starting middle linebacker position out of training camp and went on to tally a career-best 108 stops - second on the squad - along with a team-leading nine tackles for loss and a career-high two interceptions, tying for third, while starting 12-of-13 games played. Veteran linebacker Justin Durant began the year as the starting weakside linebacker and posted 59 tackles, but an elbow injury prematurely ended his season after the eighth game of the year. Eberflus was also credited with molding rookie linebacker Hitchens into a pro, as the young linebacker stepped in to start 11-of-16 games while seeing action at every linebacker position at some point during the season filling in for other injured players. Hitchens logged 100 tackles in his first year - third on the team; fifth-highest by a rookie in team history - to become the first rookie defender to record 100 tackles in a season since Roy Williams (127 - 2002). Eberflus also received production from Bruce Carter, who led the team with a career-high five interceptions to tie for fourth in a single season by a linebacker in team history, while he also posted 75 tackles to place fifth on the team.

Eberflus worked with a young and talented group as the defense transitioned to a 4-3 scheme in 2013. At the heart of the linebacking corps was Lee, who registered 123 tackles and a team-high four interceptions despite missing five games due to injury. Carter also put together a strong season from the weakside linebacker position, posting 122 tackles and recording his first two career sacks to go along with four tackles for loss and three pass breakups. Reserve linebackers Ernie Sims, DeVonte Holloman and Kyle Wilber put up solid numbers filling in for Durant on the strong side after Durant was injured.

Under Eberflus' guidance in 2012, the outside linebackers continued to excel, as both DeMarcus Ware and Anthony Spencer earned Pro Bowl berths. The duo became the fifth in club history to each reach double-digit sacks, Ware with a team-best 11.5 and Spencer with a career-high 11.0. Spencer led the team with a career-best 106 tackles, while Ware finished with 72 tackles, a team-best 33 pressures and five forced fumbles. The inside linebackers were shuffled throughout the year with both Lee and Carter suffering season-ending injuries. Lee managed 77 tackles, good for fourth on the team, and prior to his injury, he posted a career-high 21 tackles that tied Lee Roy Jordan (9/26/71) for the most tackles in a game in franchise history. Carter finished with 80 tackles, third on the team, and led the squad with nine tackles for loss.

The 2011 season marked Eberflus' first year overseeing the Cowboys linebackers, inheriting a unit led by All-Pro Ware, who once again terrorized NFL quarterbacks with 19.5 sacks - good for second in the NFC and the NFL and tops amongst all linebackers in the league - en route to his sixth consecutive selection as a Pro Bowl starter. Eberflus also helped oversee the emergence of second-year linebacker Lee, who led the team with a career-best 131 tackles and tied for the team-lead with four interceptions, which were the most by an NFL linebacker in 2011. The overall production of the linebacker unit was seen on the final stats sheet, with five of Dallas' top-10 tacklers and three of the top-five – coming from the position: Lee (first - 131), Spencer (fourth - 74), Keith Brooking (fifth - 72), Ware (sixth - 67) and Bradie James (ninth - 53).

In 2010 Eberflus led the charges of the Browns linebacking corps that had four of its starters (Eric Barton, 12 starts; Scott Fujita, nine starts; Chris Gocong, 16 starts; Matt Roth, 16 starts) finish in the top-10 in tackles. Additionally, linebacker David Bowens became the second player in Browns history to return two interceptions for touchdowns in a single game (at New Orleans, 10/24).

In his first season with the Browns, Eberflus guided a unit through a solid season despite the loss of both starting inside linebackers due to injury by the season's midpoint. Under Eberflus' guidance, linebacker Bowens made a successful transition from an outside spot to the inside, finishing with a career-best 71 tackles, with 5.5 sacks - the third-highest sack figure of his career. With the injuries to his inside starters, Eberflus worked third-year backer Jason Trusnik into a starting role. Trusnik, acquired five weeks into the season, went on to make the first 10 starts of his career and tallied 54 tackles and 2.5 sacks.

Prior to entering the pro ranks, Eberflus coached at the University of Missouri (2001-08). He came to Missouri as the defensive coordinator/defensive backs coach in 2001 and became the associate head coach/defensive coordinator/safeties coach in 2006. While with Missouri, Eberflus guided the Tigers defense to the Big 12 North Division title in 2007 and 2008, compiling a 22-6 record over that span. Not being limited to his role with the defense, Eberflus helped recruit All-American quarterback Brad Smith and wide receiver Sean Coffey while also landing defensive back William Moore and linebacker Sean Weatherspoon.

Before arriving in Missouri, Eberflus spent nine years (1992-2000) at his alma mater, the University of Toledo. He served as a student assistant coach in 1992, then as a graduate assistant in 1993 before landing a full-time spot in 1994 as recruiting coordinator/outside linebackers coach. He held that position for two seasons before concentrating solely on outside linebackers for two more seasons (1996-98). For his last two years at Toledo, Eberflus coached defensive backs. In his seven seasons as a full-timer, Toledo boasted a winning record each season, compiling a 56-22-2 record, including an 11-0-1 finish in 1995 and a 10-1 finish in 2000.

Eberflus was a four-year letterman and a three-year starting linebacker at Toledo. He earned first-team All-Conference honors as a junior and senior as he led the team in tackles both years. He also served as a team captain as a senior and took home the Nicholson Trophy for contributing the most towards the success of the team.

Eberflus earned his degree in education from Toledo in 1993 and was inducted into the school's Athletic Hall of Fame in 2004.

Eberflus and his wife, Kelly, have two daughters, Grace and Giada.

Matt Eberflus – Born May 17, 1970, Toledo, Ohio. Linebacker Toledo 1988-91. No pro playing experience. College coach: Toledo 1992-2000, Missouri 2001-08. Pro coach: Cleveland Browns 2009-10, Dallas Cowboys 2011-15.

GREG JACKSON

Safeties

Louisiana State
NFL: 5th Year • Cowboys: 1st Year

Greg Jackson begins his first season as the Dallas Cowboys safeties coach after spending 2015 with the University of Michigan coaching the school's secondary. Jackson brings with him 13 years of coaching experience, including four in the NFL, and 16 years of overall NFL experience, including 12 as a player.

In Dallas, Jackson will reunite with Michael Pope as the two were with the N.Y. Giants together (1989-91) with Jackson playing safety and Pope coaching tight ends.

In one season at Michigan, Jackson guided a secondary that led the Big Ten in passing defense (158.5 yards-per-game), pass efficiency defense (94.6) and third downs allowed (27.6) while the defense as a whole shutout opponents in three consecutive games - the first FBS school to accomplish the feat since Kansas State in 1995.

Before accompanying Jim Harbaugh to Michigan, Jackson served on Harbaugh's staff with the San Francisco 49ers (2011-14) as the assistant secondary coach. Over that span, the 49ers were second in points-per-game allowed (17.4), tied for second in interceptions (78) and third in total defense (310.2 yards-per-game) and pass breakups (350). In that same four-year span, members of Jackson's secondary earned two All-Pro honors and five Pro Bowl selections, while Eric Reid became the first 49ers rookie safety to make the Pro Bowl when he was selected in 2013.

Jackson spent one year as the nickelback/assistant linebackers coach with the University of Wisconsin, helping the school rank seventh with an 11-2 record in 2010.

Before his time in Madison, Jackson coached at Tulane for three seasons. He was the university's defensive backs coach in 2007 then coached safeties in 2008 and linebackers in 2009. He also oversaw the kicking team through his final two seasons.

From 2004-06, Jackson coached defensive backs at Louisiana-Monroe after beginning his coaching career in 2003, leading defensive backs at the University of Idaho.

Jackson played safety in the NFL for 12 seasons after being selected in the third round (78th overall) of the 1989 NFL Draft by the N.Y. Giants. He spent five seasons with the Giants before playing for the Philadelphia Eagles (1994-95), New Orleans Saints (1996) and San Diego Chargers (1997-00). Through 12 pro seasons, Jackson started 129 of the 168 games he played and picked off 32 passes while amassing over 700 career tackles.

Jackson's collegiate career at LSU was polished off with a first-team All-America selection in 1988 which included an NCAA-high seven interceptions and an SEC championship as a senior. In four years, he helped lead the Tigers to a 36-10-2 record, including his first conference championship in 1986. Jackson also played in a bowl game in each of his four years (1985-88).

Jackson is a native of Miami, Fla. and earned his bachelor's degree in communications broadcasting from Fairleigh Dickinson in 2004. He and his wife, Dina, have two children, Greg Jr., and Jayden, while his oldest son, Jamal, played football at Appalachian State (2009-13).

Emporia State
NFL: 6th Year • Cowboys: 6th Year

Leon Lett, a former Dallas Cowboys defensive lineman who won three Super Bowl titles and earned two Pro Bowl berths during his 10-year run with the club, has settled into the next phase of his NFL career as an assistant coach with the same organization that drafted him. Lett assisted the Cowboys during the 2011 training camp as a member of the NFL's Minority Coaching Fellowship Program and was later hired on a full-time basis to assist with the team's defensive line as a defensive assistant/defensive line coach during the 2011 season.

Lett's second season (2015) working with the defensive tackles fostered a breakout season for Tyrone Crawford in which he totaled 44 tackles, five sacks and finished third on the defense with 27 pressures. Nick Hayden was once again a steady and strong presence in the middle of the line, plugging up running lanes and leading the defensive line with 54 tackles. An injury to Terrell McClain early in the season led to increased opportunities for Jack Crawford, who emerged as a do-it-all lineman, finishing with career-bests in tackles (18), sacks (four) and pressures (10). David Irving also showed flashes of raw ability in brief playing time under Lett's tutelage, adding 14 pressures and blocking a field goal attempt.

In working with defensive tackles in 2014, Lett's most notable task was helping the transition of Tyrone Crawford from defensive end to a three- technique defensive tackle. After spending the 2013 season on the team's Reserve/Injured list with an Achilles injury suffered during the first day of training camp, Crawford had a strong response to his new position in 2014 to post career numbers with 37 tackles, his first three career sacks and 29 quarterback pressures - second on the team - while starting 15 games. Lett also received steady production from the team's other starting tackle, Hayden, who logged a career-best 52 tackles. Following close behind the starters were a steady rotation that saw good production from veterans Henry Melton - who finished second on the team with five sacks - McClain and Josh Brent, and steady development from rookies Ken Bishop and Davon Coleman.

In 2013 Lett saw continued growth from defensive tackle Jason Hatcher. Hatcher led the team and all NFL interior linemen with 11.5 sacks while also registering 48 tackles on his way to the first Pro Bowl selection of his career. Veteran free agent acquisition George Selvie also flourished with Lett's mentorship, recording a career-high seven sacks and starting all 16 games for a Cowboys defense that tallied 34.0 sacks on the season.

Lett's work with the defensive line in 2012 saw Hatcher emerge as a full-time starter and establish personal-bests in several categories. He also helped oversee the development of Sean Lissemore in the absence of Jay Ratliff (injuries).

Prior to joining the Cowboys, Lett's only previous experience as a coach came in 2010 when he served as the defensive line coach at the University of Louisiana at Monroe. He also served as a volunteer assistant at UNLV in 2009.

Drafted in the seventh round (173rd overall) of the 1991 NFL Draft, Lett became the first and only player ever selected by the Cowboys out of Emporia State to make the squad's final roster. Nicknamed "Big Cat" by his teammates for his agility, Lett compiled 361 tackles, 22.5 sacks, 37 tackles for losses, 128 quarterback pressures, 26 pass breakups, eight forced fumbles, seven fumble recoveries and four blocked kicks while playing in 109 games with 73 starts during a 10-year career as a Cowboys player. He also appeared in 14 postseason contests with nine starts, including three Super Bowl victories.

Lett concluded his playing career with the Denver Broncos in 2001 where he totaled 15 tackles in 12 games.

During his collegiate career, Lett was a big part of a defense that held opponents to 4.1 yards-per-play and 3.1 yards-per-carry during his two years at Emporia State. He finished second on the team in sacks (four) and earned All-NAIA District 10 honors despite missing three games due to a leg injury as a senior. In his first season with the Hornets in 1989 after playing in junior college, Lett helped Emporia State to the Central States Intercollegiate Conference title and their first appearance in the NAIA Championship Game. He also earned honorable mention NAIA All-America, All-NAIA District 10 and ALL-CSIC honors after leading the team in passes defensed (10) and blocked kicks (two) and finishing second in tackles (83) and sacks (five) as a junior. In two previous seasons at Hinds, Miss., Junior College, Lett recorded 141 tackles, 10 sacks, nine passes defensed and recovered three fumbles.

Lett returned to school to earn his college degree in university studies with concentrations on sociology and history from UNLV in 2009.

Lett has a daughter, Leondra Rachel.

Leon Lett – Born October 12, 1968, Mobile, Ala. Defensive tackle Hinds Community College 1987-88, Emporia State University 1989-90. Pro: Defensive tackle Dallas Cowboys 1991-2000, Denver Broncos 2001. College coach: University of Louisiana at Monroe 2009-10. Pro coach: Dallas Cowboys 2011-15.

SCOTT LINEHAN

Offensive Coordinator

Idaho
NFL: 15th Year • Cowboys: 3rd Year

Scott Linehan is in his 28th season as a football coach, 15th season in the NFL and third with the Dallas Cowboys after arriving in 2014 as the club's passing game coordinator. Following a successful first season calling offensive plays, Linehan was promoted to offensive coordinator and rewarded with a three-year extension. Of his 27 years of coaching football, terms as an offensive coordinator or head coach make up 21 years on Linehan's resume.

Linehan oversaw an offense in 2015 that needed to utilize a more creative approach in the wake of injuries to two key players, quarterback Tony Romo and wide receiver Dez Bryant. Dallas employed four quarterbacks over the course of 16 games, with Brandon Weeden (three starts), Matt Cassel (seven) and Kellen Moore (two) trying to lead an offense sans Romo and Bryant for the majority of the season. Three Cowboys on offense made the Pro Bowl, all along the offensive line - Tackle Tyron Smith, Center Travis Frederick and Guard Zack Martin - as the group continued to be a dominant force for the team. The Cowboys rushing attack was a bright spot for the unit, as the team racked up 1,890 yards on the ground (ninth), and combined with the 2014 rushing total of 2,354 yards, gave the Cowboys their highest total (4,244) in back-to-back seasons since the team gained 4,282 rushing yards over the 1992-93 seasons. Darren McFadden led all Cowboys running backs with 1,089 yards and a 4.6 average, fourth and 14th league wide, respectively. Jason Witten continued to be Mr. Reliable, leading the team for the eighth time in his career with 77 catches. Terrance Williams had a team-high 840 receiving yards and topped 16 yards-per-catch for the third-consecutive season to start his career, a feat only Mike Wallace, and Kenny Britt have accomplished this century. The Cowboys also utilized Swiss Army knife receiver Lucky Whitehead in a variety of packages in the screen game and on the ground, as the rookie tallied 107 rushing yards on 10 attempts, the second-highest total by a receiver in Cowboys history.

Linehan called an offense that helped the 2014 Cowboys to an NFL-best tying 12-4 record, the club's 22nd Division title - 18th NFC East title - 31st post-season appearance and 34th playoff win. Along the way, the team had three players lead the league and establish single-season club records as DeMarco Murray rushed for 1,845 yards and earned 2014 Offensive Player of the year honors, Dez Bryant caught 16 touchdown passes and Tony Romo completed 69.9% of his passes and had a 113.2 quarterback rating. The Dallas offense as a whole was second in the league in rushing yards (2,354); its highest finish since placing second in 2008. For the season, the Dallas offense totaled 6,138 yards for the second-highest figure in franchise history. Dallas also generated 467 points for the second-most points scored in a season in franchise history. The club had seven offensive players selected to the Pro Bowl, including two first-timers (Frederick and rookie Martin). Perennial Pro Bowler Witten earned his 10th trip, Romo made his fourth and Bryant, Murray and Tyron Smith each made their second. Martin, the club's first round pick in 2014, became the first rookie in club history to start every game at right guard, the fourth offensive line rookie and 14th overall rookie to notch starts in every game of his first season. He was also the only offensive rookie in the NFL in 2014 to make the Pro Bowl, the first rookie offensive lineman in team history to make the game and was named to the AP All-Pro team - the only rookie in the NFL in 2014 and the third rookie in club history to receive the honor.

For five seasons, Linehan served as the Detroit Lions offensive coordinator (2009-13). In 2013 his Lions offense finished the season sixth in the NFL in total yards (6,274) and third in passing yards (4,482). Helping bolster those numbers was Calvin Johnson, who finished the season with 1,492 receiving yards - fourth in team history - including a club single-game record (second all-time in the NFL) 329 yards. Under Linehan's guidance, Johnson established the club record for yards in a season with 1,964 (2012) while also finishing 2011 third in team history with 1,681 yards. Over those same three seasons, Matthew Stafford took the top-three spots in team history for passing yards with 5,038 (2011), 4,967 (2012) and 4,650 (2013). Johnson's 5,137 receiving yards over that three-year span was tops in the league and Stafford's 14,655 three-season passing yards total was second (Drew Brees, 15,815). From 2010-13, the Lions offense amassed 18,033 passing yards (second in the NFL) and 24,574 total yards (fourth).

In 2012 Linehan's offense set a club record with 6,540 total yards (third in the league) and net passing yards 4,927 (second). In finishing third in total offense, it marked the highest finish for Detroit since 1997 (second). Three of the club's all-time single-game marks for total offense were reached that year. The Lions ground attack rushed for 17 touchdowns, a six-touchdown improvement from 2011.

Linehan's charges in 2011 scored 474 points to set a team record and finish fourth in the league. In addition to establishing the club record for passing yards in a season, Stafford threw a franchise-best 41 touchdowns while topping team all-time charts for completion percentage (63.5) and passer rating (97.2). His 5,000-yard season was fourth in NFL history, and he was one-of-three NFL quarterbacks to finish the season in the top-five of all six major passing categories.

In Linehan's second season in Detroit (2010), the Lions were one of just seven teams to improve at least nine spots in total offense from the previous season (26th to 17th), and in the passing game, the franchise was just one-of-three to improve by nine spots (21st to 12th). Overall, Detroit had the league's fourth-most improved offense, gaining 639 more yards than in 2009.

Upon arriving in Detroit (2009), Linehan was charged with directing the club's offense, while also helping develop the squad's young talent, specifically working with the league's top overall draft pick in Stafford. Despite struggling through injuries, missing six games, Stafford finished his rookie campaign near the top of almost every franchise rookie passing record, placing first in touchdowns (13) and second in passing yards (2,267), completions (201) and completion percentage (54.1).

Prior to landing in Detroit, Linehan spent three seasons (2006-08) as the head coach of the St. Louis Rams. Linehan helped establish St. Louis' rushing attack, utilizing Stephen Jackson, whose 346 carries in 2006 were the most by a Rams player in 20 seasons. Jackson's 1,528 rushing yards were third in the NFC while his 105 first downs and 2,334 all-purpose yards were tops in the NFL to earn his first career Pro Bowl selection. Not just limited to the Rams running game, Marc Bulger flourished under Linehan's offense, passing for a career-best 4,301 in 2006 with 24 touchdowns (second in Rams history). Tory Holt and Isaac Bruce both finished 2006 with 1,000-plus yards and combined for 167 catches.

In 2005 Linehan was the offensive coordinator for the Miami Dolphins, helping improve the total offensive output from 4,960 yards (29th) in 2004 to 5,198 (12th) in 2005. Dolphins rushers Ronnie Brown and Ricky Williams teamed for 1,650 yards and 10 touchdowns. Receiver Chris Chambers earned his first Pro Bowl appearance, catching 82 passes for 1,118 yards and 11 touchdowns that season.

Linehan made his NFL coaching debut in 2002 with the Minnesota Vikings where he was the club's offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach (2002-04). His time with Minnesota paid dividends for the club as the franchise had some of its best offensive outputs in franchise history. The club finished 2002 fourth in team history (second at that point) with 6,192 yards, followed by 2003's mark of 6,294 yards, which was the club record at season's end. Linehan's 2003 number was trumped by his 2004 total of 6,339, which still stands as the franchise single-season record. Both Randy Moss and Daunte Culpepper excelled in Linehan's offense as Moss started 45 games over Linehan's three years and earned two trips to the Pro Bowl (2002-03). In 2002 Moss' 111 catches for 1,632 yards were a personal-best, and he tied a then career-best in 2003 with 17 touchdowns. Culpepper's 2004 season saw him make his second trip to the Pro Bowl while finishing with the then fourth-highest passer rating in league history (110.9) while leading the league with personal-bests in 4,717 passing yards, 8.6 yard-per-play average and 39 touchdowns. After scoring 290 points in 2001, Linehan improved the club's figures to 390 (2002), 416 (2003) and 405 (2004). Again, not limited to the passing game, Linehan improved the Viking rushing output from 1,609 yards and 4.3-yard average in 2001 to a league-best 2,507 yards and 5.3 average in 2002. In 2003 Linehan tapped into a trio of running backs, utilizing Bennett, Onterio Smith and Moe Williams to finish fourth in the NFL with 2,343 yards.

Before coming to the NFL, Linehan coached collegiately for 13 years for teams that played in seven bowl games and won five conference titles. Five of Linehan's quarterbacks were drafted by NFL Teams - Chris Redman and Dave Ragone (Louisville) Brock Huard and Marques Tuiasosopo (Washington) and Doug Nussmeier (Idaho).

Linehan was the offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach at Louisville (1999-01), helping the school to three bowl berths and consecutive Conference USA championships - the first school in conference history to accomplish the feat. In each of his three seasons, one of his quarterbacks earned Conference Player of the Year honors.

Linehan spent five seasons at the University of Washington (1994-98), advancing to four bowl games and winning the 1995 Pac-10 title. He spent four seasons at his alma mater, Idaho, serving as wide receivers coach (1989-90) and offensive coordinator/quarterbacks (1992-93). Sandwiched between his two stints at Idaho was a one-year stop as the quarterbacks coach for UNLV.

Linehan was a quarterback for Dennis Erickson at Idaho (1982-86), winning the Big Sky Championship in 1985 and earning Division I-AA playoff appearances three straight times (1984-86). He signed with the Dallas Cowboys in 1987 as a rookie free agent, but a shoulder injury ended his playing career.

Linehan and his wife, Kristen, have three sons, Matthew, Michael and Marcus.

Scott Linehan – Born September 17, 1963, Sunnyside, Wash. Quarterback Idaho. No pro playing experience. College coach: Idaho 1989-90, UNLV 1991, Idaho 1992-93, Washington 1994-98, Louisville 1999-01. Pro coach: Minnesota Vikings 2002-04, Miami Dolphins 2005, St. Louis Rams 2006-08 (head coach), Detroit Lions 2009-13, Dallas Cowboys 2014-15.

STEVE LONEY

Senior Offensive Assistant

Iowa State
NFL: 14th Year • Cowboys: 2nd Year

The Dallas Cowboys added Steve Loney as their assistant offensive line coach in 2015, a position held by Frank Pollack (2013-14) prior to his promotion to offensive line coach. In 2016 Loney moves to a senior offensive assistant role where he can lend his wealth of knowledge to various facets of the offense.

Loney, who brings 40 years of coaching experience, including 13 years in the NFL, has enjoyed success in developing prolific offensive attacks at both the National Football League and collegiate levels.

As the assistant offensive line coach in 2015 during his first season with the Cowboys, Loney helped coach a unit anchored by three 2015 Pro Bowlers in Tyron Smith (third), Travis Frederick (second) and Zack Martin (second). The starting line also featured veteran mainstay Doug Free, who like Frederick, Martin and Smith, started all 16 games during the season. The line also welcomed undrafted, yet heralded, rookie La'el Collins, who broke into the starting lineup at left guard by Week 6. The offensive line once again paved the way for a 1,000-yard rusher as free agent addition Darren McFadden produced 1,089 yards - his second career 1,000-yard season - on a career-high 239 carries while averaging 4.6 yards-per-carry. He posted five 100-yard games to tie for second in the NFL and give him the second-most in a season in his career. The offense averaged 118.1 rushing yards-per-game to finish ninth in the NFL. The group was also tasked with the challenge of protecting fourth different starting quarterbacks in 2015 following injuries to Tony Romo.

Loney spent the 2014 season as a consultant to the coaching staff at the University of Arkansas. He came to Dallas to help tutor one of the most talented and youngest offensive line groups in the NFL with all five starters, including three Pro Bowl selections, returning from the 2014 squad.

Loney was the Tampa Bay Buccaneers assistant offensive line coach for two seasons (2012-13), during which he helped foster a rushing attack that produced the second-highest individual rushing total in team history - 1,454 yards by Doug Martin - and ranked in the top half of the league in carries of 10-plus yards. He spent 2008-11 as the St. Louis Rams offensive line coach, overseeing a unit that paved the way for Steven Jackson to rush for at least 1,000 yards in each of Loney's four years.

Loney joined the Rams after one season (2007) as Drake University's interim head coach. Before landing at Drake, he was the Arizona Cardinals offensive line coach (2006) after spending four seasons with the Minnesota Vikings. While in Minnesota, Loney worked with offensive coordinator Scott Linehan, coaching the offensive line (2002-04), and upon Linehan's departure, became the offensive coordinator in 2005. Loney tutored the 2003 Vikings offensive line featuring a starting five that appeared in all 16 games as a unit, marking only the fourth time in Vikings history that all five linemen started every game. Although Loney used six different combinations on the offensive line in 2004, the offense finished fourth overall - setting a team record for yardage - and Daunte Culpepper posted the then fourth-best passer rating in NFL history. In his two previous seasons with Minnesota, the Vikings led the NFL in total offense in 2003 and in rushing in 2002.

Loney had three coaching stints at his alma mater, Iowa State, starting off as a graduate assistant in 1974. He was the school's offensive coordinator/offensive line coach from 1995-97 and again from 2000-01. During his third stay with the Cyclones, Loney's offense produced back-to-back bowl seasons in 2000 and 2001. In 2001 the Cyclones averaged 423.1 total yards-per-game and 26.9 points-per-outing. In 2000 his offense averaged 424.4 yards-per-game, the third-best total in school history. In his second stint from 1995-97, he engineered a rush attack that produced the only tailback in NCAA history to rush for a pair of 2,000-yard seasons, Heisman Trophy finalist Troy Davis (1995-96).

Between his last two stops in Ames, Loney served as the offensive coordinator and line coach at the University of Minnesota (1998-99). He was the assistant head coach/wide receivers at Connecticut (1994) after making his NFL coaching debut with the Phoenix Cardinals as an assistant offensive line coach in 1993. He also coached collegiately at Colorado State (1989-92), The Citadel (1984-86), Morehead State (1979-83) and Missouri Western (1975-76). Loney coached two seasons of high school ball at Leavenworth, Kan., High School from 1977-78.

Loney was a letterman on the offensive line at Iowa State in 1973 and earned his bachelor's degree in distributed studies and his master's in secondary school administration.

Loney and his wife, Terri, have three children, Matt, Katie and Kylan, and eight grandchildren.

Steve Loney – Born April 26, 1952, Marshalltown, Iowa. Offensive tackle/offensive guard Iowa State 1970-73. College coach: Iowa State 1974, Missouri Western 1975-76, Morehead State 1979-83, The Citadel 1984-86, Colorado State 1989-92, Connecticut 1994, Iowa State 1995-97, Minnesota 1998-99, Iowa State 2000-01, Drake 2007, Arkansas 2014. Pro coach: Phoenix Cardinals 1993, Minnesota Vikings 2002-05, Arizona Cardinals 2006, St. Louis Rams 2008-11, Tampa Bay Buccaneers 2012-13, Dallas Cowboys 2015.

ROD MARINELLI

Defensive Coordinator/ Defensive Line

California-Lutheran
NFL: 21st Year • Cowboys: 4th Year

Rod Marinelli joined the Dallas Cowboys on January 18, 2013 as the club's defensive line coach, and on January 28, 2014, he was promoted to defensive coordinator. Marinelli has 40 years of coaching experience, including 20 in the NFL.

In his second season as the club's defensive coordinator (2015), Marinelli guided a defense that finished 17th in overall defense (from 19th in 2014) and a pass defense that improved from 26th in 2014 to fifth in 2015. Along the way, linebacker Sean Lee returned from a torn ACL suffered in 2014 to lead the defense with a career-best 156 tackles and his first career Pro Bowl selection, replacing an injured Justin Houston. Second-year pro DeMarcus Lawrence led the team with a career-best 8.0 sacks and was second with 31 pressures. Barry Church notched his third consecutive 100-tackle season, finishing with 136 and rookie Byron Jones led the defense with 12 breakups.

In Marinelli's second season with Dallas, first as the team's defensive coordinator, the Cowboys defense made vast improvements in 2014. As a whole, the unit improved from 32nd in 2013 to 19th in 2014, while finishing second in the league with 31 takeaways - the most by a Cowboys defense since the 2006 squad had 31. The defense boasted three players who finished over the century mark in tackles with Barry Church (110), Rolando McClain (108) and rookie Anthony Hitchens (100) - to mark the first time since the 2010 squad had four. Church topped the defense for the second straight year, the first time a defender has led the team in tackles in back-to-back years since Bradie James did it six straight times (2005-10). Hitchens finished third with 100 tackles - the first rookie defender to record 100 tackles in a season since Roy Williams (127 - 2002) - and it was the fifth-best performance on the all-time tackles list by a Cowboys rookie, according to team statistics. Jeremy Mincey led the squad with six sacks and 39 pressures, while fellow 2014 addition R. McClain posted a team-high nine tackles for loss while finishing second in tackles. Bruce Carter led the team with five interceptions to tie the fourth-most picks by a linebacker in a season in team history.

Marinelli's first season in Dallas got off to a rough start as two-of-the four projected defensive line starters for the 2013 season were limited to one-or-fewer games played for the year, as Anthony Spencer played in only one game due to a lingering knee injury suffered in training camp and Jay Ratliff never played another game for the Cowboys following an injury in training camp that eventually led to his release during the season.

However, Marinelli still made the most of his "rush men" with seven-time Pro Bowler DeMarcus Ware, who shifted to defensive end for the first time in his pro career and collected six sacks, playing in 13 games while fighting nagging injuries all season. Defensive tackle Jason Hatcher led the team and all NFL interior linemen with a career-high 11.0 sacks en route to his first career Pro Bowl.

Marinelli's legendary coaching talent of getting the best out of his players could almost immediately be seen as 18 different players checked in on the defensive line in 2013. The opportunities created due to injury or release helped the Cowboys find free agent gems such as George Selvie - who finished second on the team with a career-best seven sacks - and Nick Hayden, who logged 51 tackles which were seventh on the team.

Prior to arriving in Dallas, Marinelli was with the Chicago Bears for four seasons, serving as the club's assistant head coach/defensive line coach in 2009 followed by three seasons as the club's assistant head coach/defensive coordinator (2010-12). While serving as Chicago's defensive coordinator, Marinelli's unit over three seasons forced the most fumbles (59), intercepted the third-most passes (65), scored the most touchdowns via interception (13) and allowed the fourth-fewest points (904) in the NFL. In the 2012 season alone, the Bears had four defensive players selected as starters in the Pro Bowl (Tim Jennings, Henry Melton, Julius Peppers and Charles Tillman) as the defense ranked first in takeaways (44), third in points allowed (277), fifth in total defense (315.6 yards-per-game) and eighth in rushing defense (101.7) and passing defense (213.9).

In 2011 Marinelli's charges earned four spots on the NFC's Pro Bowl roster as the club sent Lance Briggs, Peppers, Tillman and Brian Urlacher to mark the second straight season the Bears had at least three defenders represented in the all-star game. Chicago finished in the top-10 in six defensive categories, including second in defensive touchdown returns (six) and red zone takeaways (six) and fifth in overall takeaways (31) and against the run (96.4). The Bears pass rush saw Peppers notch 11.0 sacks for the season, including his 100th career takedown, and Melton earned a career-high seven sacks to tie for third in the NFL among defensive tackles.

Marinelli arrived in Chicago on Jan. 10, 2009 after spending three seasons (2006-08) as the Detroit Lions head coach. He spent his first 10 NFL seasons coaching the defensive line in Tampa Bay (1996-2005). In his last four seasons (2002-05) with the Bucs, Marinelli added the duties of assistant head coach.

Through his 10 years with Tampa Bay, the defensive line accounted for 328.5 sacks - tops in the league during that span among NFL lines. In 2002 Tampa Bay led the NFL in total defense (252.8) and points-per-game (12.3) en route to the club's Super Bowl XXXVII win. Tampa Bay's top-five single-season sack totals all came by defensive linemen under Marinelli's tutelage, and in 2000, Warren Sapp's 16.5 sacks established a franchise record and still stands as the third-most in the NFL among defensive tackles since sacks became official in 1982. Another of Marinelli's players, Simeon Rice, holds the club's next three single-season sack figures, totaling 15.5 (2002), 15.0 (2003) and 14.0 (2005). Rounding out the top-five on the Buccaneers single-season sack list is another one of Marinelli's charges, Marcus Jones, who racked up 13.0 in 2000. Additionally, Sapp holds the club's sixth and seventh spot with 12.5 (1999) and 12.0 (2004).

In 2000 Tampa Bay established a franchise record with 55.0 sacks, and Marinelli's defensive linemen accounted for 45.5. Through Marinelli's tenure with the Buccaneers, the defense earned the top-six single-season sack totals in franchise history, and from 1999-2003, Tampa's defenders set an NFL record as the club registered a sack in 69 consecutive games.

Before making the leap to the NFL coaching ranks, Marinelli was an assistant at the collegiate level for 20 years. He coached the defensive line at Southern California (1995), was assistant head coach/defensive line at Arizona State (1992-94) and was the defensive line coach at the University of California (1983-89) before adding the responsibilities of assistant head coach at the school (1990-91). He began his collegiate coaching career at Utah State in 1976 and spent six seasons as the school's defensive line coach (1976-81) before coaching the offensive line and special teams in 1982. His first coaching job was as an assistant at his alma mater, Rosemead, Calif., High School from 1973-75.

Marinelli was an offensive tackle, starting his career at Utah (1968) and finishing at California Lutheran (1970-72). His collegiate career was split by a tour of duty in Vietnam. He earned All-America honors at Cal-Lutheran in 1972.

Marinelli and his wife, Barbara, have two daughters, Christine and Gina, and four grandchildren.

Rod Marinelli – Born July 13, 1949, Rosemead, Calif. Offensive/defensive tackle Utah 1968, offensive tackle California Lutheran 1970-72. No pro playing experience. College coach: Utah State 1976-82, California 1983-91, Arizona State 1992-94, Southern California 1995. University of North Texas
NFL: 7th Year • Cowboys: 7th Year

Keith O'Quinn rejoined the Dallas Cowboys in 2010, but this time as a coach after previously serving as a pro scout with the team for three seasons. He spent the first season as a quality control/offensive assistant coach in 2010, breaking down film of upcoming opponents' defenses and helping compose each week's playbooks. From 2011-12 O'Quinn continued to prepare the weekly playbooks in his quality control role, but also worked closely with the wide receivers. In 2014 O'Quinn left the offensive side of the ball and became the assistant special teams coach, working closely with Rich Bisaccia.

O'Quinn's second season (2015) assisting special teams was as productive as his first as the unit was as dependable as ever. Dan Bailey earned his first career trip to the Pro Bowl, converting 30-of-32 field goals to tie for the NFL lead with a career-best 93.8 percentage. Bailey also rang true on one game-winning kick - the 10th of his career. Chris Jones also had a career-year, setting personal-highs for average (45.2) and net average (42.5 - third in the NFL). Rookie Lucky Whitehead led the team with 452 yards on 110 kickoff returns while Jeff Heath and Kyle Wilber led the coverage units, each with nine tackles.

In his first season in his new role, O'Quinn helped Bailey become the NFL's all-time most accurate field goal kicker after making his 100th career kick six weeks in. For the year, he finished 25-of-29 with a career field goal percentage of 89.8. He also hit all 56 PAT tries, making him a perfect 179-of-179 for his career - third in team history and just one shy of Mike Clark (180) for second). Jones played in all 16 games for the second time in his career and had career-highs for gross (45.4) and net (39.8) averages while dropping 21 inside the 20-yard line. He also had a career-long 64-yard boot. Dwayne Harris led all coverage men with 18 tackles and long snapper Louis-Philippe Ladouceur, who was perfect on every snap for the 10th straight season, earned his first career trip to the Pro Bowl.

In 2013 O'Quinn was the club's assistant wide receivers coach, working with Derek Dooley in the continued development of Dallas' explosive offensive threat Dez Bryant. Bryant finished the year with his first trip to the Pro Bowl, topping 1,000 yards for the second consecutive season, and his 13 touchdowns were tops in his career and tied for third in team history. Bryant also became the fourth Cowboy with multiple and consecutive 10-touchdown seasons.

DeMarco Murray and Tyron Smith each joined Bryant with their first trip to the Pro Bowl while Jason Witten made his ninth. Smith's work on the line helped propel Murray to his first career 1,000-yard season and the first by a Dallas Cowboy since Julius Jones in 2006.

In 2009 O'Quinn left the Cowboys to become the director of pro personnel for the Cleveland Browns. While with the Browns, O'Quinn contributed to Cleveland's player acquisition process by managing pro scouting operations and evaluating players and rosters from the NFL and all other levels of pro football.

His additional responsibilities included advance scouting, free agency preparation and tracking of player movement within the league.

From 2006-08 O'Quinn evaluated players around the NFL and other professional leagues while serving as a pro scout in the Cowboys scouting department.

Prior to joining the pro ranks, O'Quinn spent eight years as a high school and college coach. His last stint in that area was as the assistant football and head baseball coach at Kaufman, Texas, High School. Prior to that, he coached tight ends and special teams at Abilene Christian University from 2003-04. From 2000-03 O'Quinn served as tight ends and assistant offensive line coach at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, Texas. While at HSU, the Cowboys compiled a 28-5 record and won two conference championships. He also worked as the team's academic supervisor.

In 1999 he worked as the run game coordinator and offensive line coach, as well as the head baseball coach, at Bryan Adams High School in Dallas. O'Quinn began his coaching career at Liberty Christian School in Argyle, Texas, serving as a defensive backs and wide receivers coach.

A native of San Antonio, O'Quinn attended James Madison High School and earned a bachelor's of science degree from the University of North Texas, where he played strong safety. He went on to earn a master's degree in counseling and human development from Hardin-Simmons University.

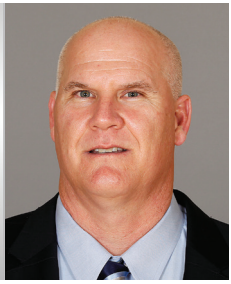
O'Quinn and his wife, Reigan, have three children, Mysti, Brittney and Brock.

Keith O'Quinn – Born July 28, 1973, Pensacola, Fla. Safety North Texas 1991-96. No pro playing experience. College coach: Hardin-Simmons University 2000-02, Abilene Christian University 2003-04. Pro coach: Dallas Cowboys 2010-15.

FRANK POLLACK

Offensive Line

Northern Arizona
NFL: 10th Year • Cowboys: 4th Year



The Dallas Cowboys promoted Frank Pollack to offensive line coach in 2015 following the departure of Bill Callahan and on the wave of a tremendously successful 2014 season.

In Pollack's first season leading the offensive line, three starters were named to the Pro Bowl: left tackle Tyron Smith (third), center Travis Frederick (second) and guard Zack Martin (second). Right tackle Doug Free was a steady and reliable presence, starting all 16 games, While Ron Leary (four starts) and rookie La'el Collins (11) shared the left guard position. Picking up where they left off in 2014, the offensive line opened holes for running backs to gain 1,890 yards on the ground (ninth), and combined with the 2014 rushing total of 2,354 yards, gave the Cowboys their highest total (4,244) in back-to-back seasons since the team gained 4,282 rushing yards over the 1992-93 seasons.

As the unit's young core continued to progress and impress, with Smith, Frederick and Martin all earning consecutive Pro Bowl nods and second-team All-Pro nods, the Cowboys added an athletic and imposing player to the left guard spot with Collins. Collins, a projected first round draft pick in the 2015 NFL draft, saw his stock fall prior to the draft and was left to sign with a team as a rookie free agent, at which point he chose the Cowboys. The big, mauling run blocker joined the starting lineup after the fifth game, and punished opponents in the run game, getting to the second and third levels of the defense and flattening smaller defenders. After Collins was inserted into the lineup, the Cowboys rushing attack averaged 144.5 yards-per-contest and 4.9 yards-per-carry as opposed to 106.6 and 4.1 in the first five.

The unit will look to carry-over their dominance into the 2016 season, as the starting lineup will come back intact and ready to block for a running back group that added the fourth overall pick in the 2016 NFL Draft, running back Ezekiel Elliott out of Ohio State, and Alfred Morris, who has totaled the second-most rushing yards in the NFL since 2012, trailing only Adrian Peterson with 4,713 rushing yards.

With a renewed focus on ground-and-pound football, the Dallas Cowboys ran through their opposition in 2014, compiling 2,354 yards on the ground, the ninth-highest total in team history, and a 12-4 record, advancing to the Divisional Round of the playoffs for the first time since 2009. A heavy investment in building the line through the draft, with three first round picks used on linemen in the past four drafts, allowed Dallas to have its most potent and balanced offensive attack since the 1990s.

Running back DeMarco Murray rushed for a franchise-record and NFL-leading 1,845 yards on his way to AP Offensive Player of the Year honors, while quarterback Tony Romo had the time in the pocket to throw for 34 touchdowns and complete a career-best 69.9 percent of his passes, in large part due to a stout offensive front. The team also led the league with a 32:36 time of possession figure.

Tyron Smith cemented his place as one of the NFL's stalwarts at left tackle, protecting Romo's blindside and earning his second consecutive Pro Bowl nod and a first-team All-Pro selection. Smith also earned NFC Offensive Player of the Month honors for October, becoming only the second offensive lineman (Brian Waters in 2004) in the award's history to be honored.

Frederick grew immensely under Pollack's watchful eye in his second season, guiding the line's protection schemes and anchoring the league's best run blocking unit, earning himself the first Pro Bowl nod of his young career. The final piece of the puzzle came in the form of first round rookie Martin, who made the switch from tackle in college to a day-one starter at guard for the Cowboys, a transition aided in large part to the tutoring of Pollack. Martin brought a tenacity and toughness to the line, and earned first-team All-Pro recognition while earning a Pro Bowl selection for his impact on the field. Martin became the first rookie lineman in Cowboys history to make a Pro Bowl.

The 2013 offensive line laid the groundwork for a Cowboys offense that finished the season fifth in points scored (398), eighth in yards-per- carry (4.48) and allowed the seventh-fewest sacks (35) while also finishing with the fifth-best protection index score (70.7) in the league. The group was anchored by Tyron Smith, who was named to his first Pro Bowl after only allowing 1.5 sacks in 16 starts at left tackle. Frederick was an immediate contributer for the Cowboys offense, starting all 16 games at center and allowing only 3.5 sacks in addition to paving the way for Murray in the run game. The offensive line as a whole improved in 2013, helping the offense finish with the third-fewest negative plays (79) in the league, a total that was 17 fewer than the previous season.

Pollack came to Dallas after a one-year stint as the offensive line coach for the Oakland Raiders. The Raiders finished eighth in passing offense in 2012, fourth in the AFC, and ranked sixth in the AFC in total offense.

Prior to joining the Raiders, Pollack spent five seasons with the Houston Texans as assistant offensive line coach. In 2011 Pollack helped coach a group that blocked for two running backs that gained over 900 rushing yards as the Texans set a franchise record with 153 rushing yards-per-game, good for second in the NFL. The line included second-team All-Pro left tackle Duane Brown and center Chris Myers, who earned his first Pro Bowl berth.

The 2010 offensive line group paved the way for a record-setting season, as the Texans ranked third in the NFL with a franchise-record 6,186 yards of offense and a team-record 290 points while blocking for the NFL's rushing (1,616 yards) and touchdown (18) champion, running back Arrian Foster.

In 2009 the line provided protection for the NFL's leading passer, Matt Schaub, who threw for 4,770 yards and 29 touchdowns. The 2008 line featured the same five starters for all 16 games, marking a first in Texans history. His first year with the Texans and coaching in the NFL came in 2007, as the line allowed just 22 sacks.

Before joining the professional ranks, Pollack began his coaching career at his alma mater, Northern Arizona, in 2005 as the co-offensive line coach. He was promoted to the offensive line coach in 2006, when the NAU offense led the conference in scoring (34.4) and passing (267.2) and finished second in rushing (137.9).

Pollack was a sixth round draft choice by the San Francisco 49ers in 1990. He played two years for the 49ers, 1990-91, before moving to Denver, where he played from 1992-93. He finished his playing career back with the 49ers from 1994-98, having played 90 career games and helping San Francisco to a Super Bowl championship in 1994.

Pollack graduated from Northern Arizona with a degree in advertising in 1990. He was inducted into Northern Arizona's Hall of Fame in 2010.

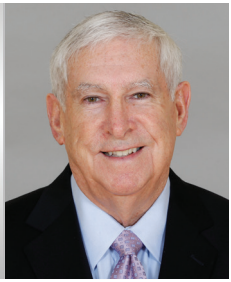
He and his wife, Wendy, have three sons, Frankie, Carter and Wilson.

Frank Pollack – Born November 5, 1967, Camp Springs, Md. Offensive tackle/offensive guard Northern Arizona 1985-89. Pro offensive tackle, offensive guard San Francisco 49ers 1990-91, 1994-98, Denver Broncos 1992-93. College coach: Northern Arizona 2005-06. Pro coach: Houston Texans 2007-11, Oakland Raiders 2012, Dallas Cowboys 2013-15.

MICHAEL POPE

Tight Ends

Lenoir-Rhyne College
NFL: 34th Year • Cowboys: 3rd Year



The Dallas Cowboys named Michael Pope tight ends coach on Jan. 22, 2014. Pope has 46 years of coaching experience, including 33 in the NFL and 32 with tight ends. Prior to his arrival in Dallas, Pope spent 14 seasons as the tight ends coach for the New York Giants.

The 2015 season was another banner year for Jason Witten under Pope's coaching. In his 13th season, he led the team in receptions with 77, finished second with 713 receiving yards and tied for third with three touchdowns. Behind Witten, Pope also received good production in blocking and receiving from veterans Gavin Escobar and James Hanna, while also breaking in rookie Geoff Swaim to the pro game.

In his first season in Dallas in 2014, Pope worked with a tight end group that was utilized more in the run game for the league's second-ranked rushing attack. Despite spending more time blocking, Pope's corps was just as effective in the passing game as Witten finished second on the team in catches (64) and yards (703) and third with five touchdown catches to earn his 10th trip to the Pro Bowl, tying Mel Renfro and Larry Allen for the second-most Pro Bowl appearances in franchise history. Escobar's contribution to the passing game was seen as the second-year player caught four touchdowns on nine receptions.

Pope had two stints with the Giants - first from 1983-91 then from 2000-13 - and his 23 seasons as with the club is more than any other coach in team history. He is also the only coach to have participated in each of the Giants five Super Bowls and the only one to have his name on the four Lombardi Trophies.

In Pope's final season with the Giants, the veteran coach worked in free agent newcomer Brandon Myers along with fifth-year pro Bear Pascoe. Myers started 14-of-16 games and tied for second with four touchdowns, placed third with 47 catches and fourth with 611 yards.

In 2012 Pope successfully worked former Dallas Cowboys tight end Martellus Bennett into the Giants passing game. The free agent finished second on the Giants with 55 catches and five touchdowns and third with 626 yards.

Pope called on his vast experience in 2011 helping a young Jake Ballard become an offensive asset to the Giants. After coming to New York as a rookie free agent in 2010, playing in one game, Ballard's second pro season saw him finish fourth on the roster with 38 catches and four touchdowns.

From 2009-10 Pope had fifth round draft choice Kevin Boss to mentor. Over that span, Boss caught 77 passes for 1,098 yards and 10 touchdowns, emerging as a full-time starter, reliable receiver and formidable blocker in 2008. That season, Boss had a team-best six touchdowns among his 33 catches, and his 45-yard catch-and-run in Super Bowl XLII set up New York's first touchdown.

Pope's time with Jeremy Shockey helped form him into one of the league's best tight ends from 2002-06. Four times Shockey earned a trip to the Pro Bowl, and his 371 career receptions placed him fourth in Giants history. Shockey was the club's first draft pick in 2002, and he established club rookie highs with 74 receptions (also a club tight end record) while leading all league tight ends in receiving yards (894) to become the first rookie tight end to make the Pro Bowl since 1988.

Pope's experience with tight ends was not limited to his last stop in New York as he had four other men to have earned All-Rookie Team honors - Zeke Mowatt (1983), Marv Bavaro (1985), Howard Cross (1989) and Tony McGee (1993). Not only limited to shaping young talent, Pope also aided five veterans to Pro Bowl appearances, including Bavaro, Rodney Holman, Ben Coates, Stephen Alexander and Shockey.

Pope made his return to New York prior to the 2000 season, and he played a big role in rejuvenating the offense en route to an NFC Championship and Super Bowl XXXV berth. He originally came to the N.Y. Giants as a late hire of Bill Parcells (1983-91). He left the Giants to join the Cincinnati Bengals for two seasons, where he served the first as tight ends coach and second as the offensive coordinator. He then joined the New England Patriots in 1994 as running backs coach before moving back to tight ends in 1995. He then traveled south to Washington from 1997-99 as the Redskins tight ends coach.

Pope spent 13 years in the college and high school ranks before making the jump to the NFL. His first coaching position was at Lenoir, N.C., High School in 1964. He also coached at high schools in Charlotte, N.C., Jacksonville, Fla. and Lake Wales, Fla.

Pope's first collegiate stop was with Florida State (1970-74) as receivers coach/recruiting coordinator. He held the same position with Texas Tech from 1975-77. He then coached receivers and kickers at the University of Mississippi (1978-82).

Pope was a quarterback at Lenoir-Rhyne College in Hickory, N.C., where his team won one national championship and was runner-up a second time. His teams compiled a 34-8-3 record, and Pope was an all-conference selection, team captain and MVP as a senior. He is a member of the college's Hall of Fame. Pope's only pro experience came in 1966 as quarterback for the Charlotte Vikings of the World Football League. A shoulder injury ended his career after one season.

Pope and his wife, Lee, have two sons, Travus and Daron and four grandchildren, J.R., Wellington, Vivienne Madison and Bridget.

KENDALL SMITH

Assistant Strength and Conditioning

Florida State
NFL: 4th Year • Cowboys: 4th Year

Kendall Smith enters into his fourth season as an assistant strength and conditioning coach with the Dallas Cowboys. Smith previously spent two seasons training athletes to prepare for the NFL Combine at the World Wide Sports Center in Orlando, Fla., under Tom Shaw.

Prior to working with athletes, Smith himself trained at the facility for two years after a four-year career as a linebacker at Florida State (2007-10).

In his time at FSU, Smith played in all 53 games with starts in each of his final 27 games.

He came out of South Sumter High School in Bushnell, Fla., and was a PrepStar All-American and four-star prospect as the 45th ranked player in the nation by Rivals.com.

Kendall Smith – Born December 3, 1987, Bushnell, Fla. Linebacker Florida State 2007-2010. No pro playing experience. Pro coach: Dallas Cowboys 2013-15.

KYLE VALERO

Assistant Wide Receivers

Florida State
NFL: 7th Year • Cowboys: 3rd Year

Kyle Valero enters his third year in Dallas, and seventh in the NFL, as the club's assistant wide receivers coach, working with Derek Dooley.

Following a foot injury to Dez Bryant in Week 1 that sidelined him for the next five games, Valero, alongside receivers coach Dooley, were challenged with getting increased production from the rest of their receivers in 2015. Terrance Williams stepped up in Bryant's absence, leading the team with a career-high 840 yards while tying for second with a career-best 52 receptions and tying for third with three scores. Cole Beasley also responded to the call, hauling in a team-high five touchdowns while tying for second with 52 receptions and placing third with 536 yards - all-career-highs. Though Bryant returned from injury, he was limited to only nine games, finishing with 31 catches for 401 yards and three touchdowns.

Valero worked very closely with a young receiving core in 2014, and took a very hands on approach with the development of Bryant, who caught 88 passes (12th in the NFL) for 1,320 yards (eighth) and a league-leading 16 touchdowns to earn his second straight Pro Bowl selection. Valero's work with Bryant to fight off physical defenders at the point of the catch was instrumental in the receiver's success, as Bryant recorded 11 plays of 25+ yards, the majority coming on acrobatic, leaping plays over defenders to secure the catch. Second-year receiver Williams also had a break out campaign, finishing fourth in the NFL with 16.8 yards-per-reception and second on the Cowboys with eight touchdown catches. Williams' ability to shake defenders when the play broke down and find an open zone for quarterback Tony Romo was also an important weapon, helping to extend drives and keep the Cowboys offense on the field for a league-leading 32:26.

Valero spent four years as an offensive assistant (2012-13 as assistant wide receivers, 2010-12 as offensive quality control) with the Detroit Lions, where he assisted current Cowboys Offensive Coordinator Scott Linehan. While in Detroit, Valero broke down opponent film and worked on self scouting while also assisting with the club's wide receivers which was highlighted by Calvin Johnson who established the club record for yards in a season with 1,964 in 2012 and added 1,492 yards - fourth in team history - including a club single-game record (second all-time in the NFL) 329 yards in 2013.

Before landing in Detroit, Valero spent two seasons as a student offensive assistant at Florida State (2008-09). He was lined up to be the school's offensive quality control coach for 2010 but took the position with the Lions.

Valero earned a degree in interdisciplinary studies from FSU. He is married the former Ali Baker and they have a daughter, Ava.

Kyle Valero – Born April 24, 1986, Fountain Valley, Calif. College Coach: Florida State 2008-09. Pro Coach: Detroit Lions 2010-13, Dallas Cowboys 2014-15.

TURNER WEST

Defensive Assistant

Memphis
NFL: 3rd Year • Cowboys: 3rd Year

Turner West made his NFL coaching debut in 2014 as a defensive assistant with the Dallas Cowboys. In his role, West has worked with Passing Game Coordinator/Linebackers Coach Matt Eberflus, assisting with the continued development of a young core at the linebacker position.

The linebacker unit saw a resurgence from Sean Lee in 2015 in his return from a knee injury that cost him the entire 2014 season. Moving positions from the middle over to the weakside to further utilize his speed and play making ability, Lee played in 14 games and led the defense with a career-best 156 tackles and 11 tackles for loss to go along with his first career sacks, tallying 2.5 quarterback take downs. His breakout year led to his first Pro Bowl nomination, the only Cowboys defender to earn the honor. Rolando McClain returned for his second season with Dallas, appearing in 11 games and racking up 97 tackles, third on the team, with nine tackles for loss and an interception he returned for a touchdown. Another big contributor was second-year defender Anthony Hitchens, who tallied 85 tackles and two sacks as mainly a base defensive player, leaving the field in most nickel defensive formations. Veterans Kyle Wilber and Andrew Gachkar continued to be solid contributors on special teams and valuable reserve defenders, recording 40 tackles between them. Rookie fourth round draft pick Damien Wilson tied for the team lead in special teams tackles with Wilber and safety Jeff Heath in a solid first season.

The 2014 season saw a group in flux emerge with several key contributors for a vastly improved defense. Newly acquired Rolando McClain realized a resurgence under the Dallas coaching staff, finishing second on the team with a career-high 108 tackles to go along with nine tackles for loss and adding a physical presence to the Dallas defense. Rookie fourth round draft pick Anthony Hitchens was huge for the unit as well, learning to play all three linebacker positions on the fly and making significant contributions at all three, totaling 100 tackles and solidifying the group.

West spent two years (2012-13) as a graduate assistant, working with quarterbacks and wide receivers, at Middle Tennessee State. Before working at MTSU, West spent the spring of 2012 with Samford University as a volunteer coach, helping with quarterbacks. In 2011 West served as an intern at the University of Alabama-Birmingham, working with the school's wide receivers. West played wide receiver at Memphis from 2006-10, where he played for his father, Tommy, who was the school's head coach.

West earned his degree in interdisciplinary studies from Memphis. He started at cornerback and wide receiver as a senior at Briarcrest Christian High School in Germantown, Tenn., where he also lettered all four years.

Turner West – Born December 19, 1987, Germantown, Tenn. Wide receiver Memphis 2006-10. No pro playing experience. College Coach: Alabama-Birmingham 2011, Samford 2012, Middle Tennessee State 2012-13. Pro Coach: Dallas Cowboys 2014-15.

WADE WILSON

Quarterbacks

East Texas State
NFL: 16th Year • Cowboys: 13th Year

Wade Wilson returned to the Dallas Cowboys organization as the quarterbacks coach in 2007 after spending three seasons with the Chicago Bears in the same capacity. A native Texan with football roots that go back to his high school and collegiate career as a quarterback, Wilson is recognized around the NFL as a solid teacher of young quarterbacks. His work with Tony Romo dates back to 2007 when the club's all-time passing yards leader started the first full season of his career. Since Wilson's return to Dallas, Romo has thrown for 31,251 yards and 228 touchdowns on 2,606-of-3,994 passing (65.2) with a rating of 97.2.

The 2015 season was a challenging one for Wilson as he prepared four different quarterbacks to start games for the Dallas - the second time in Cowboys history four different players started at quarterback in a season (2001) and the third time in his career Wilson worked with four different starters in a season (2004, Chicago and 2001, Dallas). Romo was limited to four starts (clavicle) and he was replaced by Brandon Weeden (three), Matt Cassel (seven) and Kellen Moore (two).

Despite undergoing offseason back surgery, Romo took the helm for 15 starts in 2014, missing one with an unrelated back injury, and helped lead the team to a 12-4 record, the club's 22nd Division title - 18th NFC East title - 31st postseason appearance and 34th playoff win. He led the league and established team records, completing 69.9% of his passes and finishing with a rating of 113.2. Romo topped 3,000 yards for the seventh time in his career (3,705) and notched his fourth 30-touchdown season (34). He finished the year fourth in the league in touchdowns, tied for the eighth-fewest interceptions (nine), 14th in yards, 16th in completions (304) and 23rd in attempts (435). He was selected to his fourth Pro Bowl and earned AP second-team All-NFL honors. Romo also took home NFC Offensive Player of the month honors (December), finishing the month a perfect 4-0, completing 83-of-111 passes for a league-best 74.8 completion percentage for 987 yards with a league-high 12 touchdowns, just one interception and a league-high 133.7 rating. Weeden started one contest and saw time in four other games, completing 24-of-41 passes for 303 yards with three touchdowns and two interceptions.

Romo had another solid season under Wilson in 2013, completing 63.9% (342-of-535) for 3,828 yards with 31 touchdowns to just 10 interceptions in 15 starts, missing the finale with a back injury. Romo's +21 touchdown to interception ratio tied his 2011 number as the best in his career, and his 31 touchdown passes was his third and the club's third 30-plus touchdown season. Wilson's work also saw Romo finish fifth in the league in touchdowns and eighth in the league in passer rating (96.7).

Romo started all 16 games at quarterback for the fourth time in his career in 2012 and established single-season club records for passing yards (4,903), attempts (648) and completions (425). He was one-of-five NFL quarterbacks with 600-plus attempts and 425 completions in 2012 and one of the 15 to accomplish the feat in the history of the NFL. His 28 touchdown passes tied for fourth in team history, and despite throwing a career-high tying 19 interceptions, Romo's 65.6 completion percentage was fifth. Kyle Orton made his Cowboys debut late in the fourth quarter against Chicago (10/1) and finished nine-of-10 for 89 yards with one touchdown.

After losing Romo for most of the 2010 season, the quarterback returned to form in 2011 to produce one of his finest statistical seasons as a pro. Romo established a career-high mark with a 102.5 quarterback rating (second in team history), while his 31 touchdowns and 4,184 passing yards were second in his career. Both his attempts (522) and completions (346) totals were good for second in his career while both made the club record books - attempts (third) and completions (second) - and his 66.28 completion percentage was a personal-best and second in team history. The 2011 season was not without challenges as injuries to Romo opened opportunities for both Jon Kitna and Stephen McGee. Kitna subbed for Romo (ribs) in the third quarter at San Francisco (9/18) and McGee entered the Philadelphia (12/24) game following the first offensive series after Romo suffered a bruised hand.

Wilson was challenged in 2010 as he had to prepare three different starting quarterbacks, with one making his first career start, and another seeing his first action since 2008. Romo started the season, but a fractured left clavicle suffered against the N.Y. Giants (10/25) led the way for Kitna to take the helm. Before the injury, Romo completed 148-of-213 passes (69.5%) for 1,605 yards, 11 touchdowns and seven interceptions. In his first action since 2008, Kitna completed 209-of-318 passes (65.7%) for 2,365 yards, 16 touchdowns and 12 interceptions before suffering an abdominal injury at Arizona (12/25). McGee took over for an injured Kitna at Arizona, before making the first start of his career at Philadelphia (1/2/11). On the day, he completed 11-of-27 passes for 127 yards with one touchdown. With the win at Philadelphia, McGee became just the 14th Dallas quarterback to win in his first career start as a Cowboy.

Romo had one of his best seasons under Wilson in 2009 as the quarterback showed great maturity and ball protection. Romo had a single-season career-low nine interceptions while setting then career-highs and club records in completions (347), attempts (550) and yards (4,483) and a then personal-best quarterback rating (97.6). Romo also earned his third Pro Bowl berth while setting a club record for 300-yard passing games in a season with eight. Wilson also worked with NFL veteran and Dallas newcomer, Kitna, who served as Romo's backup, while grooming fourth round draft choice McGee.

Wilson was charged with the task of preparing three different starting quarterbacks in 2008 - Romo, Brad Johnson and Brooks Bollinger - with Romo missing three games due to a broken pinkie finger. Johnson filled in for two starts and Bollinger one start. Romo was unable to put up the same numbers as in Wilson's first year in 2007, but still managed to throw for 300-or-more yards in six games - good for the second-best total in club history. He also had six games with at least three touchdowns and finished with 26 touchdown passes on the year. Romo threw for 3,448 yards in 2008, marking the second consecutive year he topped 3,000 passing yards, becoming the first quarterback to do so since Troy Aikman had three (1995-97).

In his first season back with Dallas, Wilson's work with Romo allowed the first-time starter to rewrite club passing records. Under Wilson, Romo was the league's fifth-rated passer (97.4) - good for third in club annals. His 4,211 passing yards allowed the fifth-year veteran to become the first quarterback in club history to top 4,000 passing yards. Romo completed 335 passes which topped Danny White's single-season franchise record set in 1983 and shattered White's record of 29 passing touchdowns, finishing with 36. Romo also became the first signal caller in franchise history to throw four touchdowns in back-to-back games. On the season, he logged four games with four-or-more touchdown passes, also establishing a club record. Among the many other accomplishments of the young starter, Romo finished 2007 with seven games of 300-or-more passing yards, another team record.

In 2006 Wilson's guidance helped steer fourth-year quarterback Rex Grossman in leading the Bears to an NFC title and a berth in the Super Bowl. Grossman threw 23 touchdown passes in his first full year as a starter, while directing Chicago to a 13-3 regular season record.

Through Wilson's first two seasons in Chicago (2004-05), rookie quarterbacks started 20 of the team's 32 regular season games while posting a 13-7 record. Under Wilson in 2005, rookie Orton was the Bears starter and went on to win nine of his first 12 starts. He finished the year with 10 wins - the most for a rookie drafted in the fourth round-or-later since the common draft was instituted in 1967. His 10 wins were also second for a rookie passer during that span, behind Ben Roethlisberger in 2004. His eight-game win streak was also the second-longest by a rookie passer in the NFL dating back to 1970.

Wilson's first season in Chicago (2004) was marked by four starting quarterbacks each starting at least three games. Grossman began the season, but was lost due to injury. Jonathan Quinn had the next three starts, but rookie Craig Krenzel took over for three games before an injury sidelined him for the season. Chad Hutchinson started the last five games.

Wilson made his coaching debut in Dallas in 2000 after 19 years as an NFL quarterback - including three years with Dallas (1995-97). Along with his playing experience, Wilson has overseen two of the most tumultuous seasons in Dallas quarterback history, coaching six different starting quarterbacks in his 32 games as the club's quarterback coach.

Wilson was forced to prepare four different starting quarterbacks during the 2001 season. It was the first time in club history four different players started at quarterback in the same season. Dallas opened the season with a rookie quarterback for just the third time in franchise history when Quincy Carter took the field against Tampa Bay. Injuries forced Carter from the lineup for eight of the next nine games. During that span, Anthony Wright earned three starts, Clint Stoerner led the club in two games and Ryan Leaf took the helm for three games in November. Carter returned to the lineup in December and guided the Cowboys to three wins in their final six games.

Wilson's first year on the job was just as hectic as four different quarterbacks saw action during the season, the first time in club history four different players saw action at quarterback in the same season. Troy Aikman started 11 games but missed five starts and parts of three other games with injuries. Randall Cunningham relieved Aikman on two occasions and started three other games in his place. His start at Washington (9/18) produced a 27-21 win for Dallas and gave Dave Campo his first win as a head coach and Wilson his first as an assistant. Stoerner, in his rookie year, saw action in one game before giving way to newcomer Wright.

A former Pro Bowler, Wilson joined the coaching ranks after a 19-year playing career. Only four other players in NFL history had played more seasons than Wilson. He was originally an eighth round draft choice (210th overall) of the Minnesota Vikings in 1981 and led them to three playoff appearances, including the 1987 NFC Championship Game, during his 11 years with the team. He also spent time with the Atlanta Falcons (1992), New Orleans Saints (1993-94), Dallas Cowboys (1995-97) and Oakland Raiders (1998-99). He served as Aikman's backup on the Cowboys Super Bowl XXX championship team in 1995.

Wilson completed his career with a 75.6 quarterback rating on 1,391-of-2,428 passing for 17,283 yards. His best statistical year was 1988 when he led the NFC with a 91.5 quarterback rating and completed 204-of-332 passes (61.4%) for 2,746 yards, 15 touchdowns and nine interceptions. During his three years in Dallas, Wilson threw for 585 yards, one touchdown and four interceptions on 58-of-96 passing for a 63.9 rating. He earned one start (at Washington, 12/22/96) in his three-year stay in Dallas.

He was a four-year letterman and three-year starter at East Texas State University, where he earned NAIA All-America and Lone Star Conference MVP honors as a senior while leading the conference in passing and total offense. He played high school football at nearby Commerce, Texas, High School.

Charles Wade Wilson was born on February 1, 1959 in Commerce, Texas. He majored in business management at ETSU, and he has his real estate license and his SEC-series seven registration. Wilson has four children; Travis Wade, Hayden, and twins Coleton and Sophie.

Wade Wilson – Born February 1, 1959, Commerce, Texas. Quarterback East Texas State 1977-80. Pro: Quarterback Minnesota 1981-91, Atlanta 1992, New Orleans 1993-94, Dallas 1995-97, Oakland 1998-99. Pro Coach: Dallas Cowboys 2000-02, Chicago Bears, 2004-06, Dallas Cowboys 2007-15.

MIKE WOICIK (WOY-sick)

Strength and Conditioning Coordinator

Boston College
NFL: 27th Year • Cowboys: 13th Year

The Dallas Cowboys named Mike Woicik the team's strength and conditioning coordinator for the 2011 season. Woicik, now in his second tour with Dallas, served as the club's strength and conditioning coach from 1990-96. Since his first stint with the Cowboys, Woicik headed up the strength and conditioning program for the New Orleans Saints (1997-99) followed by the New England Patriots (2000-10). Woicik now boasts 36 years of strength and conditioning experience, including 26 years in the NFL.

The 2015 season saw a rash of injuries, including to two of the team's top players in Tony Romo (IR-collarbone) and Dez Bryant (foot), but Woicik and his staff were able to assist with the return of Bryant to the field following a five-game absence. Woicik's program also continued to increase the stamina, strength and speed of the entire team throughout the season.

The team's work showed through the strength and conditioning program headed by Woicik in 2014 with their display of stamina throughout games, particularly on offense where Dallas led the league in time of possession with a season average of 32:26. Woicik and his staff were also responsible with assisting in the return of injured players from the previous season, while also continuing to help players who suffered injuries during the 2014 season to return to the field as quick as possible.

In 2013 Woicik's strength and conditioning program helped reduce the number of season-ending injuries and games missed from the previous season. The program also helped to keep the team fresh in the second half of the season, as the Cowboys finished with the highest yards-per-carry average (5.3) in the NFL and the second-most scrimmage yards-per-attempt (8.4) in games 8-16.

In 2012 Woicik was able to implement his off-season strength and conditioning program with the aim of helping rookies adjust to the rigors of the NFL while working to improve and lengthen playing careers for veterans.

In his first year back with Dallas, Woicik and the strength staff were faced with getting players ready for the season during training camp without having an offseason of preparation due to the lockout.

Woicik also brings championship experience with him as he has claimed six Super Bowl Championships in his 25 NFL seasons - three with Dallas and three with New England. Woicik's six Super Bowl rings are more than any player or head coach has earned in NFL history. He has been named to the Professional Football Strength and Conditioning Society's Coach of the Year Award four times (1992, 2004, 2010 and 2014). As a testament to the success of his strength and conditioning programs, from November through the end of the season, Woicik's teams have posted a 168-91 (.649) record - including playoffs.

Woicik was named the Patriots strength and conditioning coach on Feb. 16, 2000 and initiated programs that have contributed to the success of three Patriot Super Bowl teams. Under Woicik, the Patriots were able to sustain lengthy winning streaks during his tenure, compiling an NFL-record 21-game winning streak from 2003-04. In 2007 the Patriots became the first team in the NFL to win 18 consecutive games in a season.

Prior to New England, Woicik spent three seasons under head coach Mike Ditka with the Saints.

Woicik began his NFL coaching career in 1990 with the Cowboys and was voted the NFL's Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year in 1992. In seven seasons with Dallas, the Cowboys claimed 12 playoff wins, three Super Bowl Championships and garnered a 39-19 (.672) record through the second half of the season.

Woicik spent 10 years (1980-89) as the strength and conditioning coach at Syracuse University.

In his first coaching job, Woicik was the graduate assistant at Springfield, Mass., College (1978-80) where he assisted with track and field as well as the weight room. As a member of his collegiate track and field team at Boston College, Woicik set a then school record with a discus throw of 180 feet, five inches, earned All-East honors and qualified for the NCAA championships. He also competed in the shot put and hammer throw.

Woicik was a standout in football and track at Westwood High School. He earned his Bachelor's degree in history from Boston College and Master's in physical education from Springfield.

Mike Woicik – Born Sept. 26, 1956, Baltimore, Md. No college or pro football experience. College coach: Springfield College 1978-80, Syracuse 1980-89. Pro coach: Dallas Cowboys 1990-96, New Orleans Saints 1997-99, New England Patriots 2000-10, Dallas Cowboys 2011-15.

WILL McCLAY

Senior Director College/Pro Personnel

Will McClay is in his 14th season working in the Cowboys Personnel Department, was named the club's assistant director of player personnel in 2013 and senior director of pro/college scouting in 2015. He will continue to oversee the club's NFL Draft process while also playing a role in free agent and trade acquisitions.

In working to improve the club through the 2016 NFL Draft, McClay helped bolster the offensive side of the ball as the club selected running back Ezekiel Elliott with the fourth overall pick. The club also added to the defense with the next three picks, securing linebacker Jaylon Smith (Notre Dame, second round), defensive tackle Maliek Collins (Nebraska, third round) and defensive end Charles Tapper (Oklahoma, fourth round). The Cowboys then drafted a quarterback for just the fifth time since 1989 when they selected Dak Prescott (Mississippi State) with their second fourth round pick. Dallas closed out the draft with four sixth round picks, first selecting cornerback Anthony Brown (Purdue), then safety Kavon Frazier (Central Michigan) and running back Darius Jackson (Eastern Michigan). With their final pick, the Cowboys added collegiate basketball player Rico Gathers (Baylor) to work him as a tight end.

In his second NFL Draft in 2015, McClay helped Dallas continue its youth movement by securing two first round talents with just one first round pick - defensive back Byron Jones (27th overall) and pass rusher Randy Gregory (second round, 60th overall). Leading up to the team's rookie minicamp, the club also secured a projected first rounder in offensive lineman La'el Collins. The third round saw Dallas add Chaz Green to continue to add youth and depth to the offensive line. The club later added Laurence Gibson with its second seventh round choice. Defensively, the club added a pair of linebackers - Damien Wilson (fourth round, 127th) and Mark Nzeocha (seventh, 236th) - and a defensive end in Ryan Russell (fifth, 163). Dallas then traded a 2016 sixth rounder to secure tight end Geoff Swaim (246th).

McClay oversaw his first NFL Draft in 2014 as the club continued to infuse the roster with talented building blocks for the present and future. With their first pick, the Cowboys drafted Dame All-American offensive lineman Zack Martin (16th overall), marking the third time in four years the club selected an offensive lineman in the first round, to pair with fellow first round picks Tyron Smith (2011) and Travis Frederick (2013). In the second round, the Cowboys packaged their original second (47th overall) and third round (78th overall) draft choices and moved up in a trade with Washington to select DeMarcus Lawrence (34th overall) - one of the top pass rushing defensive ends in the draft. Without a third round pick, the Cowboys took linebacker Anthony Hitchens, in the fourth round (119th overall), and then traded up in the fifth round to select Devin Street - Pittsburgh's all-time leading pass catcher - with their next pick (146th overall). Without a sixth round selection, the Cowboys had a busy seventh round with five selections in the draft's final round, taking defensive end Ben Gardner (231st overall), linebacker Will Smith (238th overall), safety Ahmad Dixon (248th overall), nose tackle Ken Bishop (251st overall) and cornerback Terrance Mitchell (254th overall).

In his earlier role as the director of football research (2011-13), McClay evaluated players on other NFL rosters and in other leagues, scouting Cowboys opponents using advanced scouting and analytic methods while also overseeing the scouting department's technology tools.

McClay was a pro scout (2002-08), then pro scouting coordinator (2009-10), and he was responsible for sifting through free agents and locating some of the team's most notable signings before and during the season. Two of those signings were wide receiver Laurent Robinson - who was signed early in the 2011 season and went on to lead the team with 11 touchdowns - and George Selvie in 2013 who was signed during training camp and went on to start all 16 games at defensive end while tying for the most tackles for loss (seven) and logged the second-most sacks on the team (seven).

McClay helped uncover a pair of defensive starters with the free agency signing of Jeremy Mincey, who led the club with 6.0 sacks and 39 pressures in 2014, and linebacker Rolando McClain, who was acquired in a trade with Baltimore. McClain stepped in to finish second on the team with a career-best 108 tackles, starting in place of Sean Lee (IR-knee) for the entire 2014 season. In 2015 he was instrumental in acquiring Brice Butler after the injury to Dez Bryant.

McClay originally came to Dallas as the defensive coordinator for the Dallas Desperados (2002-03) of the Arena Football League. He was the club's head coach for five seasons (2004-08), helping lead them to a league-best 15-1 record and consecutive Eastern Division Championships (2007-08). In his five seasons as head coach, he led the Desperados to a 54-24-1 record and was named AFL Coach of the Year in 2006.

Prior to joining the Cowboys and Desperados, McClay was the assistant director of pro scouting for the Jacksonville Jaguars. In his only season (2001) with the Jaguars, he was charged with scouting NFL teams in the preseason and advance scouting work during the season. Before joining the Jaguars, he served as the player personnel director of the XFL's Orlando Rage, as well as a consultant and scout, in the spring of 2001. The Rage finished the season 8-2 before falling in the first round of the playoffs.

Prior to moving into the personnel side of professional football, McClay spent 11 seasons in the AFL as a player and coach. He served as defensive coordinator and director of player personnel for the Grand Rapids Rampage in 1998. He added the title of assistant head coach in 1999, when the Rampage improved to an 8-6 record after posting a 3-11 campaign the previous season. In 1997 he was the defensive coordinator and director of player personnel for the Anaheim Piranhas after serving as the defensive coordinator for the Milwaukee Mustangs in 1995 and the Florida Bobcats in 1996.

McClay was the secondary and special teams coach of the Detroit Drive in 1993, helping the team reach the ArenaBowl. From 1989-92 he was a wide receiver/defensive back for the Drive, helping lead them to three ArenaBowl titles in four appearances.

McClay was a four-year letterman and team captain as a defensive back at Rice University (1985-88), starting every game of his collegiate career. He graduated in 1990 with a degree in political science. McClay was born Oct. 13, 1966 in Memphis, Tenn. He has one son, Gabriel.

TOM CISKOWSKI (sis-COW-ski)

Senior Personnel Executive

Tom Ciskowski is the Dallas Cowboys senior personnel executive. He headed up the scouting department's work for the NFL Draft from 2008-13.

In his first draft as the top scout in 2008, he helped the organization address two positions of concern in landing a running back and a cornerback with Felix Jones and Mike Jenkins heading the list as two first round selections. The club also gained two additional picks in the 2009 NFL Draft through trades.

Despite trading out of the second round in 2009 to leave Dallas without a first day selection, Ciskowski's second draft saw the club select 12 players - the most selections the club made since the draft was shortened to seven rounds in 1994.

The team landed two players that they had high first round grades on in the 2010 NFL Draft in wide receiver Dez Bryant (24th overall) and linebacker Sean Lee (55th overall).

In 2011 Dallas selected an offensive lineman, Tyron Smith, with the ninth pick in the draft, the fourth time in club history Dallas selected an offensive lineman in the first round. The Cowboys acquired an athletic linebacker in Bruce Carter (40th) and a do-it-all running back in DeMarco Murray (71st) in the second and third rounds, respectively.

The Cowboys traded up in the first round of the 2012 NFL Draft to land arguably the best corner in the draft in Morris Claiborne with the sixth overall pick. The team did not have a second round choice due to the trade, but added a big, athletic defensive end, Tyrone Crawford (81st), in the third round. On the final day of the draft the club added two linebackers, Kyle Wilber (113st) and Caleb McSurdy (222nd), a safety in Matt Johnson (135th), a wide receiver, Danny Coale (152nd) and tight end James Hanna (186th).

In 2013 Ciskowski guided a draft that helped build a foundation of youth on the offense with the selection of center Travis Frederick (31st). Dallas traded out of the 18th spot (to 31) and picked up the 74th pick. In the second round, a pass-catching tight end was netted in Gavin Escobar (47th). Dallas' two picks in the third round were wide receiver Terrance Williams (74th) and safety J.J. Wilcox (80th). In the fourth round, cornerback B.W. Webb (114th) was selected, followed by running back Joseph Randle (151st) in the fifth and linebacker DeVonte Holloman (185th) in the sixth.

Ciskowski originally joined the Cowboys scouting department in 1992 and finished his seventh season as the club's assistant director of college scouting in 2007. He observed first-hand the top college prospects and also helped organize the club's entire college scouting operation. In his first season with the Cowboys, he served as a scout administered by the BLESTO Scouting Combine. Ciskowski became an area scout in 1993, working in the west for five years before moving to the southeast from 1998-2000.

Before becoming a scout, Ciskowski spent 15 years in the coaching ranks, the first two (1977-78) as an assistant at Pawhuska, Okla., High School. In 1979 he moved into the college coaching ranks, becoming the secondary coach at East Central University in Ada, Okla. While at ECU, he earned his master's degree in athletic administration. The following year, he moved to Arizona State University, working with the defensive line as a graduate assistant for the 1980-81 seasons.

In 1982 Ciskowski moved to Oklahoma State, joining the staff of former Dallas offensive line coach Tony Wise, before becoming the offensive line and tight end coach at Wichita State in 1984. After that season, Ciskowski joined the University of Miami as a volunteer assistant, working with former Dallas defensive coordinator Butch Davis and the defensive line.

From 1986-89 Ciskowski worked with the offensive and defensive lines, first at New Mexico State for two seasons, and then at UNLV for two more. Before coming to Dallas, he coached the defensive line at College of the Sequoias in Visilia, Calif., from 1990-91. Thirteen of the team's players went on from the junior college to play Division I football in 1992.

A native of Medford, Okla., Ciskowski attended Medford High School and earned his bachelor's degree from Cameron University, where he also played football. He and wife, Jan, live in Coppell, Texas, with sons, Jeremy and Joshua, and daughter Julianna.

In 2012 Vital was the Falcons associate director of player personnel. During his time in Atlanta, Vital worked closely with General Manager Thomas Dimitroff on most college scouting directives, including evaluating the top-150 college prospects in his role as a national scout. Before becoming an NFL scout, Vital was director of player personnel for the Montreal Machine of the World League of American Football for two years (1990-91).

A native of Loreauville, La., Vital graduated from Nicholls State and as a running back, was selected in the seventh round (185th overall) of the 1985 NFL Draft by the Washington Redskins. PRO: Dan Bailey signed with Dallas as an undrafted free agent just prior to training camp in 2011 to provide competition at place kicker. He became one-of-three undrafted free agents to make the club out of training camp that season and went on to have one of the best kicking seasons in franchise and league history by a rookie. While finishing the season 32-of-37 (86.5%) on field goals and perfect on all 39 PAT tries, Bailey was named to the Pro Football Writers of America All-Rookie Team, set a club rookie record for most field goals made in a season (32), tied Chris Boniol for the second-most consecutive field goals made (26) and set a club rookie game record for field goals made (six). His second pro season was much of the same as he missed just two field goals all season - both from 50-plus yards - while also tying for third in a season in club history with three field goals made of 50-or-more yards. His 93.5 (29-of-31) field goal percentage in 2012 was second in a season in club history while his 29 made tied for fourth. Bailey was again a model of consistency and near perfection in 2013, finishing the year 28-of-30 (93.3 - third in a season in team history) on field goals and perfect on all 47 PAT tries. He also set the single-season club mark for 50-yard field goals (six) and has the most in a career in Cowboys history (16). For his work in 2013, Bailey was rewarded with a seven-year contract extension. Bailey continued to be automatic through 2014, ringing true on 25-of-29 field goals and all 47 PATs. From 2013-14, Bailey connected on a team-record 30 consecutive field goals. The 2015 season was no different for the league's all-time leading kicker as he went 30-of-32 for an NFL-high tying 93.8 percentage to earn his first trip to the Pro Bowl. Southern California • FA for '15
Games/Starts: 2015-15/1; Career-54/23
Postseason: 2015-0/0; Career-0/0

PRO: A former tight end that converted to tackle at USC, Charles Brown came to Dallas with the hopes of solidifying the Cowboys heavily utilized swing tackle position. An athletic lineman that relies on his foot quickness, agility and ability to recover and sustain blocks more than raw power, Brown was originally a second round draft choice (64th overall) by New Orleans in the 2010 NFL Draft. After spending three years refining his craft as a reserve on the Saints line, Brown earned a starting spot in 2013 as the team's left tackle, starting 14-of-16 games up front for an explosive offensive attack. After battling injuries for much of his career, Brown left the Saints in 2014, signing with the N.Y. Giants. He was released mid-season, and spent 2015 training camp with the N.Y. Jets before his release at the final cut date. He signed with Dallas after opening weekend then saw time in 15 games with one start, playing in the jumbo package and on field goal units. Brown has seen action in 54 games throughout his career, starting 23.

PRO: Regarded by many as one of the top wide receivers and all-around collegiate athletes in the 2010 NFL Draft class, Bryant found a home with the Cowboys when Dallas traded its 27th overall pick along with a third round choice to New England for the 24th overall pick and a fourth round selection to move up to take the wide receiver. Bryant did not disappoint in his injury-shortened rookie season as he finished second all-time among club rookies with 45 catches, third with six receiving touchdowns, tied for fifth with eight overall touchdowns and fifth with 564 yards. As was the case at Oklahoma State, Bryant also proved to be a threat on special teams as he returned two punts for touchdowns, including a 93-yarder, averaged 14.3 yards-per-punt return and 22.4 yards-per-kickoff return. In his second pro season, Bryant finished second on the team in all receiving categories with 63 catches for 928 yards and nine touchdowns. He also led the team with 103 yards on 15 punt returns for a 6.9-yard average. The 2012 season was a breakout season for the receiver as Bryant led the team with a career-best 1,382 yards and 12 touchdowns while finishing second with 92 catches. His 1,382 yards were sixth in the NFL and fourth in a season in club history while his 12 touchdowns were third in the NFL and tied for fifth in team books. Bryant established a career-best with 224 yards against New Orleans (12/23) - the 10th 200-yard outing in franchise history. His mid-season emergence led to a seven-game touchdown streak to tie the longest in club history as he racked up the most touchdowns (10) and the third-most yards in the league through the final eight games of the season. In 2013 Bryant continued to improve into a dominant receiver, leading the team in all receiving categories with 93 catches (a career-high), 1,233 yards and 13 touchdowns - a then career-high and previously tied for third in a season in team history. Bryant finished the season with a touchdown in each of the last five games, and he earned his first career trip to the Pro Bowl for his efforts in 2013. The 2014 season added to the evolution of one of the best wide receivers in the NFL as Bryant led the league with a club-record 16 touchdowns to earn his second straight Pro Bowl selection along with All-Pro honors, while placing eighth with his third straight 1,000-yard season (1,320) and 12th with 88 catches. The two-time Pro Bowl receiver signed a five-year contract extension prior to training camp in 2015 but struggled with a foot injury through the season, playing in only nine games after breaking his foot in the season opener. He finished his sixth season with 31 catches for 401 yards and three touchdowns. The native Texan (attended Lufkin High School, 175 miles southeast of Dallas) carries on the strong tradition of Cowboys receivers wearing the number 88, as both Drew Pearson and Michael Irvin had storied careers in the number.

BRICE BUTLER

19 • Wide Receiver

6-3 • 220 • 1/29/90
San Diego State • T(OAK) for '15
NFL: 4th Year • Cowboys: 2nd Year
Games/Starts: 2015-7/2; Career-32/4
Postseason: 2015-0/0; Career-0/0

PRO: Brice Butler was acquired by Dallas in a trade with Oakland after a foot injury suffered by Dez Bryant in Week 1 of 2015 left the Cowboys thin at the wide receiver position. Butler brings an array of talents to the Cowboys, most notably his speed and athleticism, which was displayed by his 4.36 40-yard dash time, a 6.6 mark in the 3-cone drill, a 10'9 broad jump, and a 39-inch vertical - stats that would have landed him in the top-three of all drills at the Combine - at his Pro Day in 2013. As a reserve receiver with the Raiders, Butler played in 25 games and caught 30 passes for 383 yards with two touchdowns. Despite finishing with only 21 catches in 2014, Butler tied for fourth on the Raiders with two receptions of 20-plus yards, working as a down field target for the offense. He was limited by a hamstring injury in his first season in Dallas and played in seven games with two starts, but will look to break through in three and four receiver sets with the Dallas offense in 2016.

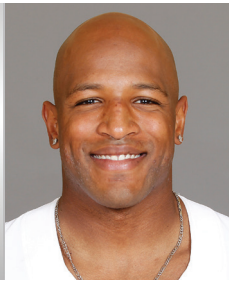
Toledo • FA for '10
NFL: 7th Year • Cowboys: 7th Year
Games/Starts: 2015-15/15; Career-78/51
Postseason: 2015-0/0; Career-2/2



PRO: After impressing coaches through the 2010 preseason by finishing fourth on the team with 15 tackles and tying for second with three special teams tackles, Barry Church was one-of-four undrafted free agents to make the roster coming out of training camp. Through his rookie season, Church continued to display his playmaking ability as a stalwart on special teams units and as a reserve in the defensive backfield. Church finished the year fourth on the squad with 16 special teams tackles while also contributing 14 tackles on defense. Church continued his development through 2011 and added 10 special teams tackles while seeing more time in the defensive rotation, tallying 24 tackles, with two for losses. He came into 2012 as the club's starting strong safety, but that only lasted three games as he tore his Achilles in the home opener. Coaches saw enough promise and improvement in Church's play and gave him a four-year contract extension following his injury. He resumed the starting role in 2013 and flourished, leading the team with a career-best 147 tackles, starting all 16 games. Church again led the defense in tackles, becoming the first Cowboy since Bradie James (2005-10) to lead the defense in tackles in consecutive seasons, posting 110 in 2014 while serving as one of the team captains. Church had another stout tackling season in 2015, finishing second with 136 tackles (third consecutive 100-tackle effort) and tied for fourth with five tackles for losses. He missed the season finale with a broken arm, but will return in 2016 healthy as the veteran leader in the secondary.

PRO: The Dallas Cowboys traded up eight spots in the 2012 NFL Draft in order to select the top defensive player available in Morris Claiborne. In Claiborne, Dallas got the 2011 Jim Thorpe Award winner who proved himself not only in man coverage, but also with his ability to handle kick return duties. LA'EL COLLINS (luhEL)

71 • Guard

6-4 • 315 • 7/26/93
Louisiana State • FA for '15
NFL: 2nd Year • Cowboys: 2nd Year
Games/Starts: 2015-12/11; Career-12/11
Postseason: 2015-0/0; Career-0/0

PRO: The Dallas Cowboys signed La'el Collins as a rookie free agent after he had to pull out of the 2015 NFL Draft for personal reasons. Despite being the rookie newcomer on a line that opened holes for the 2014 rushing champion (DeMarco Murray, 1,845 yards), Collins' hard work early in the season paid off as he took over the starting left guard spot six games in. By season's end, Collins played in 12 games with 11 starts, helping Darren McFadden to his second career 1,000-yard season, and giving Dallas glimpses of yet another young and talented piece to a dominating offensive front.

TRANSACTION SUMMARY:

5/7/15: Signed with Dallas as a rookie free agent.

2015:

- Played in 12 games with 11 starts as a rookie free agent, helping Darren McFadden to his second career 1,000-yard season, including five games with 100-or-more yards - second in his career.
- Made his NFL debut rotating series at left guard with Mackenzy Bernadeau as Ronald Leary (groin) was sidelined for the win at Philadelphia (9/20).
- Made his first career NFL start with Leary (groin) sidelined against Atlanta (9/27), and helped the Dallas ground game average 6.0 yards-per-carry (21 for 127) with four touchdowns - the most since four at Arizona (11/15/98).
- Took over the starting spot in place of Leary at the N.Y. Giants (10/25) and helped the offense rush for 233 yards with one touchdown on 41 carries (5.7) as the unit racked up 460 total yards.
- Against Seattle (11/1) helped open holes for a running game that averaged 4.3 yards-per-carry (30 for 129) while yielding one sack on 27 dropbacks.
- Against Philadelphia (11/8) helped the offense rack up 411 yards as McFadden topped 100 rushing yards (117) and two receivers (Cole Beasley, 112, and Dez Bryant, 104) both topped 100 receiving yards to mark the first time since 1999 Dallas had a pair of 100-yard receivers along with a 100-yard rusher.
- Dallas rushed for 166 yards on 38 carries (4.4) and McFadden topped 100 yards (129) in Tony Romo's return at Miami (11/22). The quarterback was protected on 18-of-28 passes for 227 yards with two touchdowns and two interceptions while being sacked twice. The offense held onto the ball for 38:50 and converted 50.0% (seven-of-14) of its third down chances.
- Blocked for an offense that rushed for 171 yards and one touchdown on 20 carries (8.6), including long runs of 50, 45 and 22 yards at Green Bay (12/13).
- McFadden rushed for his fifth 100-yard game and the line blocked for Kellen Moore's NFL debut after he stepped in for Matt Cassel at the beginning of the second quarter against the N.Y. Jets (12/19).
- In Moore's first career start, did not yield a sack on 31 attempts as the running game averaged 4.8 yards-per-carry (25 for 121) at Buffalo (12/27).
- Inactive with an ankle injury for the season finale at Washington (1/3/16).

COLLEGE:

- One of the top offensive linemen in LSU history, capping off his career with the Jacobs Blocking Trophy as the top offensive lineman in the SEC as voted by league coaches.
- Three-year starter at left guard (sophomore) then left tackle (junior and senior).

- Was a 2014 USA Today and AP second-team All-America pick and first-team All-SEC by coaches and AP.
- Started all 13 games at left tackle for LSU as a senior and was the recipient of the Charles McClendon Award for the most outstanding player on the team.

PRO: Lance Dunbar signed with Dallas as a rookie free agent following the 2012 NFL Draft and spent the first month of his rookie season on the club's practice squad. With a foot injury to DeMarco Murray, Dunbar was activated on Oct. 8 and played in 12 games as a rookie. Dunbar returned in 2013 as the primary backup to Murray and showed flashes of his abilities before a knee injury suffered on Thanksgiving Day ended his season. He returned in 2014 in full health and was used as a change-of-pace back behind Murray - the league's rushing leader. With the departure of Murray in free agency, Dunbar entered 2015 with the opportunity to see more playing time and provide the offense with more versatility but a knee injury suffered four games in put an end to his season. He looks to rebound in 2016 and give the offense a spark in the running game and passing game that was missing in his absence.

PRO: Looking to further evolve the offense, the Dallas Cowboys added another weapon to their arsenal with the second round selection (47th overall) of tight end Gavin Escobar in the 2013 NFL Draft. As a rookie, Escobar served as an understudy to the Cowboys all-time receptions leader, Jason Witten, and came on as a red zone threat late in the season, finishing with nine catches for 134 yards and two touchdowns. In 2014 he matched his catch total from his rookie year (nine) and doubled his touchdown total (four). The 2015 season saw him finish with eight catches for 64 yards before a torn Achilles put an end to his year. Following surgery and rehab, Escobar hopes to return to full health and continue to increase his playing time and contribute to the offense in both the running game and passing game. His height and size make him an intriguing target in the red zone where as a collegian, he caught 17 career touchdowns - including 13 in his final two seasons (2011-12) to tie for second in the country among tight ends during that time.

- Caught two passes for 32 yards, including a career-long tying 25-yarder, at Chicago (12/9).

PRO: After trading down to get the 31st (from 18th) and 74th overall picks in the 2013 NFL Draft, the Dallas Cowboys invested in the foundation of the offensive line for years to come when they selected center Travis Frederick in the first round. As a rookie, Frederick earned the starting nod at center in training camp and became the first rookie to start a game at center for Dallas since Al Johnson in 2004 and the first rookie center to start a season opener for the Cowboys since Andre Gurode in 2002. He went on to start all 16 games - the first rookie center in club history to accomplish the feat - and continued to improve as the season continued. Frederick was a key piece to the line in his second season as he started all 16 games, earning his first Pro Bowl and All-Pro honors. He centered an offense that had the league's leading rusher (DeMarco Murray - 1,845 yards), receiving touchdowns leader (Dez Bryant - 16) and the most efficient passer (Tony Romo - 69.9 completion percentage and 113.2 quarterback rating). He then made his second straight trip to the Pro Bowl following the 2015 season, starting all 16 games in front of another 1,000-yard rusher in Darren McFadden. Through his collegiate and prep career, Frederick displayed position flex, earning starts at both center and guard while at Wisconsin and playing offensive and defensive tackle while at Big Foot High School in Walworth, Wisc.

TRANSACTION SUMMARY:

4/25/13: Drafted in the first round (31st overall) by Dallas.

2015:

- Selected to play in his second straight Pro Bowl after starting all 16 games for the third straight season, allowing McFadden to rush for his second career 1,000-yard season. It was the first time in team history the Cowboys had two different rushers top 1,000 yards in consecutive seasons.
- In the season-opening win over the N.Y. Giants (9/13), the line did not allow a sack on 45 drop backs as Tony Romo completed 80.0% of his passes (36-of-45) for 356 yards with three touchdowns and two interceptions.
- Helped the offense control the clock for 40:25 as the line yielded three sacks on 37 dropbacks as Dallas passers (Romo and Brandon Weeden) completed 73.5% (25-of-34) of their passes in the win at Philadelphia (9/20).
- Against Atlanta (9/27) blocked for an offense that averaged 6.0 yards-per-rush with four rushing touchdowns - the most by a Cowboys offense since four at Arizona (11/15/98). All four came in the first half, the second time in franchise history Dallas had four rushing touchdowns in a half - first half against the N.Y. Giants, 12/1/63.
- Against Philadelphia (11/8) helped the offense rack up 411 yards as McFadden topped 100 rushing yards (117) and two receivers (Cole Beasley, 112, and Bryant, 104) both topped 100 receiving yards to mark the first time since 1999 Dallas had a pair of 100-yard receivers along with a 100-yard rusher.
- Dallas rushed for 166 yards on 38 carries (4.4) and McFadden topped 100 yards (129) in Romo's return at Miami (11/22). The quarterback was protected on 18-of-28 passes for 227 yards with two touchdowns and two interceptions while being sacked twice. The offense held onto the ball for 38:50 and converted 50.0% (seven-of-14) of its third down chances.

Murray also was only the fourth rusher with four 100-yard games with at least one touchdown in each of the first four games of a season.

PRO: The Cowboys drafted Doug Free in the fourth round (122nd overall) of the 2007 NFL Draft with the hopes of him developing into a key player on the offensive line. He spent the first three seasons of his career learning from some of the best in the NFL, including 12-year veteran Flozell Adams and former first round draft picks Marc Colombo and Leonard Davis. The 2010 season was a welcomed change for Free, and a surprise outcome for the Cowboys, as he became the club's starting left tackle following the release of Adams in the offseason. After starting seven games at right tackle in 2009 in place of an injured Colombo, Free started all 16 games at left tackle in 2010. He again manned the left tackle position in 2011, starting all 16 games and helping the club to it's second-best offensive yardage output in the history of the organization (6,008 yards). Free then made the move back to right tackle where he started all 16 games of the 2012 season, helping the club to its third-best offensive yardage output in team history (5,994) and its best passing yardage (4,729). Free again manned the right side in 2013 and 2014 and put together solid seasons that led to a three-year contract extension prior to the start of 2015 free agency, despite starting 11 games in 2014, missing five and both playoff contests with foot injuries. He returned in 2015 to start all 16 games for the fifth time in his career.

TRANSACTION SUMMARY:

3/7/15: Signed a three-year contract extension through 2017.
7/29/11: Signed a four-year contract extension through 2014.
4/29/07: Drafted in the fourth round (122nd overall) by Dallas.

2015:

- Manned the right tackle spot for all 16 games, marking the fifth time in his career he started every contest.
- In the season-opening win over the N.Y. Giants (9/13), the line did not allow a sack on 45 drop backs as Tony Romo completed 80.0% of his passes (36-of-45) for 356 yards with three touchdowns and two interceptions.
- Helped the offense control the clock for 40:25 as the line yielded three sacks on 37 dropbacks as Dallas passers (Romo and Brandon Weeden) completed 73.5% (25-of-34) of their passes in the win at Philadelphia (9/20).
- Against Atlanta (9/27) blocked for an offense that averaged 6.0 yards-per-rush with four rushing touchdowns - the most by a Cowboys offense since four at Arizona (11/15/98). All four came in the first half, the second time in franchise history Dallas had four rushing touchdowns in a half - first half against the N.Y. Giants, 12/1/63.

- Dallas rushed for 166 yards on 38 carries (4.4) and McFadden topped 100 yards (129) in Romo's return at Miami (11/22). The quarterback was protected on 18-of-28 passes for 227 yards with two touchdowns and two interceptions while being sacked twice. The offense held onto the ball for 38:50 and converted 50.0% (seven-of-14) of its third down chances.

- In the win over New Orleans (9/28), blocked for 190 yards and two scores on 35 runs (5.4) and allowed Murray to rush for 149 yards and both scores on 24 carries (6.5) to become the seventh NFL rusher, third Cowboy, with 100 yards in four straight games to open the season. Murray also was only the fourth rusher with four 100-yard games with at least one touchdown in each of the first four games of a season.

- Allowed Murray to join Brown (1958) as the only two men in NFL history with six straight 100-yard games to open a season after Murray rushed for 115 yards and a touchdown at Seattle (10/12). The line also allowed Dallas to control the clock with 37:39 of offense (20:05 in the first half). Injured his foot late in the fourth quarter and did not return.
- Missed games against the N.Y. Giants (10/19), against Washington (10/27) and Arizona (11/2) with the foot injury but returned at Jacksonville (11/9) in London to lead Murray to his ninth 100-yard game of the season (19 for 100). Randle also rushed for 56 yards on seven carries with a career-long 40-yard touchdown run.

PRO: With the loss of Martellus Bennett in 2012 free agency, the Cowboys were in need of a young, talented tight end and found that with their selection of James Hanna in the sixth round (186th overall) of the 2012 NFL Draft. Hanna's impressive mixture of size, speed and hands helped him earn playing time in two and three tight end sets as a rookie. Hanna finished his rookie season playing in all 16 games with two starts, and he caught eight passes for 86 yards. He also saw time on special teams coverage units and finished fifth on the squad with 10 tackles. In his second season, Hanna earned eight starts in 16 games, seeing time mainly as a blocker, but caught 12 passes for 73 yards on the season. In his third season, Hanna started 12 of the 16 games he played and was primarily used as a blocker for the league's leading rusher as the Dallas offense finished second in the league in rushing (2,354). He also was second on the team with 12 special teams stops. The 2015 season was much of the same for the consistent all-around tight end as Hanna started seven of the 14 games he played and caught nine passes for 79 yards while helping to block for another 1,000-yard rusher (Darren McFadden).

PRO: With an immediate need for an impact player at right defensive end, the Dallas Cowboys packaged their original second (47th overall) and third round (78th overall) draft choices and moved up in the second round of the 2014 NFL Draft in a trade with Washington to select DeMarcus Lawrence with the 34th overall pick. He was given the opportunity to compete for a starting spot during his first training camp, but a broken foot suffered in practice landed him on the Reserve/Injured-Returnable list, forcing him to miss the first eight games of the season. He played in seven regular season games, missing one with an injured chest, and both playoff games, tallying 11 tackles, one for a loss and six pressures. He had two sacks, two fumble recoveries and a forced fumble in the post-season. In 2015 Lawrence earned the starting nod at end, and finished with 13 starts in 16 games played, leading the team with 8.0 sacks. After establishing himself as a dependable pass rusher and sure tackler, Lawrence should provide Dallas with more sacks and pressures going into his third pro season.

PRO: The Dallas Cowboys liked what they saw in Ronald Leary's potential and ability on the offensive line through college enough to sign him to a rookie free agent contract following the 2012 NFL Draft. He spent most of his rookie season on Dallas' practice squad learning the pro game before being activated for the final week of the season. He was slotted as the club's starting left guard early in the team's 2013 training camp and never looked back as the second-year pro started all 16 games at the position. He returned in 2014 as part of an offensive line that was a solid foundation for the league's second-ranked rushing attack. With the emergence of rookie La'el Collins in 2015, Leary spent a majority of the year as reserve, starting all four games he played.

TRANSACTION SUMMARY:

2/17/15: Re-signed with Dallas through 2015.
8/31/12: Released by Dallas, signed to Dallas' practice squad (9/1) and activated (12/22).
5/4/12: Signed with Dallas as a rookie free agent.

- Started the finale against Washington (1/3/16) in place of Collins (ankle) but missed the second half after suffering a concussion.

2014:

- Started all 15 games he played at left guard and was a key component helping DeMarco Murray set a league record by rushing for at least 100 yards in each of the first eight games of the season while also leading the league with a club-record 1,845 rushing yards.
- Helped open holes for Murray to rush for 118 yards and a touchdown on 22 carries in the opener against San Francisco (9/7).

Murray also was only the fourth rusher with four 100-yard games with at least one touchdown in each of the first four games of a season.
- Helped lead Murray to his fifth straight 100-yard performance in the overtime win against Houston (10/5). Murray joined Jim Brown (1958) and O.J. Simpson (1973 and 1975) as the only running backs to rush for 100 yards in each of the first five games of a season.

Giants (10/19) to become the first player in NFL history with seven straight 100-yard games to open a season. Also helped the offense control the ball for 33:49 - the fourth game this season with 33:00-plus of possession, most since 1980.
- Murray rushed for his eighth straight 100-yard game, finishing with 141 yards on 19 carries (7.4) and the club had 166 yards on 25 carries (6.6) in the overtime loss to Washington (10/27). Was sidelined late in the fourth quarter with a groin injury.

- In the season-ending win at Washington (12/28), allowed Murray to break the club single-season rushing record (1,845) and the club-record for 100-yard games (12), finishing with 100 yards and a touchdown. Randle added a career-long 65-yard touchdown jaunt for a team rushing total of 174 yards on 26 carries.

- Blocked for a running game that racked up 198 yards on 28 carries (7.1 avg) and a passing game that garnered four touchdowns in the loss at Chicago (12/9).

PRO: Sean Lee, selected in the second round (55th overall) of the 2010 NFL Draft by the Dallas Cowboys, was chosen with intentions of becoming an inside force at linebacker for years to come. After Lee spent his rookie season learning behind solid veteran inside linebackers Keith Brooking and Bradie James, he became a full time starter on the inside in 2011. Lee was also charged with "quarterbacking" the defense in his role as a first-time starter and excelled in the spotlight. He paced the defense with 131 tackles - 52 more than the second place finisher - and tied for the team lead in tackles for losses (eight), interceptions (four) and fumble recoveries (two). Lee started all 15 games he played in his second season, missing one with a wrist injury. As he began his second season as the defensive signal caller in 2012, Lee was off on a torrid tackle total, posting double-digit figures through each of the first four games. He tied a 41-year club record after posting 21 stops at Seattle (9/16). Six weeks into the season, his 77 tackles were a club high, but that's where his total ended as a toe injury suffered at Carolina (10/21) slammed the brakes on his third season. After undergoing surgery to repair the injury and spending the end of the 2012 season and beginning of the 2013 offseason rehabbing, Lee returned to full health in 2013 and resumed his role as the leader of the defense. He again led the team in tackles (123) at the time, but suffered a hamstring injury that sidelined him for two games. In his first game back, he injured his neck that kept him from the final three contests. Lee worked hard to return for 2014 but suffered a torn ACL in a spring practice that sidelined him for the season. He again dug in and spent the season rehabbing and moved to the weakside in 2015 to start 14 games, missing two with injury, and pace the club with a career-high 156 tackles and 11 stops for losses and earn his first trip to the Pro Bowl.

PRO: The Dallas Cowboys signed unrestricted free agent center Joe Looney to help fortify the interior positions on the offensive line. He was waived by San Francisco prior to the start of the 2015 season, but signed with Tennessee for Week 7, where he started six of the eight games he played for the Titans. His ability to play both guard and center and get to the next level while run blocking will be key for Dallas as they head into the 2016 season looking to re-dedicate to the run game.

PRO BOWLS

'14 '15

PRO: For the third time in four NFL Drafts, the Dallas Cowboys selected an offensive lineman in the first round when they picked Zack Martin from Notre Dame in 2014. Martin joined Cowboys first round picks Tyron Smith (2011) and Travis Frederick (2013) as the building blocks for the future of the franchise. In his first season, Martin did not disappoint and was a key part in the league's second-ranked rushing attack. Martin became the first rookie in club history to start all 16 games at right guard and the fourth rookie on the offensive line to start all 16, and he earned a Pro Bowl spot - the only offensive rookie in the NFL in 2014 and the first Cowboys rookie lineman to make the game. He also earned All-Pro honors, becoming only the third rookie in team history to do so. He again manned the right guard spot in 2015, starting all 16 games and earned his second straight Pro Bowl nod. While at Notre Dame, Martin earned the distinct honor of being a two-time captain after becoming the longest tenured starter in school history, starting all 52 games of his collegiate career. Martin's intrigue to the Cowboys was his ability to play any position along the offensive line, despite starting 50 of his 52 college games at left tackle and the other two at right tackle.

TRANSACTION SUMMARY:

5/8/14: Drafted in the first round (16th overall) by Dallas.

- Selected to play in his second straight Pro Bowl after starting all 16 games for the second straight season, allowing Darren McFadden to rush for his second career 1,000-yard season. It was the first time in team history the Cowboys had two different rushers top 1,000 yards in consecutive seasons.
- In the season-opening win over the N.Y. Giants (9/13), the line did not allow a sack on 45 drop backs as Tony Romo completed 80.0% of his passes (36-of-45) for 356 yards with three touchdowns and two interceptions.
- Helped the offense control the clock for 40:25 as the line yielded three sacks on 37 dropbacks as Dallas passers (Romo and Brandon Weeden) completed 73.5% (25-of-34) of their passes in the win at Philadelphia (9/20).
- Against Atlanta (9/27) blocked for an offense that averaged 6.0 yards-per-rush with four rushing touchdowns - the most by a Cowboys offense since four at Arizona (11/15/98). All four came in the first half, the second time in franchise history Dallas had four rushing touchdowns in a half - first half against the N.Y. Giants, 12/1/63.
- The offense rushed for 233 yards with one touchdown on 41 carries (5.7) and totaled 460 yards with one sack on 28 dropbacks at the N.Y. Giants (10/25).
- Against Seattle (11/1) helped open holes for a running game that averaged 4.3 yards-per-carry (30 for 129) while yielding one sack on 27 dropbacks.
- Against Philadelphia (11/8) helped the offense rack up 411 yards as McFadden topped 100 rushing yards (117) and two receivers (Cole Beasley, 112, and Dez Bryant, 104) both topped 100 receiving yards to mark the first time since 1999 Dallas had a pair of 100-yard receivers along with a 100-yard rusher.
- Dallas rushed for 166 yards on 38 carries (4.4) and McFadden topped 100 yards (129) in Romo's return at Miami (11/22). The quarterback was protected on 18-of-28 passes for 227 yards and two touchdowns, two interceptions while being sacked twice. The offense held onto the ball for 38:50 and converted 50.0% (seven-of-14) of its third down chances.
- Blocked for an offense that rushed for 171 yards and one touchdown on 20 carries (8.6), including long runs of 50, 45 and 22 yards at Green Bay (12/13).
- McFadden rushed for his fifth 100-yard game and the line blocked for Kellen Moore's NFL debut after he stepped in for Matt Cassel at the beginning of the second quarter against the N.Y. Jets (12/19).
- In Moore's first career start, did not yield a sack on 31 attempts as the running game averaged 4.8 yards-per-carry (25 for 121) at Buffalo (12/27).
- The season finale against Washington (1/3/16) saw the offense rack up a season-high 512 yards, including 435 passing yards by Moore - sixth in a game in team history.

2014:

- Earned the starting job in training camp and started all 16 games at right guard to become the first rookie in club history to start every game at right guard, the fourth offensive line rookie and 14th overall rookie to notch starts in every game of his first season.

- Earned a trip to the Pro Bowl - the only offensive rookie in the NFL in 2014 to make the team and the first rookie offensive lineman in team history to make the game.
- Was named to the AP All-Pro team - the only rookie in the NFL in 2014 and the third rookie in club history to receive the honor. Also named to the PFWA All-NFC team.
- Was a key component helping DeMarco Murray set a league record by rushing for at least 100 yards in each of the first eight games of the season and establishing a club mark with a league-best 1,845 rushing yards.
- Became the first rookie in team history to start a season opener at right guard and was the third rookie overall to start at guard. Overall, was the 10th rookie offensive lineman to start a season opener and the 41st at any position. Helped open holes for Murray to rush for 118 yards on 22 carries (5.4 avg.) and the team averaged 5.5 yards-per-carry.
- Again blocked for Murray, who rushed for 167 yards (third in his career) and a touchdown on a career-best 29 carries in the win at Tennessee (9/14). The offense rushed for 220 yards and controlled the clock for 41:11.
- Led the way for Murray to rush for 100 yards - his third straight 100-yard game to become the third Cowboy with 100 yards in each of the first three games of a season - and did not yield a sack in Dallas' all-time greatest come-back win (without overtime) at St. Louis (9/21).
- In the win over New Orleans (9/28), blocked for 190 yards and two scores on 35 runs (5.4) and allowed Murray to rush for 149 yards and both scores on 24 carries (6.5) to become the seventh NFL rusher, third Cowboy, with 100 yards in four straight games to open a season. Murray also was only the fourth rusher with four 100-yard games with at least one touchdown in each of the first four games of a season.
- Helped lead Murray to his fifth straight 100-yard performance in the overtime win against Houston (10/5). Murray joined Jim Brown (1958) and O.J. Simpson (1973 and 1975) as the only running backs to rush for 100 yards in each of the first five games of a season.
- Allowed Murray to join Brown (1958) as the only two men in NFL history with six straight 100-yard games to open a season after Murray rushed for 115 yards and a touchdown at Seattle (10/12). The line also allowed Dallas to control the clock with 37:39 of offense (20:05 in the first half).
- Led Murray to his seventh straight 100-yard outing (128 yards on 28 carries with one touchdown) against the N.Y. Giants (10/19) to become the first player in NFL history with seven straight 100-yard games to open a season. Also helped the offense control the ball for 33:49 - the fourth game this season with 33:00-plus of possession, most since 1980.
- Murray rushed for his eighth straight 100-yard game, finishing with 141 yards on 19 carries (7.4) and the club had 166 yards on 25 carries (6.6) in the overtime loss to Washington (10/27).
- Blocked for Murray to rush for 79 yards, snapping his streak of 100-yard games, against Arizona (11/2).
- Opened holes for Murray to rush for his ninth 100-yard game of the season (19 for 100) at Jacksonville (11/9) in London. Joseph Randle also rushed for 56 yards on seven carries with a 40-yard touchdown run.
- In the comeback win at the N.Y. Giants (11/23), blocked for Murray's 10th 100-yard game (121 yards) and allowed time for Romo to go 18-of-26 with 275 yards, four touchdowns no interceptions and a 143.4 rating - second in his career.
- Guided Murray to his club-record tying 11th 100-yard game of the season with 179 yards - second in his career - and a touchdown in the Thursday night win at Chicago (12/4). Also protected Romo to complete 80.8% of his passes with three touchdowns, one sack and no picks for a 138.0 rating.
- Despite injuring his ankle in the second quarter, finished the game at Philadelphia (12/14) and helped the offense to a season-high 41:55 possession time as Murray rushed for 81 yards and two scores and Romo threw for 265 yards, three touchdowns and no picks for a 129.1 rating.
- The offense rushed for 127 yards on 40 carries as Romo completed a club-record 90.0% (18-of-20) of his passes with four touchdowns and a personal-best 151.7 rating in the NFC East clinching win against Indianapolis (12/21).
- In the season-ending win at Washington (12/28), allowed Murray to break the club single-season rushing record (1,845) and the club-record for 100-yard games (12), finishing with 100 yards and a touchdown. Randle added a career-long 65-yard touchdown jaunt for a team rushing total of 174 yards on 26 carries.
- In the Wild Card Playoff Game against Detroit (1/4/15), blocked for Murray's 75 rushing yards, his one-yard touchdown run and allowed Romo to throw for 293 yards, two touchdowns and 114.0 rating.
- Helped block for Murray to rush for 123 yards (ninth in a postseason game in team history) and a touchdown on 25 carries (4.9) in the Divisional Playoff loss at Green Bay (1/11/15). PRO: The Dallas Cowboys signed restricted free agent Benson Mayowa to a three-year contract early in the 2016 free agency period after Oakland failed to match the Cowboys offer sheet. PRO: With injury and depth concerns at the linebacker position entering the 2014 season, the Dallas Cowboys acquired Rolando McClain in a trade with the Baltimore Ravens. McClain, the former eighth overall pick by the Oakland Raiders in the 2010 NFL Draft, immediately infused talent and experience into a young linebacking group. He earned the starting nod out of the gates and started 12 of the 13 games he played, finishing with a career-best (second on the team) 108 tackles with nine for losses, one sack, five pressures, five breakups and an interception. He returned in 2015 to man the middle once again as Sean Lee shifted outside and was third on the defense with 97 tackles, starting all 11 games he played. McClain appeared in 41 games as a Raider and displayed a nose for the ball in both run and pass defense, compiling 274 tackles and 6.5 sacks along with 23 pass deflections and one interception. He was cut by Oakland and then later signed with Baltimore in the offseason leading into the 2013 season, but retired before the start of training camp and did not play in 2013. He looks for consistency in 2016 and team with Lee to provide the Dallas defense with a formidable linebacking duo.

PRO: After losing DeMarco Murray in 2015 free agency, the Dallas Cowboys called upon Darren McFadden to fill the shoes for the 2014 NFL rushing leader. McFadden came to Dallas after a seven-year career with the Oakland Raiders. The Raiders had their sights set high on McFadden, drafting him in the first round (fourth overall) of the 2008 NFL Draft. The Dallas Cowboys drafted McFadden's collegiate running-mate later that same round with the selection of Felix Jones with the 22nd pick. McFadden left Oakland as the club's sixth-best rusher, totaling 4,247 yards while placing eighth all-time with 25 touchdowns and fourth with 1,038 carries. He began his Cowboys career as a reserve back but took over the starting role for the final 10 games of the season. He flourished in the starting spotlight, finishing the year with a career-high 239 carries and his second 1,000-yard season (1,089, second in his career and fourth in the league in 2015). Through his career, he has rushed for 100-or-more yards 18 times and rushed for 100 yards in back-to-back games four times. McFadden is also a proven threat to catch the ball out of the backfield, hauling in 251 passes for 2,097 yards and five touchdowns.

6-0 • 200 • 7/12/89
Boise State • FA for '15
NFL: 5th Year • Cowboys: 2nd Year
Games/Starts: 2015-3/2; Career-3/2
Postseason: 2015-0/0; Career-0/0

PRO: The Dallas Cowboys signed quarterback Kellen Moore as a developmental quarterback who has experience in Offensive Coordinator Scott Linehan's system after spending the first two years of his career (2012-13) under Linehan in Detroit. Moore, a four-year veteran, was a collegiate standout for Boise State, setting multiple NCAA records for the Broncos in his four-year college career. He signed as an undrafted free agent with the Detroit Lions after the 2012 NFL Draft, spent all three years with the Lions as their third-string quarterback and was inactive for every game he was with the team. With the early season injury to Tony Romo in 2015, Moore was brought in to learn the offense and eventually got an opportunity to play, starting two games and seeing action in a third. He returns in 2016 with the hopes of taking over as the lead backup to Romo.

TRANSACTION SUMMARY:

11/12/15: Re-signed to Dallas' practice squad and activated (12/2).
9/8/15: Signed to Dallas' practice squad, activated (9/23) and waived (11/10).
9/5/15: Released by Detroit.
5/10/12: Signed with Detroit.

2015 (Detroit/Dallas):

- Started the season finale against Washington (1/3/16) and passed for 435 yards with three touchdowns and two interceptions on 33-of-48 passing. It was the first 400-yard game by a Dallas quarterback since Romo's 506 against Denver (10/6/13). It was also the ninth time a Dallas passer topped 400 yards and Moore became the fifth different quarterback to reach the mark.

PRO: The Dallas Cowboys signed Alfred Morris to pair with Darren McFadden and first round draft pick Ezekiel Elliott in the backfield for the 2016 season, giving the Cowboys rushing attack a stable of talented and experienced runners. Morris was originally drafted in the sixth round (173rd overall) by Washington, and made an immediate impact on his team and the league, rushing for a Redskins club-record 1,613 yards and a club rookie-record 13 touchdowns on team rookie-best 335 carries. Morris topped 1,000 yards in each of his first three pro seasons and has Washington's all-time top rushing average at 4.4 yards-per-clip. Through four years in Washington, Morris rushed for 4,713 yards and 29 touchdowns on 1,078 carries, starting all 64 games of his career. Morris' yardage total of 4,713 is the second-most in the league over that span - 2012-15 - trailing only Adrian Peterson, who accumulated 4,923 yards over those four seasons. Additionally, he has 13 career 100-yard games - fifth in Redskins history - including one 200-yard performance. Morris' physical running style and experience running behind a zone-blocking scheme make him an excellent compliment to McFadden and Elliott in the Cowboys backfield, and will increase the productivity of a Dallas rushing attack that ranked in the top-10 in 2015.

PRO BOWLS

'06 '07 '09 '14

PRO: In one of the more intriguing success stories in recent NFL history, Tony Romo ascended from the ranks of undrafted free agent - and three-year back-up quarterback - to a record setting, four-time Pro Bowl selection for the Dallas Cowboys. With 127 career regular season starts under his belt, Romo has re-written Cowboys passing records with his stellar and unique style of quarterback play. Elusive and instinctive in the pocket, he relies on a quick release, solid arm strength and excellent accuracy. His greatest asset may be his ability to see the field and find the open receiver - regardless of whether he is in a stationary position or eluding the pass rush. With a 78-49 regular season record as the Dallas starter, Romo signed with the Cowboys as an undrafted free agent in 2003, he made his first career start at the Carolina Panthers on Oct. 29, 2006, and, by December of that year, he became Dallas' first Pro Bowl quarterback since Aikman in 1996. Romo rose to prominence during a stretch in which six of his first 11 starts were nationally televised. In his first 10 regular season starts, he led the Cowboys to six victories and a playoff berth. He also led the NFL with 8.6 yards-per-pass attempt in 2006. His 95.1 quarterback rating as a first-time starter was the third-best in Cowboys history. He exceeded that mark with a 97.4 rating in 2007. After joining the Cowboys in 2003, Romo showed enough potential during training camp to become the third quarterback. He split time with Drew Henson as the backup quarterback in 2004 but became the primary backup quarterback behind Drew Bledsoe throughout 2005. He also was the holder for field goals and extra points from 2004 to 2006 and volunteered to hold again in 2009. He led the Cowboys to 13 wins in 2007 - tying the franchise record for victories in a season in his first season as the full-time starter. Along the way, he set then single-season club marks for touchdown passes (36), completions (335), yardage (4,211) and 300-yard games (seven). He first set a Dallas mark for consecutive games with a touchdown pass with 17 straight between 2006 and 2007 only to up it to 20 (2009-11) then to 38 (2012-14). His 2008 season was not as productive as 2007 after suffering a broken finger in his throwing hand at Arizona (10/12). Despite missing three games with the injury, Romo still threw for 300-or-more yards six times - second only to his seven from 2007 - while throwing for 3,448 yards - his second consecutive 3,000-plus yard season - to become the first quarterback with back-to-back 3,000-yard seasons since Troy Aikman (1995-97). Romo's third full season as a starter eclipsed his previous two as he became the first quarterback in club history to be on the field for every snap of the season. The 2009 season saw Romo set club records for attempts (550), completions (347), passing yards (4,483) and 300-yard games (eight) while throwing a career-low nine interceptions - tied for the fourth-fewest in a season in club history among quarterbacks with at least 300 attempts. He helped guide Dallas to an 11-5 record, the club's 17th NFC East Division title and Dallas' first playoff win since 1996. The 2009 season also saw Romo top 1,500 career attempts to make him eligible for career passing records. His season was cut short in 2010 as he suffered a broken left collarbone, which eventually landed him on Reserve/Injured on December 22, 2010. Before suffering the injury, Romo was well on his way towards another solid season completing 148-of-213 passes (69.5%) for 1,605 yards, 11 touchdowns and seven interceptions. At the time of his injury, he had a 94.9 quarterback rating that was sixth in the NFL and tops in the NFC. Romo's 2011 season was only a continuation of his progress. While working through a rib injury for most of the season that he suffered in the Week 2 matchup at San Francisco, Romo still finished the year with his third career 4,000-yard season (4,184) while also placing second in team record books with 31 touchdowns and 346 completions and third with 522 attempts. He threw for 300-or-more yards five times and had 11 multiple-touchdown games. Romo's passing numbers in 2012 only set a new ceiling for future Dallas quarterbacks as he set club records for attempts (648), completions (425) and passing yards (4,903). His 28 touchdowns also tied for fourth. Romo put together another impressive season in 2013 but missed the season finale with a back injury. In his 15 starts, Romo went 342-of-535 (63.9) for 3,828 yards, 31 touchdowns and 10 interceptions. His 31 scoring tosses marked the third time in his career and in team history a quarterback topped 30 touchdowns in a season. Along the way, he established a club record with 506 yards against Denver (10/6) and became only the fifth NFL quarterback with 500 yards and five touchdowns in a single game. Despite undergoing back surgery prior to the start of the 2014 season, Romo put together the most efficient season of his career. He started 15 games, missing one with an unrelated back injury, and led the league with club-records for completion percentage (69.9 - seventh in NFL history) and quarterback rating (113.2 - sixth) to earn his fourth career trip to the Pro Bowl. He also was the league leader in yard-per-attempt average with an 8.52. He threw for his fourth and the club's fourth 30-touchdown season, finishing with 34 and his fourth straight, seventh overall, 3,000-yard season (3,705). Along the way, Romo passed Troy Aikman as the Cowboys all-time passing yards leader, finishing the season with a career total of 33,270. He also had a club-record streak of consecutive games with a touchdown pass come to an end at 38 straight games while also extending his NFL record streak of road games with a scoring toss to 41. The 2015 season was a struggle for Romo as he twice broke his left collarbone, allowing him to play in only four games. Through his career, Romo tops club records for career 300-yard games (46), consecutive 300-yard games (3), 400-yard games (5), three-plus touchdown games (40), career multi-touchdown games (79), 100-plus rating games (66), career touchdowns (247), 20-plus touchdown seasons (7) and 4,000-yard seasons (4) to name a handful. For his career, Romo has completed 2,826-of-4,331 (65.3%) passes for 34,154 yards and a passer rating of 97.1 - third in NFL history. He has thrown a club-record 247 career scoring passes against 117 interceptions. He ranks first in club history in passing yards and is second in attempts and completions.

Boise State • D5 for '08 (143rd overall)

Postseason: 2015-0/0; Career-4/3

PRO: The Dallas Cowboys moved up in the fifth round to grab Orlando Scandrick with the 143rd overall pick in the 2008 NFL Draft, and he has since proven to be worth the move as a valuable contributor in the Dallas secondary and on special teams units. The former Boise State standout, who left college after only three years, served as the nickel cornerback for the majority of his first five seasons before settling in as one of the starters. Scandrick briefly rotated starts with Mike Jenkins for the starting cornerback spot opposite Terence Newman at the beginning of the 2009 season before settling back into the nickel cornerback role. His role expanded in 2013 as he became the starter opposite Brandon Carr, starting 15 of the 16 games he played. His career year in 2013 (70 tackles and 15 breakups) was rewarded when he signed a two-year contract extension - in the middle of his five-year deal - through 2018. Scandrick started all 14 games he played in 2014, missing two serving a league suspension, and finished the year eighth on the team with 54 tackles with one sack, two stops for losses, two interceptions, two forced fumbles and 11 breakups. He was solidly entrenched as one of the team's top cornerbacks and was looking to be a key contributor to the defense in 2015 but a torn ACL suffered in a training camp practice ended his season before it began. After undergoing surgery to repair the tear, Scandrick spent the season rehabbing his knee and will return to a prominent role as a veteran leader on the Dallas defense.

PRO: For just the fourth time in team history, and first time since 1981, the Dallas Cowboys selected an offensive lineman in the first round of the draft when they picked Tyron Smith with the ninth overall pick in the 2011 NFL Draft. He also became the second-highest offensive lineman drafted in Cowboys history behind John Niland, who was selected fifth in the 1966 Draft. Smith, who started his collegiate career as a backup left tackle, eventually moved to the right side where he started the final 24 games in which he played at USC. In Smith, the Cowboys have a hard working, athletic lineman with good foot speed and the ability to stay on and finish blocks. Smith has proven himself as both an efficient run blocker and pass protector while demonstrating the ability to anchor a bull rusher and recover if he gets out of position. He stepped in and immediately took over the starting right tackle spot as a rookie, starting all 16 games he played. In his second season, Smith manned the blind side, moving to left tackle, after becoming the first rookie to start all 16 games along the offensive line since Rob Petitti in 2005 and the third overall to do so. In 2013 Smith returned as the club's starting left tackle, and his work through the season proved he could be a dominant force on the Cowboys line as he earned his first career trip to the Pro Bowl as a starter. He signed an eight-year extension during 2014 training camp and was a key part of a line that paved the way for the NFL's rushing leader (DeMarco Murray - 1,845 yards), the second-ranked rushing attack (2,354), the most efficient passer in the league and in team history (Tony Romo - 69.9 completion percent and 113.2 rating) and the league's receiving touchdown leader (Dez Bryant - 16) to earn his second straight trip to the Pro Bowl. He earned his third straight trip to the all-star game following the 2015 season after helping Darren McFadden to his second career 1,000-yard rushing season and the first time in team history the Cowboys had two different running backs top 1,000 yards in consecutive seasons.

PRO: The Dallas Cowboys selected Kyle Wilber in the fourth round (113th overall) of the 2012 NFL Draft out of Wake Forest to provide the team with yet another athletic pass rusher. Wilber's rookie season got off to a slow start after suffering a thumb injury in the preseason. He recovered to play in 10 games, mostly on special teams. In 2013 he showed flashes of his ability, playing in all 16 games, starting six at linebacker due to injury, and impressed coaches enough to be looked at as a starting linebacker in 2014. He again played in all 16 games with three starts in 2014 and posted 23 tackles and 1.5 sacks. He started six of the 16 games he played on the strongside in 2015 and was also a team-leader on special teams coverage units. He will push for more starting time on defense in 2016 while also maintaining his coverage abilities on special teams.

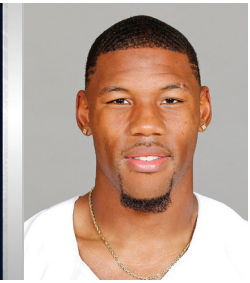
TERRANCE WILLIAMS

83 • Wide Receiver

6-2 • 210 • 9/8/89
Baylor • D3a for '13 (74th overall)
NFL: 4th Year • Cowboys: 4th Year
Games/Starts: 2015-16/13; Career-48/37
Postseason: 2015-0/0; Career-2/2



PRO: The Dallas Cowboys added a talented wide receiver when they selected local product, Terrance Williams, in the third round (74th overall) of the 2013 NFL Draft out of Baylor. He started eight-of-16 games as a rookie and had 736 yards and five touchdowns on 44 catches. With the departure of Miles Austin in 2014 free agency, Williams secured a starting spot opposite Dez Bryant, and although his receptions and yards totals dropped, his touchdown total improved (from five to eight) and his knack for the big play was evident, especially in the post season - three touchdown catches averaging 40.7 yards each. Williams played a more prominent role in 2015 with Dez Bryant sidelined for a good part of the season with a foot injury, finishing with a team-high 840 yards while finishing tied for second with 52 catches and three touchdowns. Through his three pro seasons, Williams averaged 16.5 yards-per-catch, making him one-of-three receivers since 2001 to average 16.0 yards-per-reception in each of the first three seasons of his career (Mike Wallace and Kenny Britt). Williams, who starred at nearby W.T. White High School in Dallas, started 34-of-51 games for Baylor recording 202 receptions for 3,334 yards (16.5 avg.) and 27 touchdowns while amassing 4,693 all-purpose yards (92.02 yards-per-game) - setting a Baylor school career-record. His career receptions, receiving yards and touchdown grabs ranked second in school annals behind Kendall Wright, while his 3,334 receiving yards were good for sixth in Big 12 history.

PRO BOWLS

PRO: Through 13 NFL seasons, Jason Witten has proved himself to be one of the top tight ends in NFL history and one of the most prolific pass catchers in Cowboys history. He is Dallas' all-time receptions leader, surpassing Michael Irvin (750) in 2012, and is second in NFL history among tight ends with 1,020. His 11,215 yards are second in Cowboys history and second in NFL tight ends history. He appeared in seven consecutive Pro Bowl games for the most Pro Bowl appearances by a Cowboys tight end, a streak that ended following the 2011 season. For his career, Witten has the second-most 75-catch seasons (8), 80-catch seasons (6) and 90-catch seasons (4) by any tight end in NFL history. He is also tied with Gonzalez for the most 90-catch, 1,000-yard seasons (4) in NFL tight end history. Witten led the team in receptions for the eighth time in his career, finishing 2015 with 77 catches for 713 yards (second on the team) and three touchdowns (tied for second). He added his 10th Pro Bowl appearance as an injury replacement in 2014 to tie Mel Renfro and Larry Allen for second in team history. His Pro Bowl trip came on the heels of a season that saw Witten utilized more as a blocker for the league's second-ranked rushing attack. Despite sitting back in run blocking more, the versatile Witten still was second on the team in receptions (64) and yards (703) and third with five scoring grabs. The 2013 season saw Witten make his ninth Pro Bowl after placing second on the squad in receptions (73), receiving yards (851) and touchdowns (eight). He added his eighth Pro Bowl appearance following a record-breaking 2012 season in which he established a league tight end record with 110 catches - just one behind the club record - and notched his fourth 1,000-yard season (1,039) - tied with Tony Gonzalez for the most by a tight end in league history and second in team history behind Irvin's seven. He managed to accomplish all this despite being slowed through the first part of the season after suffering a lacerated spleen during the first preseason game. His 110 catches led the club for the sixth straight, seventh overall season, and were aided by a club and tight end single-game record 18 catches. For his work on and off the field, Witten was honored with the Walter Payton Man of the Year Award. Despite missing out on the Pro Bowl in 2011, Witten led the team for the fifth straight, sixth overall, season with 79 catches and a team-best 942 yards with five touchdowns. The 2010 season was no different for the perennial Pro Bowler. En route to his seventh straight all-star appearance, Witten led the team in receptions for the fourth straight season with 94 catches while notching his third career 1,000-yard season to become just the fourth tight end in league history with three career 1,000-yard years. He is also just the second league tight end to post three-or-more 90-plus catch, 1,000-yard seasons. Through his career, he has strung together 13 straight seasons with at least 50 catches, 12 straight with 60 catches, seven straight with at least 70 and six straight with 80. He became the first tight end in franchise history - 13th in league history - to top 1,000 yards in a season with his first 1,000-yard effort in 2007. Of his 1,020 career receptions, 573 have gone for first downs, including 208 on third or fourth down. A model of durability, Witten has appeared in 214 of a possible 215 games - including playoffs - missing just one game after breaking his jaw against Arizona (10/5/03) and undergoing surgery to have three plates put in on Oct. 6, 2003. He has played in a team-record 203 consecutive regular season games - the second-longest active streak in the NFL (Shane Lechler, 222) and has started 147 consecutive games - the fourth-longest active streak (Eli Manning, 183, D'Brickashaw Ferguson and Philip Rivers, 160). He has at least one catch in 201-of-206 regular season games played and at least one in each of seven playoff games. He has caught at least one pass in all but five games played, and he has a club-record streak of 119 consecutive games with a catch - his last game without a reception was at the N.Y. Giants (11/2/08).

As the school's all-time leading passer, his career records include passing yards (9,376), passing touchdowns (70), completions (734) and completion percentage (62.8). He was one of four players in FBS history and the second player in Southeastern Conference history (2007 Heisman Trophy winner Tim Tebow) to throw for 70 touchdowns and rush for 40 touchdowns in a career, while also becoming one of only four players in FBS history - and the second player in SEC history (Tebow) - to pass for 9,000 yards and rush for 2,500 yards in a career. Thanksgiving Day Games
(29-18-1)

Since 1966, the Cowboys have been a fixture on Thanksgiving Day, having hosted the annual contest for 48 of the last 50 years. In 1975 and 1977, the St. Louis Cardinals played host to the game in place of Dallas. In 1978, the game returned to Dallas for good. The Cowboys have posted a 29-18-1 record in the holiday classic and a 30-18 mark the following week. Here are the Cowboys annual Thanksgiving Day results:

Monday Night Football (44-33)

The Cowboys hold a 44-33 Monday Night Football record and will be making their 78th appearance on Monday Night Football during the 2016 season against Detroit on Dec. 26. 8 ★ TROY AIKMAN ★
Quarterback, 1989-2000
INDUCTED – 2006

In 12 NFL seasons, Troy Aikman became one of the game's great quarterbacks. As just the third player in NFL history to lead a team to three Super Bowl victories, Aikman rewrote virtually every passing record in Cowboys history. He closed his career with 94 regular season wins, including 90 in the decade of the 1990s – making him the winningest starting quarterback of any decade in NFL history to that point (Joe Montana held the record with 86 wins in the 1980s).

Along with that mark, Aikman held or was tied for 47 Dallas passing records, including the club's career records for attempts (4,715), completions (2,898), passing yards (32,942), touchdowns (165) and completion percentage (61.5% – third best in NFL history at the time of his retirement). He also posted a club-high 13 regular season 300-yard passing games during his career.

Along the way to these marks, Aikman guided Dallas from the cellar of 1-15 in 1989 to six NFC East titles (1992-96 and 1998), four NFC Championship Games (1992-95) and three Super Bowl titles (XXVII, XXVIII and XXX). He was one of the game's most accurate passers, completing at least 60 percent of his passes in 98-of-165 career games. In the postseason, he reached the 60% completion mark in 12-of-16 games. He completed 70 percent or more of his passes 42 times in his career, with Dallas posting a 37-5 record in those games, and he produced the top six single-season completion percentages in club history.

With his passing accuracy, Aikman was able to establish a club-record with a career interception rate of 2.99%. Although not known for his fleet feet, Aikman successfully ran for a first down 49-of-72 times on third or fourth down during career. That ability to avoid the sack also allowed him to post the highest career pass attempts per sack ratio (19.2) in team history. Despite winning just one of his first 15 NFL starts, Aikman went on to start a club-record 180 games (165 regular season) at quarterback and post a 105-75 (.583) record, which includes an impeccable 11-4 mark in the postseason – 3-0 in the Super Bowl.

For his career, Aikman led the Cowboys from behind 16 times in the fourth quarter, including six times in the final two minutes. Another six times, he led the team to wins after the score was tied in the fourth quarter. Five of his game-winning drives came in overtime.

In the postseason Aikman truly shined. His four 300-yard passing days were the third best total in NFL history, and he holds the club records for postseason pass attempts (502), completions (320), yards (3,849), and completion percentage (63.7%). In addition, Aikman's 23 career postseason passing touchdowns was just one shy of Staubach's club record of 24.

The first overall choice in the 1989 draft out of UCLA, Aikman completed 64.8 percent of his passes for 5,298 yards and 41 touchdowns while throwing only 17 interceptions in two seasons as the starter. He finished his career as the third rated passer in NCAA history. The All-America led the Bruins to a 20-4 record, including wins in the 1987 Aloha Bowl and the 1989 Cotton Bowl. He transferred to UCLA - where he received his degree in sociology in June, 2009 - after two seasons at Oklahoma (1984-85).

Aikman was born Nov. 21, 1966 in West Covina, Cali.

73 ★ LARRY ALLEN ★

Guard/Tackle, 1994-2005
INDUCTED – 2013

As a member of the NFL's All-Decade team for the 1990s and 2000s, Larry Allen was widely recognized as one of the NFL's premier offensive linemen, and he established himself as one of the most decorated offensive players in Dallas Cowboys and NFL history.

In 14 NFL seasons since being drafted in the second round out of Sonoma State, Allen was named to more Pro Bowls (10) than any other offensive player in Cowboys history. He also earned another Pro Bowl berth in 2006 while finishing his career with the San Francisco 49ers, bringing his Pro Bowl total to 11 selections. He was also named All-Pro seven times, six times at guard (1995-97, 1999-01) and once at tackle (1998). With his Pro Bowl selection at tackle in 1998, he became just the third player in league history to be selected to the Pro Bowl at more than one offensive line position during his career, joining Bruce Matthews (guard/center) and Chris Hinton (guard/tackle).

An ankle injury in the second week of the 2002 season limited Allen to five games and snapped his seven-year string of trips to the Pro Bowl, the fourth-longest streak in club history and the standard for Pro Bowl selections by a Dallas offensive lineman. Allen fully recovered from his injury and earned his eighth Pro Bowl selection in 2003, tying Emmitt Smith as the only Dallas offensive player to be selected to eight Pro Bowls. In 2004, he earned his ninth trip to Hawaii. Allen is tied with Mel Renfro (10) for the second-most Pro Bowl selections by a Cowboy, with both players trailing Bob Lilly (11).

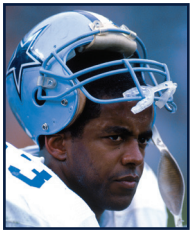
He played all but one position along the offensive line in his 12 seasons in Dallas, moving between right tackle (1994), right guard (1995-97), left tackle (1997-98) and left guard (1999-03). During his illustrious career in Dallas, Allen was a member of an offensive unit that posted the four lowest sacks allowed totals in club history with 18 in 1995, 19 in 1996 and 1998, and 20 in 1994. He also played a very important part in Smith's race toward the all-time NFL rushing mark, having blocked for eight of Smith's 11 1,000-yard rushing seasons. Smith gained 11,463 of his 17,162 career yards with Dallas after Allen joined the Cowboys in 1994 and was a pivotal member of the Super Bowl XXX Champion team in 1995.

With a career-best bench press of 700 pounds and a squat lift of 900 pounds, Allen is also considered to be the strongest man to ever play professional football. After missing most of 2002 with a sprained left ankle that required surgery to remove bone spurs, Allen went on to start 48 straight games before signing and playing for two seasons (2006-07) with San Francisco where he started the final 27 games of his career. Allen started 197-of-203 career games played.

ALLEN'S ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

- ★ 11-time Pro Bowl selection
- ★ 7-time All Pro
- ★ Super Bowl XXX title
- ★ 2 NFC Championships
- ★ 4 Division Titles
- ★ 1990s and 2000s member of NFL's All-Decade Teams
- ★ Blocked for eight of Emmitt Smith's 11 1,000-yard seasons

Larry Allen became the second Cowboys offensive lineman selected to both the Pro Football Hall of Fame and the Ring of Honor at AT&T Stadium. He joined Rayfield Wright as the only two.*



33 ★ TONY DORSETT ★

Running Back, 1977-87
INDUCTED – 1994

Tony Dorsett arrived in Dallas in 1977 via a draft-day deal the Cowboys swung with the Seattle Seahawks for the sole intention of selecting the Heisman Trophy winner from the University of Pittsburgh. Then Cowboys president and General Manager Tex Schramm paid what seemed like a bundle for the right to draft Dorsett: one first-round, and three second-round choices. Following an 11-year career in Dallas, he indeed proved to be a steal of a deal for an eventual Pro Football Hall of Fame player.

The Dorsett deal paid dividends in his very first year with the Cowboys, the four-time All-American picked up where he left off in college, rushing for 1,007 yards to earn NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year honors and set the rushing bar for rookie running backs in Dallas.

"A lot of the people said I wouldn't last in this league," Dorsett said in 1987. "I was the skinny little kid from Aliquippa, Pa., who wasn't supposed to make it."

Dorsett did make it, in fact he became one of the greatest running backs in NFL history. On Sept. 26, 1988 while playing his final NFL season with the Denver Broncos, Dorsett moved into second place on the NFL all-time rushing list with 12,306 rushing yards, and eventually finished his career with 12,739 yards. At the time, Dorsett trailed only Walter Payton when he retired after suffering a knee injury the following summer, but now ranks eighth behind Emmitt Smith, Payton, Barry Sanders, Curtis Martin, LaDainian Tomlinson, Jerome Bettis and Eric Dickerson.

By the time Dorsett completed his 12-year career, he had collected a victory in Super Bowl XII, four Pro Bowl selections, one All-Pro honor and three All-NFC selections.

One of the most notable moments of Dorsett's career came on Jan. 2, 1983, before a Monday Night Football television audience playing against the Minnesota Vikings. Dorsett received a handoff from quarterback Danny White and proceeded to run 99-yards for a touchdown, thus recording an unbreakable NFL record. Dorsett's greatest season came in 1981 when he rushed for 1,646 yards, a franchise record at the time, a total that now ranks third to only Emmitt Smith's two, 1,700-yard seasons.

"When he came to us, we hadn't had a strong running attack for about three years," Hall of Fame quarterback Roger Staubach once said. "Tony Dorsett is one of the greatest backs in NFL history."

Dorsett was the Heisman Trophy winner in 1976 and was the first Pitt football player to have his jersey retired. Dorsett left Pitt as a four-time All-American and four-time 1,000-yard rusher. His final collegiate highlight was a 27-3 victory over Georgia in the Sugar Bowl to claim the national title.

In 1994 Dorsett became the ninth Cowboys player inducted into the Ring of Honor, and that same year he was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

He was born April 7, 1954, in Rochester, Pa.

94 ★ CHARLES HALEY ★
Defensive End, 1992-1996
INDUCTED – 2013

One of the most gifted pass rushers in his time in the NFL, Charles Haley left Dallas as the only player in league history to collect five Super Bowl rings. A mainstay on the Cowboys defensive line since arriving in Dallas via a trade with San Francisco in 1992, Haley earned his final ring in a 27-17 win over Pittsburgh in Super Bowl XXX. As a starter on Super Bowl contenders from his first day in the league, Haley played on 11 playoff teams in his 12 years in the league. Haley joined the San Francisco 49ers in 1986 as the team's fourth round draft pick and developed into one of the NFL's most devastating pass rushers during a career split between the 49ers and Dallas.

Haley was a member of two 49ers championship teams (Super Bowls XXIII and XXIV) before his trade to Dallas. He earned three more Super Bowl rings during his first four seasons with the Cowboys.

Haley began his NFL career at linebacker and led San Francisco in sacks in each of his first six seasons. He recorded four double-digit sack totals with the 49ers, including 12 sacks as a rookie and a career-high and NFC-leading 16 sacks in 1990. He was moved to defensive end after his trade to Dallas and continued to excel at pressuring the quarterback. He added two more double-digit sack seasons in 1994 and 1995. Haley then suffered a serious back injury in 1996 that limited him to just five games. He retired after undergoing surgery. However, after a two-year hiatus, Haley re-signed with the 49ers as a backup defensive end for two playoff games in 1998. He came back to play one final season in 1999 and added three sacks to his career total.

When he walked away for the final time, Haley had amassed 100.5 sacks during his 169-game career. He was twice named NFC Defensive Player of the Year (1990 and 1994), voted to five Pro Bowls and named All-Pro two times, once as a linebacker and once as a defensive end. He played in six NFC championship games over a seven-season period. He started at left outside linebacker for the 49ers in the 1988, 1989, and 1990 games and at right defensive end for the Cowboys in the conference championships in 1992, 1993, and 1994. He was inactive for the Cowboys victory in the 1995 NFC Championship Game.

Haley was a member of 10 division championship teams during his 12-season NFL career. His final season marked the only year he played on a team with a losing record. Prior to that, the fewest number of wins in a season any 49ers and Cowboys team recorded with Haley on the roster was 10.

HALEY'S ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

- ★ Super Bowl XIII, XXIV, XXVII, XXVIII and XXX titles
- ★ 5-time Pro Bowl selection
- ★ 2-time All Pro
- ★ 19th player in NFL history to top 100 career sacks
- ★ 2-time NFC Defensive Player of the Year (1990 and 1994)

22 ★ BOB HAYES ★
Wide Receiver, 1965-74
INDUCTED – 2009

In his 10 seasons with the Dallas Cowboys, "Bullet" Bob Hayes revolutionized the wide receiver position and the way defenses would play in the NFL. He began his 11-year NFL career after winning two Olympic gold medals at the 1964 Olympic Games in Tokyo, Japan. He tied the world record (10.06 seconds) in the 100-meter dash and claimed his second gold medal running the anchor leg of the 400-meter relay to earn the title of "The World's Fastest Human." He arrived in Dallas in similar fashion to become – and remain – the only rookie in franchise history to ever lead the team in receptions (46), receiving yards (1,003) and a rookie club record of 12 touchdown catches. His 12 touchdown receptions as a rookie are currently tied for fourth in league history. His speed and threat of being able to go long forced teams to install the zone defense to corral Hayes.

Hayes finished his Cowboys career with 365 catches (seventh), for 7,295 yards (fifth) and 71 touchdowns (first). In club record books, Hayes still holds team receiving marks for most points in a game (24, tied), most touchdowns in a game (four, tied), most receptions by a rookie, season (46), most receptions by a rookie, game (eight, tied), yards, game (246), longest reception (95t), highest career receiving average (20.0), highest single-season receiving average (26.1), touchdowns in a season (71), touchdowns in a season by a rookie (12) and touchdowns in a game (four, tied). Hayes was also a threat as a punt returner, returning 104 punts (fourth in team history) for 1,158 yards (fourth) and three touchdowns (tied for second). His 11.1 yard-per-return average is second in team record books only to Deion Sanders (13.3).

Hayes was a three-time Pro Bowl selection and became just the third rookie in club history (Don Perkins – 1961 and Mel Renfro – 1964) to be named to the Pro Bowl. He also earned All-Pro selections four times (1965-68) and was inducted into the Dallas Cowboys Ring of Honor in a halftime celebration against San Diego on Sept. 23, 2001.

Hayes split his time between football and track and field at Florida A&M where he became famous as the "World's Fastest Human." In 1963 he set the world record (9.1 seconds) in the 100-yard dash, a record that stood for 11 years.

Hayes was born December 20, 1942

HAYES' ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

- ★ 3-Time Pro Bowl selection
- ★ Super Bowl VI title
- ★ 2 Eastern Conference Titles
- ★ 2 NFC East titles
- ★ 2 NFC titles
- ★ Holds or tied for 11 club records
- ★ 2 Capitol Division Titles
- ★ Won two Olympic gold medals at the 1964 Olympic Games in Tokyo, Japan.
- ★ He tied the then world record (10.06 seconds) in the 100-meter dash

88 ★ MICHAEL IRVIN ★
Wide Receiver, 1988-99
INDUCTED – 2007

Despite having his career cut short due to a spine injury, Michael Irvin left the NFL following the 1999 season owning or tied for 20 Cowboys receiving records. Those marks included career receptions (750), yardage (11,904) and 100-yard receiving games (47). During his illustrious career, Irvin also etched his name in the NFL record books. In league history, only Jerry Rice (12) and Steve Largent (8) had recorded more 1,000-yard receiving seasons than the seven produced by Irvin at the time of his retirement. His 11 100-yard receiving games during the 1995 season is still the NFL standard, as is the seven consecutive 100-yard games he produced that same year. Irvin's 47 career 100-yard receiving games still stands as the third-most in NFL history, behind Rice (65) and Don Maynard (50), and the Cowboys posted a 36-11 record when Irvin topped the 100-yard mark. In the 1990s, Irvin's consistent ability to achieve at the highest level established his place among the game's elite receivers. He finished his career tied with Charlie Joiner for tenth in NFL history on the all-time reception list, and he was ninth in league history in receiving yardage.

Irvin was selected to five Pro Bowls between 1991-98, giving him two more Pro Bowl appearances than any other wide receiver in club history. He is one of only two Cowboys players (Jason Witten 2007-11) to top 75 catches in five straight seasons (1991-1995), and his reception and yardage totals for six of the years between 1991-98 represent six of the top nine single-season performances in club history: 1997 (75 receptions for 1,180 yards); 1995 (111 for 1,603); 1994 (79 for 1,241), 1993 (88 for 1,330), 1992 (78 for 1,396) and 1991 (93 for 1,523). Irvin also stands alone as the club record holder in terms of most consecutive seasons leading the team in receptions (eight, 1991-98) and most total seasons leading the club in receptions (eight). He led or tied for the team lead in catches in 85 of his last 130 regular season games. Including playoff games, he had a catch of 20-yards-or-more in 121 of the 175 NFL games he played. Irvin's career receiving average of 15.9 is the fourth highest in team history, and he is second on the club's all-time receiving touchdown list with 65 - trailing only Bob Hayes (71).

Of his 750 career regular season catches, 95 went for 20-29 yards, 38 for 30-39, 18 for 40-49, 10 for 50-59 and nine for 60 yards-or-more. After entering the League in 1988, he started 147-of-159 regular season games (163-of-175 including playoffs). Irvin did not miss a start due to injury after the 1990 season, when he was overcoming a 1989 knee injury. Always a clutch performer, he became Troy Aikman's go-to-guy on third or fourth down and prospered, leading the team in catches on third or fourth down for first downs in '92 (22), '93 (16), '94 (20), '95 (27), '97 (23) and '98 (16). He had 165 first down catches on third or fourth down in his last 121 games and 185 after returning from the knee injury in 1990.

His performance in the postseason was every bit as impressive as his consistent play throughout the regular season. His six career 100-yard receiving days in the postseason are two shy of the NFL mark of eight by Jerry Rice. Irvin's 87 postseason receptions place him second in NFL playoff history behind Rice (151) and his 1,315 postseason receiving yards also ranks second in league annals behind Rice (2,245).

Irvin was the 11th overall choice in 1988 draft out of Miami, Florida, where in just three seasons as a starter he set career records for catches (143), receiving yards (2,423) and touchdown receptions (26).

Irvin was born March 3, 1966.

IRVIN'S ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

- ★ 5-Time Pro Bowl selection
- ★ Super Bowl XXVII, XXVIII and XXX titles
- ★ 3 NFC Titles
- ★ 6 NFC East Titles
- ★ Holds or ties for 20 club receiving records
- ★ 1991 NFL Alumni Wide Receiver of the Year

Head Coach, 1960-88

Tom Landry paced the sidelines as the "only head coach" in Dallas Cowboys history for 29 years in his trademark fedora. By the time Landry's coaching career ended following the 1988 season, he had compiled a 270-178-6 record, the third most wins in NFL history.

That distinguished career was good enough for Landry to gain entry into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1990 and the Cowboys Ring of Honor in 1993, thanks to leading the Cowboys to two Super Bowl titles, five Super Bowl appearances, five NFC Championships, 13 division titles and an incredible 20 consecutive winning seasons.

"This team has always played for me," Landry said. "That was the key to why I continued coaching. If they wouldn't play for me, I would have been out a long time ago. They always played hard and tried hard."

Landry's head coaching career did not start out very smoothly, coming over from the N.Y. Giants staff to take over the expansion Cowboys in 1960. That first year ended with an 0-11-1 in 1960, the tie coming against Landry's former team the Giants, preventing the Cowboys from going winless. The Cowboys went on to suffer through losing seasons in the first five years, before going 7-7 in 1965.

But from that point on, Landry turned the franchise into "America's Team," the Cowboys reeling off 20 consecutive winning seasons from 1966-85, one of the longest winning streaks in all of professional sports.

As a player-coach with the Giants before coming to the Cowboys, Landry helped to develop what would eventually become a base defense in the NFL, the 4-3. It was innovations like this that caught the attention of Cowboys owner Clint Murchison Jr. and president Tex Schramm when it came time to select the franchise's first head coach.

As head coach of the Cowboys, Landry introduced more innovations to the game, including offensive motion. Very seldom did the Cowboys run a play from the formation they initially lined up in after breaking the huddle. Landry brought back the shotgun formation, popularized situational substitutions and concocted the "Flex" defense.

Walking the sidelines characteristically stoic, Landry was always thinking a couple of plays ahead and what the long-term effects of each play he called might be. He coached football as if it were a chess match, positioning his team in the best way to win in the end. And in the end, no one coached with more success for a longer period of time than Landry. That success was the impetus for Landry's induction into Pro Football Hall of Fame less than two years after he coached his last game.

The legendary coach, born Sept. 11, 1924, in Mission, Texas, died Feb. 12, 2000 of leukemia.

74 ★ BOB LILLY ★
Defensive Tackle, 1961-74
INDUCTED – 1980

Before earning the nickname "Mr. Cowboy," Bob Lilly was the first player ever drafted by the Dallas Cowboys in 1961. So it is fitting that Lilly not only became the first Cowboys player inducted into the Ring of Honor in 1975, but also became the franchise's first player inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1980.

During the course of 14 seasons with the Cowboys, Lilly was named Rookie of the Year in 1961, was selected to the Pro Bowl a club-record 11-times – 10 consecutive selections between 1964-74 – was named to the All-Pro team seven times and played in two Super Bowls, including the club's very first Super Bowl victory, 24-3 over Miami in Super Bowl VI.

As the foundation of the famed "Doomsday Defense," Lilly's intensity was readily apparent in an infamous scene after the Cowboys Super Bowl V loss to the Baltimore Colts when he ripped his helmet off and hurled it into the air. The following year, the Lilly-led Cowboys defense held Miami to only a field goal in Super Bowl VI, the fewest points every given up in Super Bowl history.

"The competition is what I love," Lilly once said. "That makes me a lot more intense. Personalities don't enter into it at all. My objective is to get the man with the ball. Nobody better get in my way."

Lilly is the Cowboys all-time leader in consecutive games played at 196, is tied for second with 14 seasons played and second all-time with 194 games started. Lilly led the Cowboys in sacks three consecutive years, beginning with his rookie season.

"A man like that comes along once in a lifetime," late Cowboys head coach Tom Landry said in 1972. "He is something a little bit more than great. Nobody is better than Bob Lilly."

Lilly was a two-time All-American defensive end at Texas Christian University and a two-time all-Southwest Conference team selection.

He was born July 26, 1939, in Olney, Texas.

LILLY'S ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

- ★ 11-Time Pro Bowl selection (Franchise Record)
- ★ 7-Time All-Pro
- ★ NFL 75th Anniversary Team
- ★ AFL-NFL 25-year Anniversary Team
- ★ National Football Foundation Hall of Fame
- ★ Super Bowl VI Title

- ★ November 23, 1975 declared "Bob Lilly Day" in Dallas, Texas
- ★ College Football Hall of Fame

20 ★ MEL RENFRO ★
Defensive Back, 1964-77
INDUCTED – 1996

Mel Renfro first came to the Cowboys as a highly-acclaimed running back out of the University of Oregon. But Cowboys head coach Tom Landry saw Renfro as a defensive back when they selected him in the second round of the 1964 draft.

And what a defensive back he was during his 14-year career, becoming arguably the best safety/cornerback to ever play for the Cowboys, and one of the best to ever play in the NFL. His 52 career interceptions still stand as a team record, and his 26.4-yard career kick-off-return average is second - both a tribute to his running ability.

The NFL certainly got to know Renfro in a hurry, having been elected to the Pro Bowl in each of his first 10 seasons in the NFL – the first six at free safety and the final four at cornerback. His 10 Pro Bowl appearances is second to only Bob Lilly's 11 for the Cowboys.

On top of his 10 Pro Bowls, Renfro was a four-time All-Pro, playing in four Super Bowls and eight NFC Championships. He became the fifth member of the exclusive Ring of Honor in 1981, and was finally elected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1996 in his 14th year of eligibility.

Renfro's 14 seasons with the Dallas Cowboys ties him for second in club history, just one shy of the record.

While at Oregon, Renfro led the team in rushing three consecutive years and was a two-time All-American. Despite coming to the NFL as an acclaimed runner, Renfro only ran the ball eight times during his career, all in 1966. Landry saw a free safety first, Renfro spending his first six seasons at safety and the final eight at corner.

In the middle of Renfro's All-Pro 1969 season, Landry was uncharacteristically complimentary toward one of his players, calling him "the best in the league at free safety."

But the Cowboys certainly figured out a way to capitalize on Renfro's running ability, having him return punts and kickoffs early in his career. He led the NFL in kickoff and punt returns his rookie season, and had seven interceptions, returning one for a touchdown. Renfro still is tied for the franchise lead with two career touchdown returns, and his 30-yard kick-off return average in 1965 still remains as the single-season high.

But it was interceptions Renfro was best known for during his career. In his first six years at free safety, Renfro totaled 30 interceptions. His interception totals declined somewhat when Landry moved him to cornerback for good in 1970. The decline had more to do with quarterbacks' reluctance to throw his way than any diminishing skills or quickness. His 626 interception return yards still stands as a career record for the Cowboys.

That 1971 Pro Bowl possibly was the greatest indication of Renfro's all-round ability. Not only did he play cornerback, but be also returned two punts for touchdowns, leading the NFC to a 27-6 win and earning the game's Most Valuable Player award.

He was born Dec. 30, 1941, in Houston, Texas.

RENFRO'S ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

- ★ 4-Time All-Pro
- ★ 10-Time Pro Bowl selection
- ★ 3-Time All-NFC
- ★ Cowboys Career Record 52 interceptions
- ★ Cowboys Career Record 626 interception return yards
- ★ 2nd in Cowboys history with a 26.4-yard kickoff-return average
- ★ Super Bowl VI and XII Titles
- ★ 4 NFC Championships
- ★ 9 Division Titles
- ★ Consensus All-American, 1962

21 ★ DEION SANDERS ★
Cornerback, 1995-99
INDUCTED – 2011

On Sept. 9 1995, the Dallas Cowboys made the biggest free agent move in the franchise's history by signing Deion Sanders to a long term contract. In doing so, Dallas was able to secure the services of one of the most talented cornerbacks in the history of the NFL. His stardom in the NFL was apparent from his first career game when he returned a punt 68 yards for a touchdown. More of that spectacular play continued throughout his 14-season, 188-game career. Sanders, who spent time with five different NFL teams, scored a total of six touchdowns on punt returns, three on kickoff returns, and returned nine interceptions for scores. The multi-faceted athlete also returned one fumble for a touchdown and had 60 receptions for 784 yards and three touchdowns with the Falcons (1989-1993), San Francisco 49ers (1994), Dallas Cowboys (1995-99), Washington Redskins (2000) and Baltimore Ravens (2004-05). In all, he recorded 53 interceptions including five with the Ravens when he returned to the field after a three-year retirement.

Sanders was an extremely gifted and versatile athlete, who was also a Major League Baseball player. As a baseball player, Sanders spent time with the New York Yankees (1989-90), Atlanta Braves (1991-94), Cincinnati Reds (1994-95, 1997, 2001) and San Francisco Giants (1995). He is the only man in professional sports to play in both a World Series (batting at a .533 World Series clip with Atlanta in 1992) and in the Super Bowl (with victorious San Francisco and Dallas teams following the 1994 and 1995 seasons). To further validate his versatility, Sanders is the only man in NFL history who has recorded both a pass reception – a 47-yarder, the longest completion of the game in Super Bowl XXX – and an interception – returned for 15 yards in Super Bowl XXIX – in Super Bowl action. After helping the Cowboys win Super Bowl XXX, Sanders announced on Feb. 20, 1996 that he would play football exclusively for the entire 1996 season. As a result, Sanders started 16 regular season games at cornerback and another eight at wide receiver – becoming the first two-way starter in the NFL since the Philadelphia Eagles Chuck Bednarik, who retired in 1962. At the completion of the 1996 football season, Sanders returned to baseball, signing with the Reds, and led the league in stolen bases (56) in the 1997 season before returning to football on a full-time basis in September.

He was selected to eight Pro Bowls, and became a member of the NFL's All-Decade Team of the 1990s as both a cornerback and a punt returner, leading the NFL in punt returns in 1998. He also led the NFC in kickoffs in 1992 and interceptions in 1991 and 1993. He was named first-team All-Pro nine times at cornerback in addition to receiving All-NFL acclaim by some media outlets as a kick returner in 1992 and as a punt returner in 1998. Sanders won two Super Bowls during his career. He started at right cornerback for the 49ers in their 49-26 victory over the San Diego Chargers in Super Bowl XXIX and at left cornerback in the Cowboys 27-17 win over the Pittsburgh Steelers in Super Bowl XXX.

His 23 career touchdowns (including playoffs) have been scored in the following manner: interceptions (nine), pass receptions (three), rushes (one), kickoff returns (three), punt returns (six) and fumble recoveries (one). Sanders holds the NFL record for career touchdowns scored on any type of return with 18. Perhaps the one statistic that supports Sanders' status as one of the game's greatest playmakers is his 25.1-yard career interception average on 53 career thefts (1,331 yards), ranking him sixth all-time. He retired second all-time in interception return yardage (1,331) and tied for second for most interceptions returned for a touchdown in a career (nine) and a season (three). His career-high 303 yards gained on interception returns with the 49ers in 1994 was third best ever in the NFL at the time of his retirement. He also returned three picks for touchdowns (74, 93, 90 yards) that season to become the first player ever to have two 90-yard interception returns for touchdowns in the same season. He was named the NFL's Defensive Player of the Year.

Sanders was originally drafted by Atlanta in the first round (fifth overall) of the 1989 NFL Draft out of Florida State, just behind Troy Aikman (first overall selection in 1989).

SANDERS' ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

- ★ Only man in professional sports to play in both a World Series and in a Super Bowl
- ★ 8 -Time Pro Bowl selection
- ★ Member of the NFL's All-Decade Team of the 1990s as both a cornerback and a punt returner.
- ★ Named first-team All-Pro nine times at cornerback
- ★ Holds the NFL record for career touchdowns scored on any type of return with 18

★ TEX SCRAMM ★
President and General Manager, 1959-89
INDUCTED – 1991

Texas Earnest Schramm Jr., better known as "Tex," rose to Professional Football Hall of Fame status during his 29 seasons as president and general manager of the Dallas Cowboys, turning a 1960 expansion franchise in Dallas into one of the most successful franchises in NFL history.

With Schramm overseeing the birth and growth of the Cowboys organization, the team reached five Super Bowls, winning two, made 18 playoff appearances and compiled an NFL-record 20 consecutive winning seasons, one of the longest such streaks in all of professional sports.

Schramm was an NFL pioneer and innovator. Under his watch, the Dallas Cowboys were always on the cutting edge with revolutionary ideas and visions. He was instrumental in creating the Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders, the first of their kind in professional football, developing the Cowboys Ring of Honor and bringing an annual Cowboys Thanksgiving Day game to the nation.

Schramm's work was not just focused on the Dallas Cowboys, as his tireless efforts changed the face of the entire NFL. He was a driving force behind the development and implementation of instant replay, giving the head referee a microphone for penalty announcements, shortening the play-clock and helping to develop the wild-card playoff system.

A tough negotiator, Schramm was the engineer in building the Cowboys foundation from the ground up. His tough stance in labor negotiations was also evident in his support for using replacement players during the 1987 NFL strike. After just three weeks, the move proved successful and the players returned to work. The benefits of this would be apparent in future years as lasting labor peace was reached with the NFL Players Association in 1992 and has continued since.

His position as chairman of the NFL Competition Committee from 1966 to 1988 aided his innovative efforts. Schramm's impact on the league was widespread, and probably his most cherished legacy since the one-time TV-executive at CBS who first came up with the idea of televising the Winter Olympics in 1960 from Squaw Valley was such a firm believer in preserving and making history.

One of Schramm's most significant accomplishments in the NFL was coordinating the merger of the established NFL and the fledging American Football League in 1966, holding what amounted to as secret meetings with Kansas City Chiefs owner Lamar Hunt at the insistence of NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

The merger of the two warring leagues led to what became known as the Super Bowl, and when the leagues combined in 1970, the most powerful sports league in the world.

After Schramm departed the Cowboys in 1989 when Jerry Jones bought the club, he went international, becoming president of the upstart World League of American Football, later to become know as NFL Europe. He was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1991.

"I'm not one of the great athletes like the men behind me," a jubilant Schramm said during his Hall of Fame induction speech. "But I'm thrilled to be standing in front of them. Many of the men in here were my heroes. To be rubbing shoulders with them, it's beyond my comprehension."

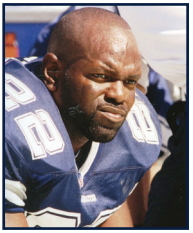
In all, Schramm spent 44 years of his life in professional football, starting as a sportswriter for the Austin American-Statesman in 1947 – a natural step for the California-born Schramm who earned a bachelor's degree in journalism from the University of Texas. Schramm spent 10 seasons with the Los Angeles Rams (1947-56), where Schramm first came in contact with Rozelle, who Schramm hired to be the Rams public relations director in 1952. Schramm then spent a brief period (1957-59) at CBS before being hired by Clint Murchison in 1959 to oversee the startup of the Dallas expansion franchise.

Schramm was born on June 2, 1920, in San Gabriel, Calif.

SCHRAMM'S NFL LEGACY

During Schramm's 25 years as chairman of the NFL's Competition Committee, the NFL implemented the following:

Year	Contribution
1970	Moved the official game time to the scoreboard clock
1972	Moved the hash marks toward the center of the field to aid offense
1974	Implemented stricter pass defense rules to influence scoring
1974	Moved goalposts from the goal line to the end line for safety and to help offensive play
1974	Developed the sudden-death overtime concept for breaking ties
1975	Gave the referee a microphone to announce calls to the crowd and TV audiences
1977	Made defensive linemen's head slaps illegal
1979	Implemented the in-the-grasp rule to protect quarterbacks
1986	Instituted Instant Replay to aid officials
	Enabled Quarterbacks to stop the clock by throwing the ball directly into the ground



22 ★ EMMITT SMITH ★
Running Back, 1990-2002
INDUCTED – 2010

In 15 seasons - 13 with Dallas - Emmitt Smith made an impact on the NFL that few players can match at any position or in any era. As the NFL's all-time leading rusher, Smith also won four NFL rushing titles, three Super Bowl titles and a league (1993) and Super Bowl (XXVIII) MVP award. He was selected to the Pro Bowl eight times, and on the club's offense, only Larry Allen (10) was selected to more in club history. Among NFL running backs, only Barry Sanders (10) was selected more times. With 975 rushing yards in 2002, Smith became just the seventh player in NFL history to carry the title of all-time rushing leader, taking that designation from Walter Payton.

After 13 seasons in Dallas, Smith had 17,162 career rushing yards, and he moved past Payton's 16,726 career yard mark in Week Eight of the 2002 season against Seattle. Smith finished his pro career with 18,355 yards and is also the NFL's career rushing touchdowns leader (164), and second in league annals in total touchdowns (175), trailing Jerry Rice by 33. The first player in NFL history to post five straight seasons with over 1,400 yards rushing, Smith, Jim Brown and LaDainian Tomlinson are the only players with seven straight 10-touchdown seasons to start their career. With 1,021 yards rushing in 2001, Smith became the first player in NFL history to rush for 1,000 yards in 11 consecutive seasons and the first to post 11 1,000-yard rushing seasons in a career.

Smith holds the NFL record for career rushing attempts with 4,409, passing Payton (3,838) in Week Three of the 2002 season. With an NFL record 25 rushing touchdowns in 1995, Smith scored 100 career touchdowns in just six seasons, originally the fastest anyone in league history had reached that mark. Smith also tied Brown's NFL record by scoring 100 touchdowns in just 93 career games. Since Smith's accomplishment, Tomlinson reached the feat in 89 games. His 25 career scores against the Arizona Cardinals is tied for the third-best total by a player against an opponent since 1970, followed by his 24 scores against Washington and the N.Y Giants.

His value to the Cowboys success can be seen in the club's 99-26 mark (91-24 in regular season) when he carried the ball 20-or-more times a game and 64-19 record (57-19 in regular season) when he rushed for 100 yards. The century mark became a big number in Smith's career, having rushed for 100 yards in 155-of-326 games dating back to high school, including 83-of-218 games with Dallas, including playoffs. In NFL annals, Smith's 78 regular season 100-yard rushing games is a record. Included in Smith's club-record 76 100-yard rushing games are 11 of the top 15 performances in team history and 18 days with over 150 yards (the fourth highest total of 150-yard games in NFL history). Smith rushed for over 100-yards against 22 of the 32 NFL teams.

In addition, he rushed for 2,466 yards against the Philadelphia Eagles in his 15-year career, his best output against any single opponent. That total ranks second since 1970 for running backs against one team. Smith also has the third and fourth best totals in that category.

One reason Smith was such a workhorse in the Dallas offense over the years was his ability to answer the bell at game time, having started 216-of-218 career games - including playoffs. While in Dallas, he missed just four career games due to injury, and it was that durability that enabled Smith to lead the Cowboys in rushing in 178 of his 201 career regular season games. The lack of decline in Smith's game is also evidenced by the fact that he had rushed for 5,928 yards from 1998-2002 – the fifth highest yardage total in the NFL over that time span. His 41 rushing touchdowns during his last five years in Dallas was the third-best figure in the league.

Not limited to rushing and scoring, Smith is fourth on the Cowboys all-time reception list with 486 career catches, trailing Drew Pearson (489) by three receptions. Smith is one of only six NFL players who have amassed over 9,000 career-rushing yards and 500 career receptions. He is second on the NFL's yards from scrimmage list and fourth on the NFL's all-time combined yardage list with 20,174 yards.

Smith was born on May 15, 1969 in Pensacola, Fla.

SMITH'S ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

- ★ 8 -Time Pro Bowl selection

12 ★ ROGER STAUBACH ★

Quarterback, 1969-79
INDUCTED – 1985

Good things come to those who wait, and certainly the Dallas Cowboys patience in the mid-60's was supremely rewarded, landing one of the best players in franchise history because they were willing to wait for Roger Staubach to fulfill his military commitment.

For those five years of patience, the Cowboys landed the guy who became better know as "Roger The Dodger" over the next 11 years when he was selected to six Pro Bowls – including five consecutively – and was named the NFL Players Association Most Valuable Player in 1971. Staubach led the NFL in passing four times and was selected to the All-NFC team five times.

"He is one of the finest to ever play the game," Green Bay Packers Quarterback Bart Starr once said of Staubach. "I think if I had some of that Staubach competitiveness, I'd have been much better."

Staubach, the 1963 Heisman Trophy winner, was drafted by the Dallas Cowboys in 1964 from the Naval Academy, but did not join the team until 1969 due to his Navy commitment. Former president and general manager Tex Schramm signed Staubach to a futures contract in a hotel room in 1964, actually scribbling out the details on a legal-sized tablet that would have Staubach paid annually to participate in training camp practices when he had enough leave built up.

The 1963 Heisman Trophy winner showed up in Dallas as a 27-year-old rookie, but in those 11 seasons still managed to carve out the franchise's all-time leading quarterback rating of 83.42 and became a four-time NFL passing champion. But Staubach almost became better known for his scrambling ability, and to this day ranks 11th on the Cowboys all-time rushing list with 2,264 yards.

Staubach owns the second-most passing yards in club history, 22,700, and his 3,586 in 1979 still ranks as the sixth most passing yards in a single season for the Cowboys. He also still leads the club with a career average of 7.67 yards-per-attempt.
Staubach also become known as "Captain Comeback" for his 23 fourth-quarter come-from-behind victories in regular season and playoff games, including 14 in the final two minutes or overtime. Never was this more apparent than in a 1975 playoff game against the Minnesota Vikings when Staubach connected with wide receiver Drew Pearson on a desperation 50-yard "Hail Mary" touchdown pass that knocked the Vikings out of the playoffs.

"You could never defeat Roger mentally or physically," late Cowboys head coach Tom Landry said in 1983. "He was like that in a game, in practice or in the business world."

Staubach ended his Cowboys career with four Super Bowl appearances, including wins in Super Bowls VI and XII. In Super Bowl VI, Staubach was named the game's Most Valuable Player.

Following the 1979 season, Staubach retired, fearing the after-effects of recurring concussions.

In 1983, Staubach became the sixth member of the Dallas Cowboys Ring of Honor and two years later was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

He was born Feb. 5, 1942, in Cincinnati, Ohio.

54 ★ RANDY WHITE ★
Defensive Tackle, 1975-1988
INDUCTED – 1994

Randy White came to the Cowboys from the University of Maryland as the No. 2 pick in the 1975 NFL Draft. Before his career was over, 14 years later, he would become known as the "Manster" – half man, half defensive monster – setting numerous franchise records as the heart-and-soul of the famed "Doomsday Defense."

White struggled in his first two years with the Cowboys when then head coach Tom Landry moved White from his familiar defensive tackle position to linebacker. But, after Landry moved White back to right tackle in 1977, White became one of the NFL's most dominating defensive linemen and a coveted co-Super Bowl MVP.

"Coming out of college a lot was expected of me," White said. "But I never did feel comfortable playing linebacker. Those first two years I was fighting for my life out there. Then they switched me to defensive tackle, where I was a lot more comfortable and from there my career took off."

White played 14 seasons, tying him for second all-time in franchise history, and he set a franchise record with eight All-Pro selections. White also was selected to nine Pro Bowls, ranking third in franchise history for Pro Bowl appearances. White's 16 sacks in 1978 rank third in franchise history for a single season, and he still remains third all-time in career tackles with 1,104 and second with 701 career solo tackles.

"His performances range anywhere from spectacular to spectacular," Landry once said. "He could outmatch anybody's intensity from game to game."

In his career, White played in six NFC Championship Games and three Super Bowls, claiming victory in Super Bowl XII and co-MVP honors with teammate Harvey Martin. Even more astounding, White only missed one game in his 14-year career.

In 1994, White was inducted into the Ring of Honor with teammate Tony Dorsett, the same year he was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

"Any honor I receive is a reflection on the great teammates and coaches I had in my career," White said. "There's a real special group of guys with the Cowboys, and to be a part of that was a great honor."
He was born Jan. 15, 1953, in Pittsburgh, Pa.

70 ★ RAYFIELD WRIGHT ★
Offensive Tackle, 1967-79
INDUCTED – 2006

Only nine players have played football for the Dallas Cowboys longer than Rayfield Wright, and only five players in the history of the Cowboys organization have been to more Pro Bowls than Wright's six.

After playing tight end, tackle and defensive end during his first three NFL seasons, Wright settled in at right tackle in 1970. Before undergoing knee surgery that forced him to miss most of the 1977 season, Wright was acknowledged as the NFL's premier offensive tackle. Wright was selected to six straight Pro Bowls (1971-76) as a tackle while earning All-Pro honors four times and earning recognition on the NFL's all-decade team for the 1970s.

During each of his 13 seasons, the Cowboys offense ranked in the top six in the NFL for total offense, including leading the league five times. Behind his blocking, Calvin Hill became the first 1,000 yard rusher in team history when he ran for 1,036 yards in 1972. All totaled, Dallas had a running back clear the 1,000 yard barrier five times during his tenure. Also behind his blocking, Roger Staubach became the first quarterback in franchise history to throw for more than 3,000 yards in a season when he totaled 3,190 passing yards in 1978, the year Wright returned from his knee surgery.

In his 13-year NFL career with the Dallas Cowboys, Wright was a key contributor to teams that had 13 straight winning seasons, made 12 playoff trips and won 10 division titles. He also played in eight conference championship games and won five NFC Championships (1970, 1971, 1975, 1977, 1978) and two Super Bowls (VI and XII). He was part of a team that had a 74.1% winning percentage in the regular season (137-48-1) and a 60.0% winning percentage in the post season (15-10).

During his 13 seasons, Wright was a participant in five Super Bowls, claiming the ultimate prize twice. Only one other player in NFL history has appeared in more Super Bowls than Wright, he is one of only 13 players in NFL history, and the only offensive tackle, to have played in five Super Bowls.

During Wright's career, the Cowboys were the only team to play in five Super Bowls in one calendar decade – or in any ten year period of time – advancing to the Super Bowl following the 1970, 1971 1975, 1977 and 1978 seasons.

Rayfield Wright was inducted into the Dallas Cowboys Ring of Honor on October 10, 2004, joining Bob Lilly, Don Meredith, Don Perkins, Chuck Howley, Mel Renfro, Roger Staubach, Lee Roy Jordan, Randy White, Tony Dorsett, Tom Landry, Bob Hayes, Tex Schramm and Cliff Harris. Troy Aikman, Michael Irvin and Emmitt Smith were inducted in 2005.

He was born August 23, 1945, in Griffin, Ga.

- ★ 4-time All Pro
- ★ Super Bowl VI and XII titles

Allen, a member of the NFL's All-Decade Team for the 1990s and 2000s, became the second Cowboys offensive lineman to earn a bust in Canton. Parcells, who coached four seasons in Dallas, is the third head coach (Tom Landry) or executive (Tex Shramm) to have the honor.

2014

IT'S GOOD! – Dan Bailey drilled two field goals in the win at St. Louis (9/21) to pass Chris Boniol with the longest streak of consecutive field goals made - 28. He added two more against Houston (10/5) before missing one in that same game, setting the mark at 30.

500th WIN – In handing New Orleans (9/28) a 38-17 Sunday night loss, the Dallas Cowboys registered their 500th overall win (including postseason). Dallas became the 11th team in NFL history with 500 wins, and did it in 880 games, the second-fastest to reach 500. Chicago was the fastest, reaching the mark in 870 games.

900 CATCHES FOR 10,000 YARDS – Jason Witten became the second Dallas Cowboy (Irvin) to reach 10,000 career receiving yards after tallying 59 yards against Houston (10/5). He then became just the second tight end - 16th player - in league history to reach 900 career catches with his two at Seattle (10/12).

THE GOAT – In the win at Seattle (10/12), Dan Bailey had three field goals, including a career-long 56-yarder, to give him 102 career field goals made. He became the second Cowboys kicker (Rafael Septien) to reach 100 and also qualified for all-time kicking stats. By season's end, Bailey's 89.8 field goal percentage is tops all-time.

RUN MURRAY, RUN – DeMarco Murray's 128 rushing yards against the N.Y. Giants (10/19) made him the first rusher in NFL history to record a streak of seven consecutive games to open the season with 100 rushing yards, breaking Jim Brown's 56-year old record of six straight games to open a season. Murray continued the streak a week later against Washington (10/27) before failing to reach 100 yards versus Arizona in Week 9, setting the NFL record at eight consecutive games. Murray was recognized as the NFL Offensive player of the month in both September and October for his accomplishments during the stretch.

ALL-TIME CLUB PASSING YARDS LEADER – Tony Romo completed 18-of-20 passes for 218 yards in the win at Indianapolis (12/21). His 218 yards gave him 32,971 for his career to pass Troy Aikman (32,942) as the club's all-time passing yards leader.

DOUBLE CROWN WITH A SPLASH – Dallas closed out its home scheudule with a 42-7 victory over Indianapolis (12/21) to give the club its 22nd division and 18th NFC East title. Then the season-ending win at Washington (12/28) provided several highlights for Dallas. The club earned its eighth road win of the season to become the first team in club history and the sixth team since the NFL merger to go 8-0 on the road. Additionally, Murray finished the game with his club-record 12th 100-yard game of the season to give him 1,845 yards on the season, passing Emmitt Smith's previous mark of 1,773 (1995).

EIGHT-BALL TO THE PRO BOWL – The Dallas Cowboys had eight players - seven on offense - earn a selection to the Pro Bowl. DeMarco Murray made his second trip and was selected as a team captain. Tony Romo (fourth), Jason Witten (10th), Tyron Smith (second), Dez Bryant (first), Travis Frederick (first), Louis-Philippe Ladouceur (first) and Zack Martin (first)all made the cut.

WITH HONORS – Dallas Cowboys Owner, President and General Manager Jerry Jones was recognized as the 2014 Pro Football Writers of America Executive of the Year. Jones is the first member of the Cowboys – and second NFL owner (Al Davis, Oakland – 2002) – to earn the PFWA's Executive of the Year award, which began in 1993. DeMarco Murray was named the AP Offensive Player of the Year for 2014. In his best season as a professional, Murray led the NFL with a Cowboys franchise-record 1,845 rushing yards, 2,261 scrimmage yards, 392 rush attempts and 13 touchdowns while carrying the Cowboys into the playoffs for the first time since 2009. The Dallas Cowboys placed a league-high four players – wide receiver Dez Bryant, center Travis Frederick, running back DeMarco Murray and tackle Tyron Smith – on the 2014 All-NFL team, chosen in voting conducted by the Professional Football Writers of America (PFWA).

He finished his career as the Cowboys all-time leading tackler with 1,350 stops, was named to the Pro Bowl five times and was a three-time Super Bowl champion.

DYNAMIC DUO – Tony Romo connected with Dez Bryant for their 50th touchdown in the fourth quarter at Miami (11/22) to surpass Troy Aikman and Michael Irvin (49) for the most QB-WR touchdowns in franchise history. It took Bryant and Romo 68 games to score 50 touchdowns, while it took Aikman and Irvin 128 games to reach 49 touchdowns.

ALL-TIME CONSECUTIVE GAMES PLAYED LEADER – Jason Witten played in his 197th consecutive game at Miami (11/22) to surpass Bob Lilly (196, 1961-1974) for the most consecutive games played in team history. SIDELINES

Home to the Dallas Cowboys

The Dallas Cowboys have called three different stadiums home during their 56 years of existence. Their original home was the Cotton Bowl (1960-1971) followed by Texas Stadium (1971-2008) and finally their current home, AT&T Stadium (2009-present.)

Cotton Bowl

The original Fair Park football stadium was built in 1921 and seated 15,000. That wooden structure was razed in 1930 and construction began on what is now the Cotton Bowl. The original seating capacity of the stadium was 46,200 and built at a cost of $328,000. In January 1936, Fair Park Stadium was officially renamed The Cotton Bowl in recognition of the fact that more cotton was raised within 200 miles of Dallas than any other town in America. Later additions of upper decks on each side increased capacity to 75,504 by the time the Cowboys arrived in 1960. From 1960 into the 1971 season, the Cowboys called the Cotton Bowl home, posting a 45-33-4 record, including a 2-2 mark in postseason. Until 2009, the largest home crowd in club history was the 80,259 that packed into the Cotton Bowl on Nov. 24, 1966 to watch the Cowboys defeat the Cleveland Browns 26-14 in the inaugural Thanksgiving Day game in Dallas.

Texas Stadium

Texas Stadium, a football facility built at a cost of $35 million in 1971, was the home of the Dallas Cowboys for 38 seasons and hosted its final game on Dec. 20, 2008 against the Baltimore Ravens. The Cowboys opened their facility on Oct. 24, 1971 with a 44-21 victory over New England. During that time, the Cowboys posted a 213-100 record (.681), including a 16-6 (.727) mark in postseason, at home. Located in the Dallas suburb of Irving, Texas Stadium had a seating capacity of 65,581 and featured 381 luxury suites, 52 concession stands, 40 specialty stands, 86 restrooms, 115 drinking fountains and 130 acres of parking. Texas Stadium's most unique feature was the partial roof which covered fans from inclement weather, but left the game outdoors. The Cowboys incorporated the design feature in their new home which also includes a retractable roof.

AT&T Stadium

On Nov. 2, 2004 the voters of Arlington approved a public-private partnership with the Dallas Cowboys to build a state-of-the-art, retractable roof stadium in Arlington, Texas. Located in the heart of Arlington's entertainment district, construction on the stadium began in April 2006 and was completed early in the summer of 2009.

The largest NFL stadium ever built was designed to enhance the international Cowboys brand with its modern progressive architecture while incorporating elements of the Texas Stadium heritage such as the shape of the roof's opening, the Ring of Honor and Tom Landry statue.

The 3.0-million square-foot stadium has a capacity of up to 100,000. The stadium features signature monumental arches, an expansive retractable roof, massive glass retractable end zone doors, a distinguishing canted glass wall, and the world's largest center-hung HD video board.

"The challenge for us with this stadium was to innovate, but at the same time never forget to acknowledge tradition," said Jerry Jones, owner and president, Dallas Cowboys. "This stadium embodies the spirit of the Dallas Cowboys and that starts with the familiar 'hole in the roof.' What we have designed is a building we believe is both architecturally significant and also reflects the emotion and competition that goes on inside."

The stadium was designed by HKS Architects, one of the top stadium designers in the world. The stadium was renamed AT&T Stadium on July 25, 2013 after the Cowboys and AT&T announced a long term agreement.

The 2009 season rang in a new era for the Dallas Cowboys as the club moved to its new home in Arlington, Texas to kickoff the 2009 season. Officially opened on May 27, 2009 in a ribbon cutting ceremony, then named Cowboys Stadium hosted the first Cowboys game on Aug. 21 - a preseason contest against the Tennessee Titans. The first regular season Cowboys game was on September 20 against the N.Y. Giants, and the game set an NFL attendance record at 105,121.

Not only is the stadium home to the Dallas Cowboys, but it played host to Super Bowl XLV on February 6, 2011, the first Super Bowl in the region. This venue is also home to the annual Goodyear Cotton Bowl Classic, as well as annual college football games, including the "AdvoCare Classic" which helps kick off the college football season on Labor Day Weekend each year. On Jan. 12, 2015 AT&T Stadium hosted the first ever College Football Playoff Championship Game, and the venue will also be part of the rotation for a college football playoff semifinal game. In April, 2014, the stadium hosted the NCAA Men's Basketball Final Four.

Key Design Highlights

★ Monumental Arches – The stadium features two monumental arches, soaring 292 feet above the playing field, which support a retractable roof. As the longest single span roof structure in the world, each boxed arch is 17 feet wide by 35 feet deep. Weighing 3,255 tons each, these impressive structures span a quarter mile (1,290 feet) in length. As one of the first components to be constructed, the arches form a striking silhouette on the Arlington landscape as sunlight reflects against the metallic surface during the day.

★ Retractable Roof – Designed to be open or closed, depending on weather conditions, the expansive retractable roof is the largest of its kind in the world and measures approximately 661,000-square-feet. When closed, the roof encompasses 104-million-cubic-feet of volume, making it the largest enclosed NFL stadium. The retractable roof is designed specifically to emulate the opening at Texas Stadium, which was recognized around the world, and allows views inward and outward. Each panel can open or close in 10 minutes. The entire playing field can be seen from directly above.

★ Retractable Doors – The stadium features the largest retractable end zone doors in the world. Each has a five-leaf, clear, retractable opening measuring 120 feet high by 180 feet wide. The five 38-foot panels take only six minutes to open or close. By using clear glass for the door panels, spectators experience panoramic vistas from within the seating bowl and when circulating through the stadium concourses. Moreover, the operability provides air circulation during game-day and non-game-day events.

★ Center-Hung Videoboard – Within the seating bowl, Cowboys fans are provided with a one-of-a-kind feature unlike any other in the world, a center-hung video board. Hanging 90 feet above the field from the roof structure, the innovative video center spans between the 20-yard lines and features four individual boards – two facing the sidelines and two facing the end zones. The sideline boards measure 160 feet wide by 72 feet tall while those facing the end zones measure 53 feet by 30 feet. All four boards are angled toward the stands for optimal viewing. The stunning combination of these boards immerses spectators with video imagery, creating a premium on upper level seats and presenting the game in a way never before experienced.

★ Canted Glass Wall – One of the most compelling architectural features of the stadium design is the canted glass exterior wall. The 86-foot high glass, curtain-wall surface slopes outwardly at a 14 degree angle to create a luminescent glow day or night. A fritted glass system transitions up the elevation to create a dynamic, ever-changing aesthetic depending on the time of day. At night, a series of internal lights gently wash the glass wall to create a glow across the facade.

★ Suites – The design includes over 300 suites that have been decentralized and are in eight locations distributed across five separate levels of the stadium. The most unique are the field-level sideline suites for up-close and personal viewing of the games.

Design Statistics

Total Square Footage: 3.0 million-square-feet. The entire Statue of Liberty and its base could fit into the stadium with the roof closed. The stadium is also the world's largest column-free room. The American Airlines Center in Dallas could fit entirely into the stadium at field level.

Interior Cubic Volume: 104 million-cubic-feet. (By comparison, Reliant Stadium in Houston measures 90 million-cubic-feet.) AT&T Stadium is the largest enclosed stadium (in cubic-feet) in the NFL.

Seating Capacity: With ticketed areas in the end zone plazas and platforms, capacity can reach over 100,000.

Suites: There are over 300 suites in eight different locations on five separate levels of the stadium. Field-level suites are available on the sidelines as well as in the end zones for up-close and personal viewing of the games. The Hall of Fame level suites are 20 rows from the field, making them the closest elevated suites in the NFL.

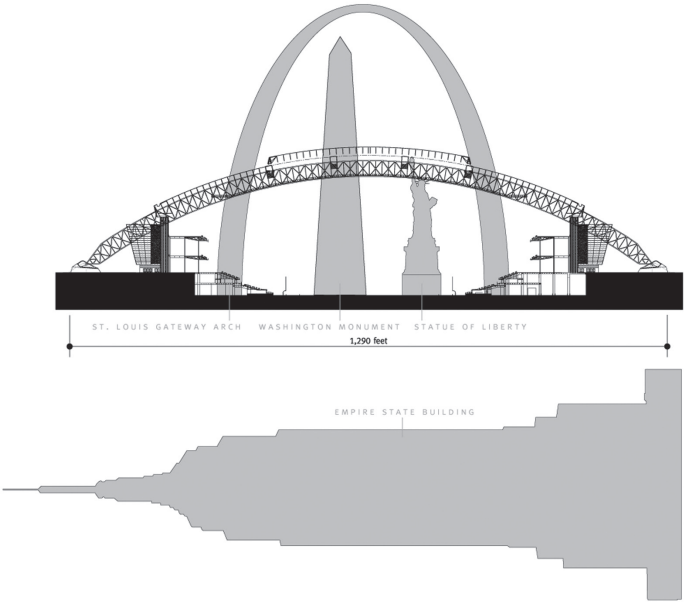
Domed Roof: At 661,000-square-feet, the stadium is the largest domed structure in the world.

Retractable Roof: The open roof design that was a unique feature of Texas Stadium was carried over into the design of the stadium, with the improvement of a new retractable feature, revealing an opening that measures 256 feet wide and 410 feet long. Two bi-parting mechanized roof panels are driven by a rack-and-pinion drive system consisting of 64 7.5 HP electric motors, making it the first of its kind in the world. The open/close time is 12 minutes.

Arches: The roof is supported by two 35-feet deep and 17-feet wide boxed arch trusses. Each truss spans nearly a quarter mile (1,290 feet) making the roof the longest clear-span structure in the world. The arches are more than twice the length of the Gateway Arch in St. Louis.

Glass Retractable Door: Each end zone features a five-leaf clear glass retractable door measuring 120 feet high and 180 feet wide, making it the tallest movable glass wall in the world.

Parking: It is estimated that between parking owned or under control of the Dallas Cowboys as well as the entrepreneurial lots in and around the stadium area, that there are as many as 30,000 parking spaces available to fans on game day-



As the largest NFL venue ever built, the stadium boasts the most spectacular column-free room in the world, stretching a quarter-mile in length. Encasing 3.0-million-square-feet, the majestic scale of the stadium measures twice the distance of the St. Louis Gateway arch. In addition, the Statue of Liberty can stand completely inside the room structure. The length of the arches spans the same distance as the height of the Empire State Building. The magnitude of the stadium's size and scale places it on the world's stage of iconic structures.

AT&T Stadium Facts and Figures

On July 25, 2013, two iconic American brands - the Dallas Cowboys and AT&T - jointly announced an expansion of their long-standing relationship to include a new name for the team's home, AT&T Stadium, as well as plans to create an innovative, mobile-first experience for fans.

"AT&T is an iconic American leader that has guided the path of communication in the world for more than 100 years," said Cowboys owner Jerry Jones. "Our stadium has always been about providing fans with an unsurpassed experience in the area of technology. With AT&T, we are growing our relationship with one of the world's strongest and most innovative companies to ultimately provide fans with the latest cutting-edge technology for many years to come."

The name change is reflected in substantial signage updates throughout the building, prominently featuring AT&T, both inside and outside of the stadium. The Cowboys and AT&T are working together to deliver an interactive gameday experience for fans like no other. AT&T and the Cowboys continue to invest in advanced mobile technology in and around AT&T Stadium to benefit all visitors.

AT&T Stadium - What Fans Need to Know

Access

One of the great assets Arlington has is accessibility to the entire metroplex. There are 14 approaches from major highways into AT&T Stadium in Arlington. From a regional standpoint, the stadium is one of the most accessible venues ever planned.

Parking

It is estimated that between parking under control of the Cowboys, as well as entrepreneurial lots around the stadium, there are as many as 30,000 parking spaces available to fans on game day.

Plaza Area and Open End Zones

The stadium design incorporates two open end zones with glass retractable doors measuring 120 feet high and 180 feet wide, making them the tallest glass retractable doors in the world. The plazas outside these doors, one in each end zone – along with the three party decks in each end zone – create over 420,000-square-feet of entertainment space (approximately 10 acres). Media boards and large-screen monitors add entertainment to the area, and create a festival atmosphere, making these areas a great space for people to gather before, during and after events to socialize. The field is 50 feet below ground level, so fans entering on the plaza level will have a panoramic view over the field. The end zone area has the flexibility to convert from standing-room only to seating, based on specific event needs.

Video Boards

There are approximately 3,000 televisions in the building. The most unique being the four board cluster that is suspended 90 feet directly over the center of the playing surface. The board runs from the 20-yard line to the 20-yard line – measuring 160 feet in length and 72 feet in height – making it the largest center-hung video board installation in the world, setting a Guinness Book World Record. The center video board allows fans on all levels to view the game in crisp, clear images during the game. This creates a premium on the value of the upper-level seats and makes the game more exciting for all fans.

Amenities and Restrooms

The stadium features 824 concession points of sale as well as more than 1,800 toilets. Some of the restrooms are reversible based on the needs of the event.

Ring of Honor

The Dallas Cowboys Ring of Honor is a featured part of the new stadium. The Ring's members are forever honored on the wall surrounding the field, emblazoned with the same letters and numbers that originally hung proudly at Texas Stadium.

Miller Lite Corral

Located on AT&T Stadium's Miller Lite West Plaza, the Miller Lite Corral is the center of pre and postgame entertainment for all fans with a game ticket. The Miller Lite Corral spans over 8,000-square-feet of patio and beer gardens amid landscape terraces and trees. Fans can enjoy a cold Miller Lite and live entertainment both pre and postgame, as well as be able to watch the Cowboys game from any of the 18 big screen televisions located in the Miller Lite Corral.

The Star in Frisco

In August 2013, the Dallas Cowboys, in partnership with the City of Frisco as well as the Frisco Independent School District (ISD), announced plans for The Star in Frisco – a vision that would become home of the Dallas Cowboys World Corporate Headquarters. The Cowboys broke ground on The Star in August 2014, and construction will be complete for most elements in September 2016, with some additional components opening in early 2017 and into 2018.

THE STAR

The Star is located in Frisco, Texas, a suburb north of Dallas, Texas. The facility is part of the $5 Billion Mile comprised of four mixed-use developments along the Dallas North Tollway in between Warren Parkway and Lebanon Road. Ranked the second-fastest growing economy in America, Frisco is home to more than 150,000 residents.

Plans for the 91-acre mixed-use development quickly grew from the Dallas Cowboys World Corporate Headquarters to be a destination featuring shopping, dining, nightlife, athletic, fitness, event and hotel options.

With partnerships with the City of Frisco and Frisco ISD in place, the Cowboys put a strong focus on inspiring the next generation of players and fans by uniquely engaging them at the place where the Dallas Cowboys live, work and practice.

The Star is set to be the only NFL training facility in the U.S. that is shared with a public high school athletic program. All eight Frisco ISD high schools will play home games within the Ford Center at The Star, a state-of-the-art, 510,000-square-foot indoor athletic facility. With a capacity of 12,000 seats, similar to those found at AT&T Stadium, the Ford Center will host a variety of events in addition to football games.

"Moving from Valley Ranch to The Star is bittersweet," said Jerry Jones, owner and president, Dallas Cowboys. "We have a lot of history and memories there, but what is exciting is what we're building goes beyond the Cowboys. It involves these young, talented athletes with Frisco ISD; it involves the entire Frisco community with what we'll offer from training, health and wellness, to dining, entertainment, shopping and more. We've put our heart and soul into this next chapter for the Cowboys, and we can't wait for fans to experience everything that The Star will offer."

The Cowboys worked with several companies to develop all elements of The Star, including: Manhattan Construction Group, Gensler, O'Brien Architects, ICRAVE, Advent Design Corp., Kimley-Horn and Associates, Walter P. Moore, and Henderson Engineers, Inc.

The Cowboys officially moved into The Star in July 2016, with The Star Kickoff presented by Whataburger on Saturday, August 27, 2016 – a one-day event featuring all eight FISD high school varsity football teams – serving as the first event in the Ford Center at The Star.

Key Design Highlights

★ Ford Center at The Star – The Ford Center at The Star is a state-of-the-art, 510,000-square-foot indoor athletic facility to be shared by the Dallas Cowboys, the City of Frisco, and Frisco ISD's eight high schools. It will seat 12,000 in folding fixed seats and will feature an interior video board (1,824 square feet) and an exterior video board (2,270 square feet). The exterior video board will be the largest in high school sports. Beyond high school football, it will host a variety of events including soccer games, marching band competitions and more. The Ford Center at The Star is home to Dallas Cowboys Football Operations, including its locker room, training room, coaches' offices, team rooms, training table and hydrotherapy. Frisco ISD will have a dedicated side to the Ford Center that will include a locker room, training room, press area and coaches' offices. The Ford Center at The Star boasts one indoor and two outdoor (one turf and one natural grass) NFL and University Interscholastic League (UIL) compliant practice fields. It will include four luxury suites and a premium hospitality area that will overlook the indoor stadium and outdoor practice fields.

★ War Room at The Star – The 2017 NFL draft will be conducted in a new, state-of-the-art war room outfitted with new technology and adorned with Cowboys historical draft documents. The room is approximately 40' x 30', and will be filled with about 40 people on draft day (20-25 coaches, 12-15 scouts, several team trainers/executives). A large (roughly 20' x 7'), fully interactive video wall will be at the front of the room; it will be comprised of three rows of five 55" LCD narrow bezel displays (15 total screens). In addition, the room will included two, 98-inch, 4K multi-touch displays on a wall to be used for side-by-side comparison of two players doing the same exercise/running the same play during a game. A display case in the hallway outside of the war room will contain three historical draft books with notable evaluations (Troy Aikman, etc.) and one high-tech, animated draft book that will "scribble" notes and play video clips. The room will be open to the public for tours of The Star, and fans will get a chance to win a "War Room Experience" in a continued partnership with the Texas Lottery.

★ Outdoor Entertainment at The Star – The 40,500 square foot Tostito's Championship Plaza is where Times Square meets town square. Located at the heart of The Star, it will feature a 2,270-square-foot video board, in addition to interactive displays and other video boards, and a 50-yard football field for community activities. The Dallas Cowboys Ring of Honor Walk presented by Dr Pepper at The Star will lead up to the Ford Center at The Star, and will highlight key players in Cowboys history as well as North Texas leaders through the Dallas Cowboys Community Ring of Honor presented by Dr Pepper. The Star will also feature a Nike jogging trail.

★ The Omni Frisco Hotel at The Star – The Omni Frisco Hotel at The Star will be completed in summer 2017. The 16-story, 300-room luxury hotel will be the tallest building in Frisco, and will be designed to host meetings and events as well as business and leisure travelers. A rooftop pool deck with a bar and grill will overlook the Ford Center at The Star. The Omni Frisco Hotel will be able to accommodate up to 1,000 attendees for an event or banquet, and boasts 24,000 square feet of meeting space inclusive of 13,000-square foot ballroom.

★ Baylor Scott & White Sports Therapy & Research at The Star – The 300,000-square-foot campus, to be named Baylor Scott & White Sports Therapy & Research at The Star, will focus on injury prevention, research and wellness for athletes of all levels, and is expected to become a nationally recognized model for the holistic treatment of physically active individuals upon its completion in early 2018. It is also a first-of-its-kind collaboration between an NFL team, a health system and a school district – Frisco ISD. The initial phase of the project will include an ambulatory surgery center, a diagnostic imaging center, physical therapy, a preventive care program for athletes and several other health care offerings.

★ Cowboys Club at The Star – The Cowboys Club at The Star is an exclusive, members-only club designed to provide one-of-a-kind experiences for members and their guests. The Cowboys Club will overlook the Dallas Cowboys practice fields and the Ford Center field, allowing a bird's-eye view of the Cowboys and Frisco ISD practices and camps. The club venue will feature multiple bar and dining options, including a five-star restaurant, as well as a terrace where members can dine. The Cowboys Club will have monthly, members-only events and each member will have access to meeting rooms, catering to both business and private gatherings. The Cowboys put memberships on-sale to the Cowboys Club January 12, 2016, and sold out approximately one month later on February 15, 2016. Those interested in purchasing a membership can still be added to the Cowboys Club wait list by calling 817.892.4400. The Cowboys Club will open in September 2016.

★ Ring of Honor at The Star – The tradition continues to honor the 21 members of the Dallas Cowboys Football Club who have made outstanding contributions throughout the team's history. Within the retail area of The Star will be the Dallas Cowboys Ring of Honor Walk and Dallas Cowboys Community Ring of Honor, presented by Dr Pepper. North Texas community leaders will be recognized in addition to these storied players and coaches via a rotating showcase that will introduce new honorees each year, starting in 2017. A key design element of the area will include numbers 12 and 88 placed 50 yards apart for Roger Staubach and Drew Pearson, paying homage to the iconic 50-yard, game-winning "Hail Mary" pass from Staubach to Pearson that toppled the Minnesota Vikings in the 1975 playoffs and introduced the phrase "Hail Mary" into the sports lexicon.

Cowboys Summer Training Camp

The Dallas Cowboys will return to Oxnard, California to open their 56th training camp on July 30 at the Residence Inn at River Ridge. The first practice session will take place on Saturday, July 30. Camp in Oxnard is set to break on Thursday, August 18.

Four seasons ago, Dallas came back to the west coast after training in the Alamodome in San Antonio prior to the 2011 season. Since 2004, Dallas has held training camp in Oxnard (2004-06, 2008, 2010 and 2012-15) and/or San Antonio (2007, 2009, 2010 and 2011).

Dallas Cowboys Training Camp is one of the annual highlights for Dallas Cowboys fans. It offers a rare opportunity for Cowboys fans from all over the United States and the world to get an "up close and personal look" at their favorite team with all practice sessions free and open to the public.

Introduced at Texas Stadium in 1972 to add glamour, excitement and entertainment value to the NFL game-day experience, the Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders became an American icon, creating an international phenomenon that was replicated throughout the NFL. Their image and style continues to have a tremendous impact on sports entertainment, but while they are often imitated, no other organization has been able to achieve their prominence or popularity. The Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders are recognized around the world as an elite performance group, and their star spangled uniforms are one of the most well-known symbols of pop culture.

During the 70s, their national popularity created such a sensation that two made-for-tv movies were developed about the squad and achieved top ratings. The Cheerleaders have made guest appearances on national television shows such as "Conan," "American Idol," "The View," "The Today Show," "Saturday Night Live" and "David Letterman," and have competed for the benefit of charity on "1 versus 100," "Are You Smarter Than A Fifth Grader," and "Identity." For more than two decades, they have produced their own "The Making of the Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders Swimsuit Calendar" television special for network and social media distribution. They are currently in the 11th season of the highly rated CMT "The Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders – Making the Squad" series that captures the entire DCC audition process and training camp.

The Cheerleaders are of course a regular feature on the sidelines of AT&T Stadium, but they also are an ongoing demand at festivals, sporting events and corporate conventions around the country and frequently appear on national magazines covers, television commercials and Hollywood films. They are featured in five published calendars, four swimsuit issues and a sideline calendar, as well as a swimsuit special edition of The Dallas Cowboys Star Magazine. Their appearances are not just limited to stages, but also include philanthropic and civic events throughout the year with annual visits to hospitals, nursing homes and schools and participation in telethons and fundraising events across the United States.

The DCC Show Group has proudly entertained U.S. military personnel around the world since 1979 – making more international tours with the USO than any other entertainment group. They bring their own special brand of goodwill and gratitude to the men and women in the military, traveling to locations as diverse as Iraq, Bosnia, Afghanistan, Cuba, Korea and the Persian Gulf. Their annual trips have become a special tradition for both the troops and the Cheerleaders. So special, in fact, that the USO presented the squad with both the first-ever "Spirit of Hope Award" and the "USO's 50th Anniversary Award" in recognition of their distinguished service to American troops. They were also honored with induction into the Veteran of Foreign Wars Hall of Fame in 2002. In 2013, the Cheerleaders were awarded the American Legion's prestigious Distinguished Service Medal.

The Dallas Cowboys introduced the Rhythm and Blue in 2009, a high-energy co-ed hip-hop dance team and drum corps. The Rhythm and Blue brings an innovative, unique and exciting element to the Cowboys legendary game-day entertainment line-up. Audiences have been entertained by the talented group of men and women upon entering the plazas of AT&T Stadium before each game. After every Cowboys score during the game, the Rhythm and Blue Dancers & Drumline dazzle fans with thunderous celebration performances. The Rhythm and Blue Dancers, presented by Miller Lite, were conceptualized under the direction of Dallas Cowboys Executive Vice President of Brand Management Charlotte Anderson and is the first and only entertainment concept of its kind in the National Football League.

The Dallas Cowboys Rhythm and Blue is a two-part entertainment entity consisting of a percussion troop drumline to provide the rhythm and the dance team to provide the spirit of Dallas Cowboys true blue. The performances are electrifying with their unique blend of cutting edge music and drum cadences. The dance teams' dynamic routines feature breakdancing and hip-hop based movement requiring both strong musicality and level of dance ability and are already proving to be a fan favorite. In the short period of time since it's inception, the high level of performances and choreography has garnered this group national attention and prestige. Dance Team Magazine selected the Rhythm and Blue as their cover story for their Premier Issue and Dance Track Magazine featured the group in their Spring/Summer Issue in 2013. The group has been showcased at industry competitions and has been requested to appear at both charity and corporate appearances in the DFW metroplex, Texas, New Mexico, Las Vegas, Nevada and Panama City, Panama.

COMMUNITY

Community Outreach and the Dallas Cowboys

GENE AND JERRY JONES FAMILY FOUNDATION

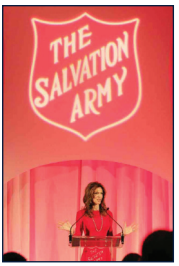
For the past 27 years, Jerry Jones and his family have owned and operated the Dallas Cowboys with a management style that places just as much emphasis on community leadership as it does on the goal of winning the Super Bowl. With the Cowboys organization having enjoyed immense and unprecedented success, the Jones family feels a very strong responsibility to take the visibility, energy and celebrity of the world's most powerful sports franchise and channel those dynamic forces towards the bigger purpose of making a difference. Recognized as one of the world's most generous families, the Joneses enlist the talents, skills and resources of all Cowboys players, coaches, cheerleaders and every member of the organization to provide a unique and cutting edge approach to community outreach.

"Any personal contact with an individual member of our organization can provide help for hundreds of people in need," says Jones. "The star on the helmet can move mountains."

THE MISSION. In the area of community service, our organization's mission is built upon an overall philosophy of helping those who don't have the strength, the resources or the means to help themselves, with a primary focus on our partnership with The Salvation Army.



THE SALVATION ARMY

The Dallas Cowboys primary community focus is rooted in the Jones family's longstanding passion for and commitment to The Salvation Army. From 2010 to 2014, Cowboys Executive Vice President and Chief Brand Officer Charlotte Jones Anderson served as chair of The Salvation Army's National Advisory Board – the first woman to ever hold that distinguished title. Gene and Jerry Jones have both served on The Salvation Army's National Advisory Board, as well as the local DFW Metroplex Command's Advisory Board. (For a full history of the Jones family's partnership with The Salvation Army, visit THE ARMY AND THE STAR page on DallasCowboys.com/community.)

Red Kettle Campaign

For the past 19 years, the Jones family has dedicated the Cowboys annual Thanksgiving Day halftime performance as a national showcase to kick off The Salvation Army's iconic Red Kettle Campaign. Under the direction of Charlotte Jones Anderson, the Cowboys have produced the annual halftime event and welcomed renowned entertainers from across the musical spectrum. Since the first Red Kettle Kickoff in 1997, the Cowboys have helped the Army raise over $2 billion, reaching over 500 million people in need. The 2015 Red Kettle Campaign was kicked off by country music star Luke Bryan, and raised $149.6 million alone. Thanksgiving 2016 will be the 20th anniversary of the Cowboys and Salvation Army's Red Kettle Kickoff tradition.

Early Thanksgiving with the Cowboys

The week before Thanksgiving, Gene Jones and Charlotte Jones Anderson lead players, cheerleaders, mascot Rowdy and players' and coaches' wives in serving an early Thanksgiving meal to families receiving assistance from The Salvation Army. With help from partners Albertsons and UnitedHealthcare, veteran players and wives serve patrons of the Army's Carr P. Collins Center in Dallas, while rookie players and cheerleaders visit the Army's Mabee Social Services Center in Fort Worth.

Angel Tree Program & Food Bank Partnership with Bank of America

Every year the entire Cowboys organization is invited to support The Salvation Army's Angel Tree program wherein players, coaches, executives and staff supply toys and necessities for hundreds of Angels in need. The program, which makes Christmas brighter for nearly 60,000 children and special needs senior citizens in the DFW Metroplex alone, is truly a joint effort for the Cowboys – from Cowboys rookie players loading the big red bags onto the Army trucks to Cowboys employees helping distribute them to the Angels' families. Since 2013, the Cowboys have teamed up with Bank of America and the North Texas Food Bank to supply thousands of Angel Tree families with a hardy meal to supplement their gift items, bringing the holiday experience full circle.

Gene and Jerry Jones Family North Texas Youth Education Town

Thanks to a $1 million matching grant from the Gene and Jerry Jones Family Arlington Youth Foundation in concurrence with a donation from the NFL, the Gene and Jerry Jones Family North Texas Youth Education Town (the "YET") officially opened its doors at The Salvation Army Arlington Corps in October 2013. The YET is the legacy project of Super Bowl XLV, providing educational, athletic and arts programs to hundreds of Arlington youth and their families, as well as countless other services. The Jones family was joined by several distinguished guests in celebrating the center's grand opening, including NFL Commissioner Roger Goodell, National Commander of The Salvation Army Commissioner David Jeffrey and Cowboys Hall of Fame running back and chair of the YET Advisory Board Emmitt Smith.

Disaster Relief

When disaster strikes, The Salvation Army is often the first on the scene to offer food, shelter, clothing, spiritual comfort and more. The Cowboys are proud to have assisted the Army in their relief efforts in the DFW Metroplex and beyond, most recently after deadly tornadoes struck Dallas and Collin Counties in December 2015. The Cowboys partnered with CBS 11 and Albertsons to take donations through phone banks and at the grocer's registers, raising more than $60,000. In addition, Cowboys players Darren McFadden, Tyler Clutts and Jameill Showers spent a day volunteering with the Army's Disaster Relief team, while across town, Coach Jason Garrett, his wife Brill and other members of the Dallas Cowboys Women's Association distributed food and other supplies to those affected at a local rec center.

Reliant Home Run Derby benefiting The Salvation Army

Every year, Cowboys players led by Head Coach Jason Garrett, participate in Reliant's Home Run Derby charity baseball competition. In 2016, Garrett, along with Tyrone Crawford, Travis Frederick, Barry Church, Jason Witten, Tyron Smith, Zack Martin, Brandon Carr, Terrance Williams and home run champion JJ Wilcox hit enough balls out of the park to raise $50,000 for The Salvation Army. Cowboys rookie players also attended, shagging baseballs and spending time with the youth spectators from The Salvation Army.

The Salvation Army Echelon

The Jones family supports their local chapter of Echelon – the national young adult auxiliary of The Salvation Army founded in Dallas in 2012 – and Echelon's mission of mobilizing the next generation of Salvation Army supporters by covering the membership dues of all eligible Dallas Cowboys employees. Gene Jones and Charlotte Jones Anderson joined former First Lady Laura Bush and her daughters Jenna Bush Hager and Barbara Bush in serving as honorary chairs of Echelon's 30M Gala – named in honor of the 30 million people The Salvation Army serves annually – in May 2014. To learn more about Echelon, visit salvationarmyechelon.org.

DALLAS COWBOYS-NFL PLAY 60

Since 2007, the Dallas Cowboys have partnered with the NFL to promote PLAY 60 – a national youth health and wellness campaign focused on ending childhood obesity by encouraging kids to eat nutritiously and be active at least 60 minutes of every day.

Dallas Cowboys PLAY 60 Team

The Cowboys work with The Salvation Army each year to select 11 deserving youth for the Dallas Cowboys PLAY 60 Team. The 11 team members are chosen based on their commitment to playing and being active for at least 60 minutes every day, as well as their demonstration of the Army's five core values: Passion, Compassion, Bravery, Uplifting Spirit and Trustworthiness. The team members receive special PLAY 60 jerseys and are invited to be the Cowboys sideline guests during the Thanksgiving Day game.

Fuel Up to Play 60

Fuel Up to Play 60 is a free and fun nutrition and physical activity program – the largest in-school health and wellness program in the country – that empowers students to take charge of their health by making small, everyday changes within their schools. Created by the NFL and the National Dairy Council, in collaboration with the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the program includes grant opportunities of up to $4,000 annually for schools; a Playbook with strategies for healthy eating and physical activity; and a student ambassador program. The Cowboys partnership with Dairy MAX, local Dairy Council and local implementer of Fuel Up to Play 60, continues to expand as more studies correlate the connection between students' good health and performance in school and in life.

Fuel up to Play 60 Hometown Grant

In 2014, the Cowboys and partner Dairy MAX, local Dairy Council and Fuel Up to Play 60 program implementer, awarded the Arlington Independent School District the first-ever Hometown Grant – a $10,000 grant intended to make a big impact on good nutrition and physical activity programming in schools. The 2014 Hometown Grant was utilized for the purchase of Fuel Up to Play 60 playground stencils – stencils that incorporate educational messages and encourage physical activity – for seven Arlington elementary schools. The 2015 Hometown Grant, presented in February 2016, was also awarded to the Arlington ISD for the same project, bringing the district to 14 total elementary schools with playground stencils.

NFL PLAY 60 FITNESSGRAM® Project

Since 2009, the NFL has partnered with The Cooper Institute® – a worldwide leader in preventative medicine research – to supply each of the league's 32 member clubs with FITNESSGRAM licenses to distribute to local schools and community organizations. Developed in 1982 by The Cooper Institute, FITNESSGRAM is the nation's leading tool in assessing and tracking student fitness levels, mandated in the state of Texas and adopted by the Presidential Youth Fitness Program. The Cowboys work with The Cooper Institute locally by hosting a private training at AT&T Stadium for the team's FITNESSGRAM site leaders and by promoting the tool through events like Dallas Cowboys Rookie Club appearances. In 2014, the Rookie Club visited Pantego Christian Academy in Arlington to congratulate the school's physical educator on being named the Cowboys FITNESSGRAM champion for her outstanding dedication to the project.

PLAY 60 Challenge

Each year the Cowboys team up with the American Heart Association, Reliant Energy and Fuel Up to Play 60 to kick off the PLAY 60 Challenge Powered by Reliant. The PLAY 60 Challenge is a six-week program downloadable online wherein students are "challenged" to document 60 minutes of physical activity each day, while teachers and family members are encouraged to help by incorporating physical activity in the classroom and at home. The 2015 PLAY 60 Challenge kickoff event took place at Sparks Elementary School in Frisco and featured special appearances by cornerback Brandon Carr and mascot Rowdy.

PLAY 60-READ 20

In 2015, the Cowboys teamed up with Nationwide to present the Cowboys Reading Blitz Challenge to fourth graders at Gabe Allen Elementary School in Dallas. The six-week program challenged the youth to not only get 60 minutes of playtime in each day, but also to read for at least 20 minutes. At the program's end, Cowboys cornerback Brandon Carr, along with former NFL player and New York Times best-selling author Tim Green, visited Gabe Allen to get 60 minutes of exercise in with the children; to read to them from Green's book, Kid Owner; and to present prizes to the Challenge's top performers. Carr and Green talked with the kids about the importance of taking care of your body and its correlation with your ability to take care of your mind.

Dallas Cowboys PLAY 60 Fitness Zones

Dallas Cowboys PLAY 60 Fitness Zones are fun, Cowboys-branded spaces that come fully loaded with fitness equipment and interactive gaming systems designed to get kids up and moving (even in inclement weather!). The Fitness Zones are intended to give youth new and safe spaces to play that they may not otherwise have. To date, Cowboys Fitness Zones have been installed at the Boys & Girls Club of Arlington, the Gene and Jerry Jones Family North Texas Youth Education Town in Arlington, the Grand Prairie Boys & Girls Club, The Salvation Army Mabee Center in Fort Worth, the Boys & Girls Club at Uplift Education Williams Prep in Dallas, Nexus Recovery Center in Dallas, The Salvation Army Plano Corps, the Boys & Girls Club of Frisco and most recently, The Salvation Army Boys & Girls Club Grand Prairie.

Hometown Huddle PLAY 60 Fitness Clinic

Since 1999, the Cowboys have partnered with the NFL to support the United Way's effort to improve childhood health through a league-wide day of community service called Hometown Huddle. During the 2015 Hometown Huddle event, Cowboys alumni Bradie James and Larry Brown visited Sanger Elementary School in Dallas, where brand-new Fuel Up to Play 60 playground stencils were installed. In addition, Sanger was presented with a $2,500 grant from the Jones Family Foundation to improve its health and wellness programming, as was Wimbish Elementary School of the Arlington ISD.

Visit dallascowboys.com/Academy for the most up-to-date schedule of events, camps and opportunities to train with America's Sweethearts.

Dallas Cowboys U High School Football Camp

Since 2012 under the leadership of Head Coach Jason Garrett, the Dallas Cowboys have hosted Dallas Cowboys U at the team's Valley Ranch headquarters prior to the break of minicamp in June. In a rare opportunity to interact with the entire Cowboys roster, 160 deserving high school football players, representing more than a dozen districts in the North Texas region, are selected by their coaches to spend a day learning from Cowboys players, participating in a round-robin 6-on-6 tournament. Cowboys players become coaches and Cowboys coaches become referees during this impactful day for the young athletes, the event ends with Cowboys players sharing their stories of hard work, perseverance and the road to success. Dallas Cowboys U also includes a session on character and making good life choices, led by guest speakers and members of the Dallas Cowboys Rookie Club.

Dallas Cowboys Gatorade Junior Training Camp

Dallas Cowboys Gatorade Junior Training Camp is a complimentary grassroots football instruction clinic for students, both boys and girls, ages 7 to 14, held on site at school. A Cowboys staff member, mascot Rowdy and volunteers run students through a variety of drills and promote the PLAY 60 philosophy of getting 60 minutes of physical activity in each day. The Cowboys host Gatorade Junior Training Camps for nearly 8,000 children annually. Visit the Youth Programs page on DallasCowboys.com for information on scheduling a camp.

Coach of the Week

Over the last two decades, the Cowboys have provided 212 grants totaling more than $325,000 to local high school football programs through the Dallas Cowboys Coach of the Week initiative. In 2015, the team partnered with Whataburger to honor one high school football coach each week of the 10-week high school season, along with two coaches from early rounds of the playoffs. Students and fans voted online for their favorite candidate. The coach with the most votes received a $2,000 grant for their respective football program. At the end of the program, all 12 winning coaches were invited to a Dallas Cowboys home game at AT&T Stadium, where they were honored on the field for the positive impact they make on their teams, schools and community.

Coaches Clinic

Less than 24 hours before departing for training camp, the Dallas Cowboys coaching staff has made a tradition of hosting a one-day teaching clinic for nearly 500 youth, middle and high school football coaches from across the region at AT&T Stadium. The event – one close to the heart of Jerry Jones, in which participants attend for free on behalf of the Jones Family Foundation – features presentations from each of the Cowboys position coaches, as well as remarks from Head Coach Jason Garrett and Jerry Jones himself. Participants receive complimentary breakfast and lunch, team merchandise and information on USA Football, including a code to become Heads Up Football-certified for free.

Moms Clinic

In partnership with the NFL and USA Football, the Cowboys hosted their second annual Moms Clinic at AT&T Stadium in August 2015. The clinic, which allowed for nearly 1,000 youth football moms or moms of aspiring young football players to attend for free, included a panel featuring Cowboys executive vice president, NFL Foundation chair and "football mom" Charlotte Jones Anderson; Michelle Witten, wife of Cowboys Pro Bowl tight end Jason Witten; USA Football's executive director Scott Hallenbeck; and former Cowboys players and Heads Up Football ambassadors Tony Casillas, Rocket Ismail and George Teague. Drs. Robert Berry and Bryan Wasson of clinic presenting sponsor Baylor Scott & White Health also presented on sports-related injuries and prevention. In addition to learning valuable information on the safety developments around the game of football, participating moms were invited on field to learn Heads Up Football techniques themselves, while their children participated in a free PLAY 60 clinic. At the end of the day, participants, moms and kids alike, heard from Head Coach Jason Garrett before attending the Cowboys preseason game for free at AT&T Stadium.

NFL Athletic Trainer Program

Through a matching grant opportunity with the NFL Foundation, the Cowboys partnered with Ben Hogan Sports Medicine and the Arlington ISD to provide certified Athletic Trainers for Fall football, Spring wrestling and Spring soccer programs at 11 Arlington junior high schools. Over the course of the 2015-16 school year, Ben Hogan certified trainers visited game and practice sites for the schools, detecting and monitoring the treatment of concussions and other sports-related injuries.

Texas High School Character Education Program

In February 2016, the Dallas Cowboys teamed up with the University Interscholastic League (UIL), Texas High School Coaches Association and the NFL Foundation to launch the Texas High School Character Education Program, intending to enrich the meaning of coaching and prioritize lessons in character-building in athletics. As a first step in building this program, the Cowboys invited key superintendents, athletic directors and coaches from across Texas to join in discussions led by Charlotte Jones Anderson, Coach Jason Garrett and NFL Foundation facilitators Joe Ehrmann and Jody Redman. A second forum was held in April 2016 with tripled attendance, including a variety of both boys and girls coaches, and plans were set in motion for participants to evaluate their schools' coaching cultures and develop their own steps for improvement utilizing the program's tools and resources. The forum is scheduled to meet once again at the Texas High School Coaches Association's July conference in San Antonio.

NFL Foundation

In December 2012, NFL Commissioner Roger Goodell appointed Cowboys Executive Vice President and Chief Brand Officer Charlotte Jones Anderson as chair of the newly-formed NFL Foundation – the first woman to ever lead the charitable foundation of a major sports league. In this position, Anderson oversees what was formerly NFL Charities and the NFL Youth Football Fund and its awarding of more than $23 million in grants annually to support youth and high school football programs, player health and safety efforts and community outreach initiatives. YOUTH OUTREACH

Holiday Hospital Visits

Since 1989 during the Jones family's first season as owners of the Cowboys, the entire team has conducted annual Christmas visits to local children's hospitals. During the 2015 visits to four area hospitals, Cowboys players and cheerleaders delivered "game socks" loaded with Cowboys goodies and toys courtesy of the team and the UnitedHealthcare Children's Foundation to nearly 800 children seeking treatment over the holiday season.

Make-A-Wish

Since 1992, the Cowboys have partnered with the Make-A-Wish Foundation of North Texas to grant more than 225 wishes of youth from 41 different states. These "Wish Kids" – youth suffering from a variety of life-threatening illnesses – are invited to tour the team's training facility, watch practice and meet their favorite players before coming to AT&T Stadium with their families to be the Cowboys VIP guest during a home game.

Happy Hill Farm Academy and Home

The Cowboys continue to play a large role in raising annual operating funds for Happy Hill Farm Academy – a home and school for at-risk youth in Granbury, Texas. Home of the Dallas Cowboys Courage House, Happy Hill Farm is the beneficiary of the Cowboys annual Kickoff Luncheon, as well as the Dallas Cowboys Family Cookbook presented by the Dallas Cowboys Women's Association.

Children's Cancer Fund Luncheon and Fashion Show

As is a longstanding tradition, the Cowboys were proud to participate in the 28th annual Children's Cancer Fund Fashion Show event in April 2016. Each year Cowboys Legends Roger Staubach and Troy Aikman serve as the event's honorary chairs; they were joined this year by current Cowboys Terrance Williams, Byron Jones, Brandon Carr and Morris Claiborne, as well as Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders and Coach Jason Garrett, who served as escorts for the pediatric cancer patients and survivors on the runway. The event raises funds for children's cancer research at Children's Medical Center Dallas, while creating a positive experience for dozens of children undergoing cancer treatment.

Gene and Jerry Jones Family Arlington Youth Foundation

As part of their commitment to the City of Arlington, Texas – home of AT&T Stadium – the Jones family has pledged to donate $16.5 million to organizations supporting Arlington youth over 33 years through the Gene and Jerry Jones Family Arlington Youth Foundation. The foundation's mission is to enhance the quality of life for Arlington youth by funding programs and facilities dedicated to football and athletics, health and wellness, education and the arts through matching grants. In 2015, the Arlington Youth Foundation awarded $50,000 to the Arlington Independent School District in support of the inaugural AISD Back to School Kickoff, held at AT&T Stadium in August 2015. The event provided backpacks, supplies and other support to 10,000 Arlington children in need, and is set to take place once again at AT&T Stadium in August 2016. In another recent Arlington Youth Foundation endeavor, the 2015-16 school year kicked off the AISD Fifth Grade Art Program at AT&T Stadium, wherein all Arlington ISD 5th grade students were invited to view the Dallas Cowboys Art Collection over the course of the year for free, courtesy of the Jones family.

BREAST CANCER AWARENESS

The Cowboys partner with Susan G. Komen for the Cure® to support Breast Cancer Awareness Month through the campaign known as "iPromise" every year. The iPromise campaign – named in honor of Komen founder Nancy Brinker's book, Promise Me – was launched in 2010 when the Jones family committed $1 million annually in promotional assets to Komen, highlighted by the creation of a co-branded iPromise merchandise line, proceeds of which benefit breast cancer research. The Cowboys dedicate a home game to raising awareness for Komen's efforts to fight breast cancer each year, with Cowboys players, coaches and cheerleaders sporting pink accents in their uniforms, informational PSAs playing throughout the game and a special halftime performance featuring more than 250 breast cancer survivors and co-survivors taking the field to form two giant pink awareness ribbons.

TEAM #COWBOYS4KOMEN

A key component to the Cowboys partnership with Susan G. Komen is participation in the Komen Dallas Race for the Cure. Every year the Jones Family Foundation supports the cause by underwriting the registration costs of all full-time Cowboys staff members to participate with TEAM COWBOYS in the race. Since 2013, TEAM COWBOYS has been open to all fans and supporters to join. Members of TEAM COWBOYS receive a discount on their registration, a chance to purchase the exclusive TEAM COWBOYS t-shirt and an invitation to attend the Cowboys pre-race rally with complimentary breakfast and prizes. Cowboys players and cheerleaders lent their support prior to the race by attending Komen's registration event in 2014, encouraging shoppers at Belk to join TEAM COWBOYS.

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE/SEXUAL ASSAULT PLATFORM

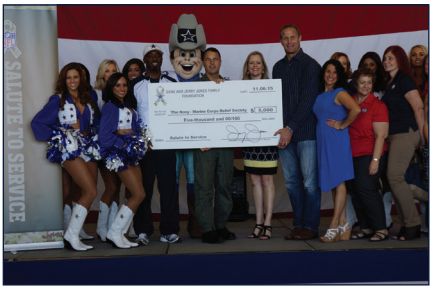
The Cowboys have long supported organizations like The Salvation Army and The Family Place that provide immediate shelter, resources and counseling for women and children escaping domestic violence and other crises. In October 2015, the team took their platform a step further, hosting the "Get in the Game" luncheon at AT&T Stadium. A benefit for The Gatehouse – a new supportive living community on 61 acres in Grapevine, Texas, where women and children can seek longer-term shelter (up to two and a half years) and paths for permanent change – the event also saw donations made to The Salvation Army; The Family Place; Hope's Door; GRACE Grapevine; SafeHaven; and Genesis Women's Shelter. "Get in the Game" encouraged communitywide participation, with the mayors of Dallas, Fort Worth, Grapevine, Arlington and Frisco all serving as honorary chairs, and Cowboys Pro Bowl tight end Jason Witten – who knows firsthand the impact of family violence and has started a male mentorship program through his SCORE Foundation – serving as the event's keynote speaker. The Cowboys will continue to encourage fans to "Get in the Game," currently spearheading the Texas High School Character Education Program, in the hopes of stopping domestic violence and sexual assault before it ever begins with youth and young adults.

MILITARY SUPPORT

Salute to Service Game

The Cowboys partnered with the NFL once again in the 2015 season to activate the annual Salute to Service campaign honoring members of all five branches of the military both past and present. During a November home game presented by Bank of America, the Cowboys saluted servicemen and women through special Salute to Service signage and gear on the field and on the uniforms of players and coaches, and through special flag, National Anthem, pregame and halftime presentations. A $30,000 grant from the Jones Family Foundation and Bank of America was presented to The Salvation Army in support of its veterans outreach program; and in addition, Cowboys Legends and military veterans Roger Staubach and Chad Hennings joined television journalist Tom Brokaw and Cowboys medical partner Baylor Scott and White in presenting a specially-trained service dog to a wounded veteran through the Canine Companions program.

Veterans Outreach



In honor of Veteran's Day and the Salute to Service campaign, the Cowboys, along with the NFL and NBC Sunday Night Football, hosted a fan event at the Naval Air Station Joint Reserve Base (JRB) in Fort Worth, where military members and their families were offered the opportunity to mix and mingle with Cowboys alumni, mascot Rowdy and Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders. They could also take a peek onboard the Dallas Cowboys and NBC Sunday Night Football luxury tour buses and the team's mobile Hall of Fame museum. As part of the day, Cowboys alumni and Air Force veteran Chad Hennings presented a $5,000 grant from the Gene and Jerry Jones Family Foundation to the Navy-Marine Corps Relief Society to assist in their support of servicemen, women and families currently assigned to the JRB in Fort Worth.

Training Camp in Oxnard, California

During summer training camp in Oxnard, California, the Cowboys provide military families of nearby naval bases and military installations – notably the Naval Base Ventura County at Point Mugu – special opportunities to interact with the team, including a private meet and greet with base personnel as the team's plane arrives for camp. Additionally, the Cowboys frequently host military groups at practice and invite children of military families to participate in special Cowboys youth football and cheerleading camps.

Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders USO Tours

The world famous Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders organization – America's Sweethearts – is completely subsidized by the club for the primary purpose of spreading goodwill on a local, national and international platform. Aside from their obvious game day presence and numerous local community appearances, the Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders have participated in USO visits to troops stationed overseas in more than 200 locations since their first tour on Christmas Day 1979. In December 2015, the cheerleaders completed their 79th and 80th USO tours, with one group visiting American troops in Kuwait and Turkey, and another visiting bases across Korea. In addition to meeting the servicemen and women, the DCC also hosted youth fitness and cheer camps for children of the troops.

HISPANIC OUTREACH

The Cowboys long history of supporting Hispanic outreach initiatives starts at the very top of the organization. In November 2002, Jerry Jones' appreciation for Hispanic culture earned him the title of "Honorary Mariachi" at the Mariachi Vargas Extravaganza in San Antonio, Texas. The event's organizers selected Jones because of his love of Latin culture, his contributions to education and the diverse fan base he represents as owner of the Cowboys.

Hispanic Heritage Month

Since 2006, the Cowboys have dedicated one home game annually to celebrating Hispanic Heritage Month (Sept. 15 – Oct. 15) and the rich culture and contributions of their many Hispanic loyal fans. With help from partner Miller Lite, the 2015 Hispanic Heritage Month game was enriched with elements of Hispanic culture, including a presentation of Latin American flags and special plaza performances from the Ballet Folklorico Festival dancers and musicians courtesy of the San Antonio Convention and Visitors Bureau. Additional celebratory elements included the Hispanic Heritage Tailgate presented by Nationwide which featured games and prizing from Telemundo, CBS La Grande, Al Dia and Nationwide.

NFL Hispanic Heritage Leadership Award

During the 2015 Hispanic Heritage Month dedicated game, the Cowboys teamed up with Telemundo to select and honor the Cowboys fifth annual NFL Hispanic Heritage Leadership Award recipient. The honoree, Colombian-born Claudia Mirza, was recognized for her work as founder of Akorbi – a multi-million dollar global business solutions company that provides jobs to workers across the world – as well as her commitment to mentoring young professionals in the Hispanic community. As part of her recognition, the Gene and Jerry Jones Family Foundation presented Mirza with a $2,000 grant for the charity of her choosing, The Parker Lee Project.

PLAY 60 Hispanic Youth Outreach

During Hispanic Heritage Month and throughout the year, the Cowboys focus their community outreach efforts on predominantly Hispanic youth. In 2015, the Dallas Cowboys Rookie Club visited Mi Escuelita Preschool – a nurturing teaching environment for young children whose lower-income and primarily Spanish-speaking homes may put them at risk of falling behind academically. The rookie players, along with volunteers from UnitedHealthcare and Fuel Up to Play 60 nutritionists from Dairy Max, played games with the youngsters, incorporating tips for healthy eating and the importance of getting active. The children colored their own "MyPlate," learning the recommended portions of healthy food groups.

FAN ENGAGEMENT & VOLUNTEERISM

Dallas Cowboys Rookie Club presented by UnitedHealthcare

The Dallas Cowboys Rookie Club is an annual outreach initiative designed to introduce the team's newest members to the importance of giving back to the North Texas community. Presented by UnitedHealthcare, the 2015 Rookie Club marked the 15th anniversary of this special tradition. Annually, the Rookie Club participates in numerous community service projects and appearances, from school visits and Fitness Zone builds with children, to assisting local food banks and senior citizens in need.

Community Quarterback Award

Since its inception in 2000, the Dallas Cowboys Community Quarterback Award has recognized dozens of North Texas individuals for their above and beyond volunteerism while providing more than $300,000 in grants to the nonprofit organizations they serve. In 2015, the Cowboys honored 87-year-old Marcelline Green, a dedicated volunteer at the North Texas Food Bank. As part of her recognition, a $10,000 donation on behalf of the Jones Family Foundation was made to the North Texas Food Bank, the equivalent of 30,000 meals distributed to hungry North Texans.

Draft Day Party at AT&T Stadium

Every year the Cowboys invite fans to attend fun and free events at AT&T Stadium in celebration of the NFL Draft. At the 2016 Draft Parties presented by Miller Lite, draft coverage aired throughout the venue, while fans had the opportunity to receive autographs from former and current Dallas Cowboys players and cheerleaders, watch talent like the Cowboys Rhythm & Blue Dancers and Drumline, enjoy games and activities at the "Kid Zone" and tour the team's Hall of Fame Mobile Museum.

Taste of the NFL: The Ultimate Cowboys Tailgate Party

In May 2016, the Dallas Cowboys offensive line, led by Travis Frederick, along with former players Charles Haley, Preston Pearson and Chad Hennings, joined Abacus executive chef and proprietor Kent Rathbun in hosting the 12th annual Taste of the NFL: The Ultimate Cowboys Tailgate Party benefiting the North Texas Food Bank. The legendary tailgate party held on field at AT&T Stadium featured a silent and live auction, live country music and culinary creations from nearly two dozen of the area's hottest restaurant chefs. Since the fundraiser's inception in 2005, more than 5 million meals have been provided to hungry North Texas children with 100 percent of the event proceeds helping distribute food through the Food Bank's member agencies and feeding programs.

Dallas Cowboys Women's Association

The Dallas Cowboys Women's Association – an organization of players, coaches and executive wives and significant others – works on behalf of the team to make a difference in the North Texas community. Since 2008, the group has raised nearly $600,000 for local non-profits, including the SPCA of Texas, Family Gateway, The Gatehouse at Grapevine, Nexus Recovery Center and more. The Women's Association joins Gene Jones, Charlotte Jones Anderson and Cowboys players each year in serving an early Thanksgiving Day meal at The Salvation Army; hosts a "Christmas of Giving" for women and children who have escaped domestic violence at The Family Place; raises awareness for breast cancer screening; and visits with sick children at Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Children.

Dallas Cowboys Legends

The Cowboys celebrate the team's storied history by integrating the team's former players into their year-round community outreach and game day experience at AT&T Stadium. The Dallas Cowboys Legends program encompasses the great tradition that is the Dallas Cowboys into fan engagement, player mentorship, community programming and appearances. Dallas Cowboys Legends are an extension of the larger NFL Legends Community, a program of NFL Player Engagement, which works to raise awareness for the resources, tools and benefits available to all members, past and present, of the NFL family, creating a lifelong network and support system for all NFL players.
